just had a relixjiz expurience. JUST kidding!
No, just kidding .. but i did watch themoneyfix and found the clip of context delivery not exactly sacrificed but certainly hampered and halted in favor of cut-up style emphasis, reinforcement and repetition of beginners arguments.

Around the 37th minute Michael Albert gets to put in some spunky lines about money misshapen so as to stimulate friction and strife, social subordination that piles social strata high. Money as a whip to 'stratoverify'. That's not a quote by the way.
quote???
MA using a wider tone-range than the others too i noticed. Most of them are familiar to me. His words get echoed by Lietaer a few minutes later.

allow me a circumscriptive approach to putting interest charges in perspective, both charging interest as well as charging charging interest with institutional immiseration and subjection (themoneyfix amounts to that).

There is a film about Gesell called 'the spirit of money' which is a very different execution of expressing the nevertheless very similar mindset, it documents the practice of demurrhage (opposite of interest charges but not gone into by Alan et al) with historical footage.

My foray through economics began with a study of this most famous local money from the interbellum era which Alan and helpers may have mentioned but quite fleetingly if at all.

Here's a piece of context that supplements Sathouris et al, that is, it explains prehistoric precursoring and on coursing of currents as prototypical currencies.
youtube.com/watch?v=Z6qWvdnDmE4
the germanic tribes - in the sign of the cross - cicle 4 part 2
Clovis, following an already over 700 year old example struck a bridge between christians and pagans, first crissy cross crhuncher meets, matches and becomes mates w first christian roman emperor Constantine all those centuries prior to him.

Clovis of course was borderline lowland belgian, tribes best positioned and blessed with plenny of opportunity to observe the difference between land below flood water's lines - periodically fed water laden with glacial milk. Over time changing its fertility quite noticeably compared to what lay only slightly higher. they turned that difference into a craft, a profession, even a god ... Clovis put an end to all of that and reversed the direction described. Efforts by julius hensel, john hamaker, yours truly, theseercentre.org.uk (prolly not directly inspired by me), etcetera (i hope) notwithstanding.

Neglected and forgotten, only petrified reminders and infamous outliers like yours truly remain to try jostle memories, unstick blogjams. Fresh dust administration, libation and sprinkling was no longer a money-modeling ritual -- bringing 'hi to low' land mechanics into purview of puny descendants and borderline scavengers, us and conversely employing us, .. feeding us humans into a larger older eco-networking amongst minerals and that other most venerable ancestor of ancestors, their cousins the wetter oxides, just to mention the weightier actors in this drama -- and pretty soon re- and perversion set in: symbol steerage peerage stirring pollution, the precipitates of a sickened 'tude' into the mix.

Confirmation of WI Thompson's point regarding the power flavor sequences and relay transfer: christian/celtic/pagan (with my hero Cernunnos, the coin spiller, the all flow, from water to blood, sweat and other secretions framing coin of the realm -rockpowder- spiller) with seat in aachen (most famous statue of Cernunnos the stagman hagman sha(g)man in Reims a car's hour away), then rosicrucians with main seat in london, next masonic flavor secret 'concock.. eh .. -ductors' rule from washington.

Bullets OR coins?

Well, possibly, but alas, more often coins AND bullets with more comprehensive currencies like mineral powders left out of the picture and downtrodden altogether but i will let that to me most important theme rest for now.

Bombs AND males kissing?

Or can one abort the former commiting the latter? Present corpoRatShillBiller induced trends were out to prevent that. Check KPFA's Daily Briefing show (Ian Masters) of december 20th (also has RWray on the fed's cageyness).

Scarcity imposed struggle for existence is a vision of musical chair gamery that weeds out the slightly less agile, it ranks a ripeness curve that leaves the not yet agile enough to withstand being seated on a chair 'unbehelligt' and to try another day.

Scarcity is not always only a sign of greed but may as often be one of cultural rustiness with a lack and dearth of innovation and/or sustainable garden *(and perma)*cultural rusticity.

Usury VS scarcity? themoneyfix conflates them. Can we really not find a balancing and if need be leveraging pivot between efficiency and love? Efficiency can never mean distributed sufficiency? Efficiency somehow conjures the sickrawfaces that cost cozy, cute and wholesome lovemaking their rights to be? Efficiency never is, nor is ever seen or sensed as (a synonym for) cozy, cute and wholesome lovemaking? According to themoneyfix maker Alan Rosenblith and folks he searches out, like T Greco, it is nothing but a vs, not an is, as or and affair.

Funny (? .. well, better to say, paradoxically) enough, the most readily readible Beckerath is parked at Tom Greco's place, who sides, not with it but with Alan (well, .. vica versa prolly).

My version has a barriere also but it is a tarnish of a different order. One must run a gauntlet of commercial pop-ups packing lies and invitations to gambles of the kind a free provider serves up (surf's up, another gambler lets fly. Oh, it's just another lie, belying and camouflaging content here). If, nevertheless, you care to try, my version has rewardingly wild colours: http://poetpiet.tripod.com/guest_appearances/intro_to_currency_issues.htm

I, unlike Greco though, DO agree with Ulrich von Beckerath's take on interest. My problem with it is that the measures explained to make gold unproblematic do not go nearly far enough. No matter how good those measures, basically replacing its dependable weight with dependable contract/commitment, trust and confidence, he remains mum about the side-effects of mining and refining that sort of substance, quite apart of the uses it is put to.

Then again, i could plausibly argue that getting rid of a problem is superior and prior to formulating it and that his measures would not only reduce the pollution in his gold standard days indirectly by way of as good as completetly obviating use and evacuating need for it. Either way, gold needs to stay out and be replaced with more accurate information basically. The happy amalgamation of statecraft, insurance and local money, a 3 tier thingk like.

Interest need not necessarily be a driver of rapaciousness, even if it seems the executioner of it. It is and gets that way only under money regimes of that type. Given we can outgrow and outlive that scourge i submit interest is a measure of efficiency gains and innovation stimulus, simple growth and profit, reserves and spare parts in store, ongoing free lunch provision by way of photosynthetic processes, etcetera, registering and affording all sorts of run-up and run-down delay, certainly not evil perse.

As a surplus for instance, it can drive philantropy better than the colder and more often incomprehending looks and takes a venturer and/or inventor soliciting funds from a banker might get. It lifts, levitates and brevitates much likke love itself. Look up Shakespeare on usury.

Interest is not the problem, the obscured and hidden cause inhumane, shameful, nefarious and destructive, domination 'serving' purposes towards which the initial money creating loans/debts get put are (the problem).

'Better believe it' is not an expression that fits a gift-economy but a dreadfull threats filled one. Number symbols and sequences as symbolized pliers placebos and stopgo as well as gap motion put the squeeze on us by way of their as deceitful as forceful if not coercive suggestion to adopt beliefs conform to their make belief. They snap to at a nip clip beat we must stay ahead of. Time to stop the make believe and begin to make leaf be.

Nope, it's not let a thousand cryptogroovers bloom and let stuff be tiny and cute as a matter of principle (borders subtelize and proliferate, microclimatic meliorations cumulative to the point of present trend reversal)... but, rather, cutify the margins and look away from the rotten core, hoping they don't send emissaries to pick them over too soon, award a lottery winner and discard the rest, it's halfassed and cowardly, not to mention juvenile, everybody thinks being unique enough is being adequately social too, and all danced around the meetmatemix in the generally same direction happily ever after. Pfffffrrrrrtttt!!!!!! Kiss. My. Ass. [Reuters, Jan 5 2011]

> Israel told US officials in 2008 it would keep Gaza's economy "on the brink of collapse" while avoiding a humanitarian crisis, according to US diplomatic cables published by Aftenposten on Wednesday. Three cables cited by Aftenposten, which has said it has all 250,000 US cables leaked to WikiLeaks, showed that Israel kept the US embassy in Tel Aviv briefed on its internationally criticised blockade of the Gaza Strip.

this is, to me at least, the most valuable picture out of the 544 (tagged University of Queensland campus) i just looked at closely i spent .. oh ... over a month maybe .. in brisbane during 1997 ... and cycled by this tree most of those days ..... working on books about james joyce ... annually celebrated worldwide by his fans on Bloomsday ... which happens to be the day you took the picture!!!!!

Not only that but the tree with it's spaciousness and uncut/left in peace look, symbolizes a lot of what my works stands for ..... good shade ... good shelter, not the more permanent and expensive treehousing one can find nowadays (check this Costa Rica place: www.fincabellavista.net) but in, like and/or after a more native/swagman lifestyle, treading lightly and have the sort of suspendable umbrella like fold ups and outs handy, i saw one 10 people are stretching out in .. at a site from southern france a little while ago ... wait, i'll go find that one too ..... http://arimbo.free.fr/

to rosebutt w much about mom (her bd ystd)

i visited Jeff Newcomer's flickr account on the 4th of this month (all of it, 1200 pic slideshow, very delish) but failed to make note (and saved only 2 pics .. which i might remedy someday ... with a faster machine), here's the perfect occasion to make up for that neglect: .

> How are you my friend? I am thinking of starting a blog and would like to ask, why should I?

did write an answer to this but it went missing ... it was a little like this:

oops, .. did write an answer to this but it went missing ... and what's the point of rewriting a pointy little piece about splitting splinters up with your own in order to join the splinternet? that way lies nano hell. as if pollution isn't breaking down into nearly impossible to filter out poison breaking down the less and less left of what's leaving as well ...

..... it's not the life after television if once imagined it would soon be

> I hope you are well and that you have shelter in these cold months. I am without work, not money yet but i'm scared. I have been going around to government offices for assistance and have not heard my answers. Wish me luck. RoseButt hi lovely, i am ok, yesterday, me mom's birthday, i drove her 80k on the busy hi-way to my sis after months of tension over me 'butting in, etcetera. i think being close to my mom comes in at least 3 parts: one part gratitude, ...and another part keeping the quite mundane, vulgar and closed minded milieu i stem from in mind .. as much as an eye on it. Not losing sight of this keeps me well humble. i might even manage to start a little sommer shack on the little garden i used to play on as a kid, it is a little orphaned piece of land that would be really expensive if a building permit could be had for it but it can't. the heir is a half drunkard electrical engineer who recently married his second love, a chinese lass and is over there now, starting a factory.

She has paid help, 2 mornings a week for 50 euro each.

i don't really help her much more than pulling her socks off and on, rubbing an ointment on her feet ... slowly doing more cause her wrists are giving out. She has a tiny body (about which she likes to keep on saying that her weight stays the same. she accuses others of doing the same old stories but has never admitting doing it herself) but really big hands and was used to fairly muscley work but now i press her oranges for her and the one day in the week she does not get a prefab meal from the elderly home nearby delivered, i peel potaties ... which i do not do if i cook them for myself during the week.

The 3rd reason for this regressive form of suicide ... against the oddness of it all, how could i have ever gotten my hopes up ... how much can a child expect to inspire, lead and guide the parent and does it hold onto the desire long enough to finally, even if it is on and not till that very last journey, get a chance to 'see its way clear' as they say eh??

... which by the way, by no means displaced the progressive type (of suicide) i seemed hellbent on committing: wrestling with and wading through and braving onsloughts of letterstrings from a screen (like filtering miniscule plastic from the pacific and stemming the flow of it ... we need more rebecca hoskings)

after using the public library here, within that elderly home, for about a year and a half i guess, it came to a big blow out due to one out of 5 or 6 counter-shifters being a real cunt and they let the head of the franchise, ugly and mean as a chain dog, loose on me. This directress i had never even seen in this relatively small complex before, she was wisely and understandably kept out of sight except in case of emergencies ... such as i. Suprised me not little the library people with whom i had no quarrel said nothing in my defense when i was officially (signed letter, touching 8 euro each, one to me, one to the police) forbidden building access.

In holland we say 'geluk bij een ongeluk' the fortune that accompanies misfortune sure enough, my mom let me put an internet line into my room .... she is feeling well flattered i stick around so much basically. .. even started to say she depends on it ... as doubts about the wisdom of this choice grow on my part ... i am liable to keep her alive another and/or extra 10 years this way .. she has a dread of the elderly home ... stopped having to 'schuifel' --- dutch for trudge, trundle, this language has a lot of the slipperyness implying locomotion modes: schoorvoetend ... from the word 'schuur' and tout/tight ('barn' from the ancient and disused sea-faring term 'sjorren' by the way, but for sanding, as in sandpaper, to scrape rub and grind the feet forward ... testing ice thickness ...marshiness ... that type of long gone tradition nevertheless echos on and on and on nn n n n ---. ... stopped having to go the 4 blocks there to see my down syndrome sister and sit with her .. fuss with her hair feed her a little fruit) .... the last year of her life that she slumped and slept through mostly (RIP last may).

Her dread is incomprehensible in that she was the one to cook soups for weddings in this village of her 30s being the butcher's wife but somehow she has gotten bitter in her own little ways i guess (prolly par for the course if you end up richest villager in the 60s).

curiously, .. though i am now renting a banking building (complete with old fashioned vault) and have all these plans ... well ... at least heaps of hopes of reading the best of my work out loud with piccies running .... i tend to spend loads of time in my bedroom ... for now?? .. instead???

the weather here is so extremely droopy dread and grey a lot of the time in winter ... the monoculture so harrowing and harsh, it tempts me not to go wonder .. i prefer to search for good viddies, save semi-decent docs and tuck them into some folder or other. That and the lack of a lover (after a very beautiful and wild summer before last zip) makes my body run as if 20 years older than it is.

So, after worldwide wanderment i regress to the village of my birth .... with lots of empty shops and an empty city hall, a new temporary and 'collective one' on the 'skirts' .. it is for a handful of surrounding villages also. The traffic drone from the distance is getting ... louder ....

Told my mom i am broke so she can keep her daughter off her back .... haven't gone for assistance other than ask to rent one of them empty space .... no luck .... nor would it work .... folks are awful christian here and suppress their children, meting out extra doses after they come home and express interest in the likes of me.

Woe is the childcare branch, one company from which, was the cause of my displacement in amsterdam and another in particular, is navigating the rapids of disrepute, some gay guy from the baltics, married to a dutchman abused about 60 kids over many years. There's much to be discouraged over. Especially that the authorities large and small, do not understand these atrocities are direct consequences of booting out guys like me. .

i had a while ... wow, only a week ago ... of 'virtual' living in New Hampshire (vicarious but FANTASTIC). i went through all (ALL 1200) pictures at jeff newcomer's flickr account http://www.flickr.com/photos/27036710@N05/ .. and lingerlongered over many, slowing the slide show.

one might really wonder wether these notes are not a complete waste of time. i mean, they are not even that reliably useful to just me. Example: i went through QUT photos (see the 12th, 2 days ago) and happened upon one of a tree i used to walk past .... i was delighted and wrote a comment (the first) on the 07 photo ..... now though .... i am having second thoughts about having seen this pic before ... no records .... but i think i remember seeing it and feeling the limitations of the photograph very strongly ... since i used to look up through the tree and saw its branches all the way up and out to their very tips whereas the photo cuts almost all of the upper portion off.

do you still have your myspace page? have you added to it over the last year and a half??? . . .

One thought struck me repeatedly over the last 12 hours: all the assurances Egyptian military is passing out to the people not to use violence against them ... should really and instead be interpreted, not as direct threats but certainly as immediate betrayal bycause though they may indeed (continue to) do nothing as they promise, does that not also mean they won't touch Mubarak ... and with him leave all the .. i mean unacceptible thumbscrews and ugly squeezes in place or just move a few around for window dress refress purposes????????

If so, the military's behaviour is (and does constitute) a betrayal of the people's will and keeps on hewing closely to those who deliver them uncouth boytoys, their own overseas paymasters (in turn hijacked by sattelites who serve an occupation of their neighbours, it's complicated).

In other words, the egyptian military is being just as much on the schizfritz as the EU (which is why PC medimums makes no bones about it, delivering mealy-mouth support for the people but really continuing to back their mean chaindogz, pettily petting petty tyrants, propping adversaries, leeches and nemeses).

You call regimes "puppet government states that are not honouring their people" (in minute 10 and a quarter of your latest quarter of an hour vid) and no doubt correctly. You have also seen more military butts whether .at rest or on the move and accomplishing worse than nothing in at least half those cases. And it so happens that your aims and stated goals i can not only share wholeheartedly but i believe they won't become reality unless not just i but the military ranks happen to hear, manage to understand and succeed in joining you .... and me, should they get sick of their toys and hot for my musical rockgrinders due to as yet untranspired and so nondisclosable reason.

If not that, what IS it gonna take before the Egyptian military begins to gently but persuasively convey folks like Mubarak to the compost belt where they can begin to work and/or live out and/or off their evil days... to Tel Aviv maybe?? ... unleashing a wholesome chain reaction series of similar leech ousting events?

Thus we have a overlays and layers leaning on true attraction so thickly and heavily, this burden reaches the point of suffocation, making it hard to make out what the fuzz was in the first place.

If primates went from treehouse villages in a garden culture to mechanized monocultures and slums dotted with very few rich spots we can prolly manage to retrace our steps ... but the efforts to popularize this perspective have all failed so far. .

scary, this girl later goes from israel to Cornell and scopes out those of the filthy rich enough to build a luxurious hoby-hide-away which are within her reach ... on top of that within a year of copying this photo from her gramma's album she looks at a tiny cabin for sale ... twice.

the mannequin obviously looks grief stricken, to the ground in front of him in quiet despair ... but the girl is oblivious ... focused on the camera ... in her latest pics the is astounded by the crop of liddul ones. "The problem that most concerns me is the ratio or imbalance between money . and debt, or between money and credit in use. I don't know how this fits in with . Beckerath and Milhaud."

Apart from the gold aspect, there was also the Real Bill Doctrine thing. Nowadays uphelp by Antal Fekete (quite active little bugger .. but not a 'pure' [[gold]]bugger, for said reason). He follows a correspondent and friend of Beckerath's in that, Heinrich Rittershausen, one of the writers in the (letters braiding) letter 'chain'. (ps: commited to braiding individual letters into chunks which when recombined and sorted into second tier strings are still called letters, once sent)

Credit on deliverables (far of as yet in either time or space or both) carries, justifies and determines the price of it (risk/credit). A matter of dependability in stability (contract realism [['commitability'?]] and long 'termitude' both and/or as one) credit as digits have got cheaper to make, store and manage .. but also to mask and disguise .. .to where the credit on credit fractality got away on a run*(way)*. It's like the water-rights conundrum, ever more pressing under monocultural desertification.

dustpiles are the physical equivalent of credit (coin of the realm stored sky high but nobody willing and able to take and feed it into a growing season someplace. Also easier to make, also thanks to technology).

I often, very often make light of rockdust (helping rocks inner life unfold and bloom, bring it to lite and lite to it), now let me rephrase your last sentence ....and turn my usual advocacy around: The credit pile up slicing and dicing the underlying value, trying to chip and chisel rivravrevenues, out of control in and as the aftershock of the dotcom cheapchipitude, functions as if it's a great big crushing weight (bent on size reduction like all self respecting rock grinder) is actually not conceived to fight deserts.

Imagine rockdust in such suffocating quantities that it does not fight but cause desertification, turning even green environs into a desert and you are on your way to imagine what credit without the Real Bill doctrine (that preciously life-like time-limit/runtime built in) look like. Happy mirroring.

The credit pile up .. 'functions' ... i mean it sorta fractionates already fractional reserves .. that runaway thing again ... (bent on size reduction like all self respecting rock grinder), matter of (personal) f*(in esse)*act, i even doubt it was ever conceived to fight deserts. More likely is that giving credit a nice new respectable status (from real estate to national and international expanses of territory .. euro anybody?) is kinda the bait our speculator class will come fishing with, and like all too great big ballgames, it will just end up being poured into Military swallow wallow elopevelopment dontcha thunk?

...will come fishing with.... will go fishing for and at galactic turnoveround speed come fishing with ... they want a more respectable victim this time, cause they aint cheap you know.
hope my little moniker experiment did not confuse you about that pile up .. it's a roll-over which the RBD cuts off at source since it sports, feature and can proudly boast of realistic term limits, so credit pile up indicates and is a measure of .. criminality, shirkage and betrayal. i credit it with incredi*(tab)*bility. In light of the dust analogy, how could you justify rolling over and postponing the mineral content of your produce? Vitality and nutritional value is needed now, not to be postponed. .

> Is not rolling over debt in a growing economy tantamount to reducing the debt burden (the debt-to-economy ratio) over time? Your assumption is that it is impossible to 'send the foreigners Sterling' IN ADDITION TO the normal borrowing for subsistence. That is, you assume there will be crowding out: that rolling over debt would exhaust or in any case reduce Britain's borrowing capacity needed for subsistence. But has not the US been doing this for a long time now - borrowing internationally to pay for its daily needs (cars etc.) while rolling over its debt? The reason why Britain could not do this is only because the US currency has special status as world reserve currency. As long as foreigners accept Sterling, it would work. The fear is, that would not be very long. China would never accumulate 2.4 trillion Pound Sterling! --- Dirk that helps me extend the analogy yet again: if you agree on the need for massive remineralization (a la John D Hamaker) it makes no sense to send rockdust from one side of the world to the other (only our precious titanic volcano caste can afford that). Localism is the key and solution, even Ghaddafi can lip serve that in between his tirades. .

What fuels, in part, the credit bubble and the reserve status of the dollar is that it performs a mental version of the mineral size reduction so sorely needed for vigour and health. This good soak applies to a nearly negligable aspect of its influence on social climates though, the jigger jiggle and loosen up challenges, the invitation to cymatics and dance are mere side-effects in the margins of a push for hegemony, more might than right, more bluster than luster tsjef, i have often portrayed women x men as govts x markets, trust x grunt but predictably the latter (of each pair) overpowered the former, finality of death addled maleness mindsets (a flow arresting settlerism) throttle and kill reversibility. Da 'YelGlo mediacho', bust on thru harder, heavier, invited (envyited) graceless behaviour, unhealthful professions, pandoranoid vices and stuff to all come out (not in the wash, no going back in), and turn out still more harrowing effects. Now the focus is on the latter with renewed energy left over from/after dropping the former -- no hands tied, no holds barred, .. heh ... 'barred', gold had severe drawbacks, ecological ones alone are huge enough to go for a systemic change, like a basket with photosynthesis rates factored in -- a big bugaboo for the right, fit and willing to go for that heavy lifting again.

I believe THAT stopped any blocks from dominating, specially since most of them were close to the ground honest work based bits. I mean, money can (ONLY even) be as positively peaceful as people can. Armwrestle money at worst, armsracer money however is that blanketing kind covering all sorts of stuff, the arms guys hitch-hiking on the goodness they are threatening instead of protecting as vaunted.

And of course it would be so much the better had we state monies broken up into .. and here yes, substitute away, regio-money (an expression that caught on in germany) and city monies, the value of which lessens with distance. At the very least a palette of taxes earmark choices so the payer feels good about his contribution. > I have no such great imagination, Piet. I have enough trouble seeing what exists now. But what I see, what everyone sees I think, except bankers and central bankers perhaps, is that there is too much debt. But debt only is a problem because we don't pay it off as fast as we accumulate it. So we need to pay it off faster. We need to keep using new credit, because that helps the economy grow. Then, to pay it off the Fed policy has to be different. They have to consider that paying off debt is the right way to fight inflation. Not monetary restriction. Congress has to see it, too. We get people to pay off debt faster by giving a tax break for it. I don't care how we do that, pizza places or florist shops, I have no idea. ---- March 1, 2011 12:28 PM.

Thoughts inspired by 'GaimeWarlds' how mankind followed his eyeballs into a digital pen, dumbestication proceeding apace, yet at the very last moment came/found back to an equality of senses and equinimity of being, praise be that subtle touch of polishing rock is boring - to strain and wear out (youngster) eyeballs however, is hyped as profitable (it puts entire regions on the autism savant softie track - with lottery/bonus gains for sweetener) and at the very least pacifies them. A robo-soldier is less likely to develop and/or be receptive to sound thought so less of a risk and bother for nasty dominators that always use tricks to get the propagation edge (the barriers are more and more undetectable, cowardly and insidious), top of the line 'potection' is good for the female vote, she swaps autonomous self-sufficiency for supremacy through guile at the drop of a fashionable hat, her security is an easy sell for sell outs who are any good (at selling out).

polished rock is a side effect of my counsel - the work easy on eyeballs of any age ..... rewritten (hopefully improved the next day - below):

As a reaction against the obvious rot of religion we live in an age of 'seeing is believing' which we are nevertheless unprepared to accept till we actually see it but vision is used as a cloaked dagger, a traitor within the gates to short circuit envisioning .. that's what makes jews and hollywood such rotters

As a weak, feeble and failing reaction against the obvious rot of religion and its metaphor conjurement (the dutch word beeldspraak would be more faithfully rendered with 'imagyn') we tell ourselves we live and/or that it is better to live in an age of 'seeing is believing'.

But belief predominates nevertheless, we fail to get sight and belief on an even keel and engaged in mutually respectful cadence with the other senses and faculties, a relay thing like nite and day, man wife, testost and estrog.

Vision is abused as a cloaked dagger, a traitor within the gates to short circuit envisioning .. that's what makes them Seouligans, Hollowwoodies and whathaveyoudoxicks such rotters cause what they make is belief (but what they make be is not beleaf), it displaces and degrades, literally wears out vision and yet keeps it coming with incompleteness, intimation, hint and 'leaving' much to be desired, in one word: speed.

Hence the whole fascination that eastern slowness holds for a segment of the west, the leftish oriented (neotenous as Andrew Lehman shows) 'holo-systemians' (the splinter of future outstakers who started off strong alongside the space race speed obsessed counterparts in 'The Whole Earth Catalog' - worth looking up if you have a computer younger than 10).

There is a very obvious antagonism here, where tragically one party is completely oblivious of being perceived as that deadly a threat by the other. It causes the endlessly cycling 'will to kill - socalled in revenge for the trigger patsies but in truth doubly cause patsies need sacrificing, like Oswald, perhaps Tate, more surely the Towers - AND blame a third party, the real quarry, for it'.

Even pretending they won't need to waste their precious time with 'it' (our gvt officially 'tolerates' the pvv though, with royal sanction even ... but hey, neonicotiniacs are working on the queen problem from the bayer bottom up) is too too hard, hence these never ending high horse hypocrites polluting the airwaves.

It's the churchy -socialist- zionist dispensation (and 'pursewiseyon'): 'breakdown' of border awareness. This border and invasiveness denial is equivalent to demographic incontinence, especially if the borders, which, by the way, for autonomonkeys indeed ARE ignorable and irrelevant#, are replaced with fake ones, hierarchies. We are the doctors and the rest are patients, duly rewarded for recognizing our skills. This is what chabert likes to call eurocentrism and scold Zizek for, more than anybody, and it is that which prevents the folks who give in to it but continue suffering it nonetheless, to start suppressing how they spread and multiply trauma, instead pretend the reverse will take place and finely delegate that pleasure (afwentelen - tombstone rockNroll overtone).

- like i have argued before, not lateral but radiant/vertical *(bio)*borders are what's important for them. oddly enough, i cannot find that coinage in my files as such (nor bio-borders either) but i do see 'biomassive in use from 96-01 (skipping 07, 7 diffferent files of 96), nove08 i wrote: "..one on one of agreement and agrowment. It keeps them and helps them keep others from applying a little brakeage to the not even slightly irreal 'volkssentiment' of being washed out and away, plus being infected with stuff we just don't have a lot of awareness of and immunity against.

The moraalridder (moral knight) imagines himself, like Don Quichotte, to be a perfect cleanser/composter. A repute that flourishes with impunity in a pc meditated climate only (city halls and hilversum), like an extremely fragile alien. Holland is brimming with hybrid mutts such as myself, which would make it paradise you'd think, but alas, most of which haven't had their head screwed down tight and are too stubborn to learn a few twists and turns.

O - ROCK TO ROCK, OO - SKIN TO SKIN, ... and today, ...

OOO - BIRD TO BIRD, 3 phenomena, ONE SINGLE SAME OLD dishonest pervasive and disastrous STUPIDLY

Hasbarite meme. Telltale signature of practioners ('belijders') and perps is the fact they invariably choose to redouble their offensive instead of admitting embarrasment over wrongdoing and going 'opensieve' instead (reform in poetpietish) third [totally alike thunderclap] instance on the news this morn, thousands of fowl will be put to death in the south west of holland and the hasbarapproved manipulation of masses via mass media obediently broadcasts the industry's line: 'it's all the wild bird's fault'

Hmuhm???? Wild birds are so jealous of wellfed ones, they can't leave'm alone? Are they like asylum seekers fleeing lands laid to waste by war and epidemic and arriving on our shores well tainted with scourges they are unsuccesfully 'escaping'?

3 instances of unloading (/blaming) their own peccadillos (consequences of own wrongdoing) on the very condition they rule out of their personal sphere of influence and ban with their efforts as much as possilbe already, causing the problems they claim are foisted upon them instead of self-generated. Turning crisis into opportunity they extend their intolerance and project their whole sorry worldview onto what they cannot yet but love to control, infect - hasbaroids are quick ['zijn er als de kippen bij'] to reward such against all odds powergrab with national news itemization - and destabilize with their (we? wrong? ours is a) 'never do wrong' methodology, source of pride and income. We aint hallowcosting no birds, we're under attack by tearawrists!!!

I visited cornell with a bunch of midwestern old timers .. nutpeople for a conf. the one alongside on physics was 200 times as large. that taught me not to expect too much. your antedecorum could use a well painted tree or something .. at least. bland backgrounds are for sex

GGRR!!!!!!! just lost about 20 lines worth (from the P series a j & j) distracted by a duplication caught in what i thought-meant as a quick side issue (making the cut a finalized one before realizing i hadn't done the follow up paste yet, iow, making it into a major fuck up) these days are characterized by loss anyhow. I mean the really deep and incisive insights which prove to be concommitantly complicated and paradoxically leave an impression that is fleeting enough to deserve namycally flashes of insight. Traces too subtle to try untangle and string out in prose, no matter how poetic and 'leapy'. Hopefully just preliminaries and heraldage of the anonymous benefaction i am firmly convinced the best of these notes were concerning.

i should just redo these 3 months right away and salvage a few inspirations that way. ... Hmm, that didn't work at all, perhaps they were notes from the prints i tackled along with the P series .. all bycause i drowned my Inspiron6400 in a jar of cold tea. A perversion of long term thinking goes by 'win out' default: there is not enough to go around for all now and there never will be (if we can help ((ourselves to)) it) ... but since the world is not abstract, dialectic, binary, flatland, logical, algebraic nor instrumentative, to dictate strict separation of these opposed tendencies, we recommend best of both worlds mixmax and the proof of succesfully rubbing these oldest, most venerable of (crystaline) cliches together is not pumpapulsing them (representations, usurpations, shortcircuitry of them rather) through 'new media' (geared to distract from, bypass, ignore, prevent meaningfulness ((grounding)) through them ((crystalclearly up for grippie grabs till the end of terreschurnity)) with a proliferation of split and fragmented figures ((figureheads as much as figurings and figurants ... same anew seem anew seam asew)) then pricing ((not upraising)) them) but to progress and see to the rubbing of rocks ... etcetera (see earlier rants).

That second sentence is broken (opaque instead of open). Imagine a stream of tiny secrets like gravel (content) specs ... boy i realize that sentence hardly constitutes a refreshment and packs plenny of bias, incompletion, no amount of lengthening could rectify. I did though (before this here second thought) .. lengthen it (thusly): ... on view 'centrally' (imperfectly distributed), the more central phenoms are the ones on display best, most, and longest ... and secret the least after a slowly lessening (of secrets) on approach. Even on a micro level where truth (/true) is that each pebble holds a secret, the aggregate of info flow (earlier shipments from the same vicinity, growing test results, etcetera) will make it a virtually open book. Moira Thompson on a new Seer vid with arab subtitles has a serious mistake. it's the only vid here: youtube.com/user/Giovannitrading

no, sorry your cannot. i know my objection to the language (though not the intent) of the message is a bit of a nitpick but it needs doing .. specially when targetting semites (kudos for your subtitles), since they are notoriously and even if all goes well from soon on ... for at least a few generations to come, innately fucked up about localism/empire, harsh/invitin climes, monocultivating demographics (eliminating vote/voice variety, shutup/down of co-habitants, confederates and competition), tolerating the company of close ones ('bloods', the blodied) only, flipflopflailing around in endless contention (loyalty and betrayal issues decided over the most arbitrary and unfathomable obscurities, layers of 'uglips' perversions of oltime glyphs and rockdust yielding carvings), their cultural coherence as loose as the sand around them, etcetera.

Just bycause this process 'nurtured' their predilection and peculiar quirk bend and inclination to globalize and universalize any and everything* doesn't mean you me we have to fall for (before) it as well

* .. including those things like local, regional, city and state monies, which so doing turn and are turned bad, come to and cause harm (the unbelievable haram of unbelievability: unbelief) all sorts of abstractions themselves attempts to turn back from worse to bad and resulting from the effort to take the sting out of harsh .. not to say hellish and all too searingly bright conditions gone wrong and awry, severe, unforgiving, forbidding, .

if you do do whatever HERE, you simply cannot be doing it anywhere else in the world, and certainly not at the same time.
it's a bit of a can can do do am too am too conundrum ...
all i am saying is: look don't be an idiot, go and find suitable dusts in the middle east if you want to help folks there.
bad enough money gets spun around and around the world until it's too dizzy to know up from down.
doing the long haul with rock just raises the price/barrier anyway, thanks for the great vid ... all semites are in dire need of experiences like yours, specially those that come to our lower latitudes ... not to mention the ones that manage to go back use this most noble of messages to gain respect and transform a desert traumatized set of cultures cluster fucking each other and us pale faces more and more.

If only dumb Breivik had managed to make the diffference between life and death as clearly and positively as can be done this way. If he really did have an interest in Wilders and studied him i cannot imagine he never saw my attempts to make these kinds of connections. Matter of fact, he looks very strangely familiar. Bet he visited A'dam or an english festival or german rainbow gathering .. something like that.

> He’s always been a trendsetter. But could David Bowie have caused the latest fad sweeping the nation – the credit crunch?
> It may sound like a ridiculous question, but it’s not as mad as it seems.
> Even when it comes to finances Bowie leads the way – and back in 1997 he did something called “securitisation”.
> He thought, “I have a lot of money coming in over the next 10 years from my back catalogue, but I’d rather have the cash now and not have to wait”.
> He produced some bits of paper – Bowie Bonds – and said “whoever buys these gets my royalties”.

I note that in the 1003 comments there so far not a single one by Peach (under her own handle anyways) .. which seems odd but might explain her generous presence on her own thread to the vid responding to this one.

Ruka broke into 5 digit views only a short while ago.

i tried a few more channel comments:
hi, as a veteran of the net who's gone through the school of hard clicks (like trying to equate and 'equiv' popularity and depths, evermore inversely correlated i am afeared), it's a matter of course for me to expect loads but looking back can 'boast' of little result.

Like, i used to recommending reading an author who wasn't even hardly published in his own time (between the WWs, died late fifties, Ulrich von Beckerath insurance mathematician, he was a state market, paper and gold, female and male type of guy) let alone popular.

Now i have hi hopes you will able to enjoy, grasp and get a kick out of another obscure fella (self published, lapsed into absence since april due to an aneurism behind the eye ... always put a strain on his visual faculties like a good jew should and usually can): Andrew Lehman neotenyDorg the little diagram shown in 8.55 is very bleak and hard hitting ... good thing it's only an IQ one. ironically it uses few words, such as gifted (curve coloured blue), retarded (curve coloured red), black and white. No wonder folks like Peach kinda blow up about you Ruka!

one more addition ... to the channel comments i just attempted:
Let's talk the influence on hard wood and community coherence and inviolation over time before and after whities in africa eh? The grand financiers (bullets to coins to bullets to coins traffickers of tides and tidings, heaps and hidings, hypes and heapings) are first and foremost to blame of course and that's why the middlemen (humen in the middle, pivot point of races, geographically, mentally, hygienically, mental hygienistically) are called semites and very often get blamed by both sides. Saw an example of that just yesterday.

delicious irony (unless you want to consider it disgusting much in the way redskins fighting in vietnam are) that the singer is white integratee with/in the sikh community -- lots in colorado i understand, the caste that went from male trim tone styles to sedentary bloat in truckdriver mold and mode ... part of the customer serving, demand satisfying, opp seeking, fashion chasing dogma that breaks all substance and value she points and clings to, down to the point where her songs offer lots of nostalgia but not much prospects. That message is losing the race with the E-waste it's very conveyance costs. Insights that have come to me strong after PV died and i now realize must or may have lead him to caution about the net. But why didn't he do that in these kinds of, to 'drossy dudes' like me, not much more sensible but certainly more accesible ways?
At this point i don't know what will be more difficult, seeing to the telepathic alternative or seeing to the *(E-)*waste.

Nevertheless, one of my very earliest intuitions about the info industry acting like it was the next goldrush (it was and is, just more toxic) seems to still to be valid, but it was the abstract borderline apophenic version, the equivalent of all dressed up but nowhere to go.

> * Phonetic literacy is comprised of characters which have no meaning. ABCED -minded was McLuhan's prefered Joycean pun which illustrates the lack of meaning in letters. English is strictly a language of metaphor, lacking the threat of any trap which might subdue the word into universals in syntax. He broke from classical intellectualism because of this fact and became acoustically general in his search for meaning.

> wiki: His device is remarkable for its size, standing some 18 metres high in the back yard of his home. He was, apparently, denied

David Goldenberg in Wired 2004

To Aldo Costa, the laws of physics are more like guidelines. This includes Newton's second law of thermodynamics, which decrees that perpetual motion is impossible. That hasn't stopped Costa, 79, from spending five decades and more than $200,000 of his own money trying to build a machine that will run forever on the "free energy" of interplanetary gravity. Other laws have gotten in the way, too, including the one French authorities cited to block construction of a 300-foot-diameter contraption behind his house in Villiers-sur-Morin. His working model, shown here, is 56 feet across. Then there's the law his wife and three kids used to deny him access to what's left of the family's savings. "They don't seem to understand what I'm doing," Costa says.

The retired mechanic and self-taught physicist fell for perpetual motion 50 years ago ... Working mainly by himself, he gradually hauled in more than 9.5 tons of steel parts to construct his model. Given an initial push, it can revolve for three hours - aided by the wind. He envisions full-scale versions transforming deserts into oases and breaking Big Oil's grip on the world. If only he had a perpetual money machine.

ABSTRACT This paper is a review of how and why the race concept has changed in the United States during the 20th century. In the 19th century the concept of race provided the unchallenged folk taxonomy and the prevailing scientific paradigm for placing human biological and cultural variation into categories called races. At the height of the eugenic and anti-immigration movement of the early decades of the 20th century, Boas and his students began the critique of racism and aspects of the race concept. In the early 1950s Washburn proposed that the modern synthesis replace race typology with the study of processes and populations. In the 1960s new data on clinal genetic gradations provided tools for studying human variation while challenging the race concept. We present several kinds of documentation of the decline of the race concept over the 20th century, and place the above changes in the context of the essential development of new genetic evidence. We also relate the decline of race to historical developments, the growth of the culture concept, and the biographies of the participants. We reject political correctness and view science as a self-correcting endeavor to relate concepts to the empirical world. KEY WORDS race, cline, population, Boas, Washburn Prz. Antropol.–Anthropol. Double relaxed Darwinian selection
This article briefly describes Lynn's view on what makes modern populations rise and fall. It then provides a demographic analysis of what happens to modern sub-fertile high-IQ Western populations when Internal Relaxation of Darwinian Selection (IRDS) combines with External Relaxation (ERDS, in the form of super-fertile low-IQ non-Western immigration) into Double Relaxation of Darwinian Selection (DRDS).
The genotypic IQ decline will ruin the economic and social infrastructure needed for quality education, welfare, democracy and civilization. DRDS is currently unopposed politically, so existing fertility differentials may eventually lead to Western submission or civil resistance. ---- 2011 Elsevier Ltd. All rights reserved.

Ask me how difficult it is to not become spiteful as a dead end hybrid, totally out of time, offspring of disparate parents displaying, as they all do, the traits of those situated (in time) where the branches used to meet and forked. The more disparate, the more paradisial (neotenous too a lot, ... at the best of times) compared to what has become of us more or less diffusionist betimes, diggin in types at others, trying to breath free always.

Nuttin wrong with belonging, you for instance belong to those who emphasize that various blocks on a map (whichever way you draw the lines and splash the blobs) are on ONE map. Do you hear? http://hamsayeh.net/articles/1151-russian-report-confirms-70-80-of-libya-remains-under-gaddafi-control-.html
He cites an Iranian source (quoting Mathaba):

> Reports from Mathaba, Syrian radio, the Leader himself, Dr. Ibrahim, are the most reliable. There is much that will be coming to light in the coming weeks and months which will shock the world, or those who care, and the scale of the suffering caused by the NATO and its rebels to a population which enjoyed the purest form of democracy in the world, which allowed them to assign themselves all the benefits that control of national resources allows: free health care, free education, free housing, free electricity and more besides.
> Ownership of government by the people, by the people themselves being the government by way of legislative people's conferences and executive elected people's committees, allowed Libyans to attain the highest standard of living in all Africa and higher than Russia, Brazil and Saudi Arabia. They even had enough to spare $32 billion for a $42 billion project to free the entire continent of Africa from the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, with that money now stolen by the U.S.
> And additional over $100 billion from the Libyan Sovereign Wealth fund has also been stolen, and Libya had 144 tons of gold reserves and was calling for payments for oil in gold and not worthless debt-printed U.S. dollar bank notes, as well as sponsoring the creation of an Africa-wide gold dinar and "Afro" currency.
> These, argue analysts, are some of the real reasons for the war against Libya, with Sarkozy having said that Muammar Qaddafi and Libya's plans created a threat to the "financial security" of the international community -- the international community being the phrase used as always for the banking elite, not the world community of people of all nations.

> Gadaffi suggested establishing a united African continent, with its 200 million people using this single currency. During the past year, the idea was approved by many Arab countries and most African countries. The only opponents were the Republic of South Africa and the head of the League of Arab States. The initiative was viewed negatively by the USA and the European Union, with French president Nicolas Sarkozy calling Libya a threat to the financial security of mankind; but Gaddafi was not swayed and continued his push for the creation of a united Africa.

> A Crude Awakening: The fossil fuels crash documentary: It's All Over
> So I just watched this excellent documentary on the end of the oil era
> What can I say? It's one of the most profound issues of the day -- all over the world oil production is declining....and already with amazing consequences. One point mentioned is how per capita income in Saudia Arabia was 28 k or something and now it's 6 K a year..... Anyway the alternatives are considered but in a realistic way -- none of them can really replace oil.... Then there's brief appearances of the Amish -- and Asia, Africa, etc. -- cultures traditionally not needing oil. So it's humanure time -- for food production, etc.
> Also covered briefly is how oil has been the secret reason behind the modern wars.... I find the denial about oil amazing -- it saturates everything -- I confronted Vice President Al Gore about his oil connections before he became the global warming guru. I mean the global warming denial is nothing compared to the denial about oil production decline.... As I told Vice President Al Gore: It's All Over.

Manipur Tamenlong district insurgents (jaliengrong, the 4th 'joining' nsim nsnk nnc -- note the word play on innocent) hiding in the hills. Protest marches of women (carrying small, none mass produced, signs, one of them says: observe ahimsa principles with sincerity)* calling for the presence of the Indian Army. Actually they sort of sway down the slick paths flanked by impressive boulders here and there, in silence.

Wonder what Arundhati Roy would say. I said this:

the price of letting fertility run it's course (indulging the desire for cuddly cuteness on the part of your o so irresistible nubiles) and the lack of pacifist yet forceful routine necessary to keep that very fertility in shape by crushing rocks and building compost ... leaving male youth free to play stupid, illusory and fun only while they last invincibility games.

tis worse in the west, production and use of DU-ammo as taboo as turds. Soldiers return unfit to father.

* - common sensical enough yet (EMPTY) without reference to (FULL) rocks and male specific sources of pride and community respect. The work i recommend might solve 2 problems at once. The mass orange trees and groves die-off will prolly be slowed if not cured and possibly remediated immediately by blowing some of the finest dusts right onto them in one of the downpours 'many pours' can boast receiving. Remember, soil is mostly wet rock. All plants after such applications become loads more resistant to fungal diseases. Resistance to highest moisture levels is obviously not their primordially native strong point adaptation and i can understand them going on strike. So, let's see, we have women, young males AND trees on strike cause nobody understands the benefits of striking rock? That's rich, that's tragic and disastrously common. Cernunnos had an equivalent in the himalayas called Pashupati .. as usual diffusionist dissemination of wildly popular good rep tricks travels too fast for its own good, thus Cernunnos is not really known for what i think he stood for and practised .. i saw one ancient Pashupati related picture were a person was operating a long ass torqued lever by a river and can imagine they used it to crunch rock.

So I posted about 24 hours worth of evidence -- on the CIA controlling the drug trade, making the DEA's drug war a false flag operation, on the CIA doing mass assassinations but then blaming it on "the enemy." The CIA killing JFK using the MAFIA and blaming it on Castro, etc.

alrite so far, but then:

If you read the book “Eyes of the Night: Witchcraft among the Senegalese”—by William Scranton Simmons, a top Ph.D. anthropologist, I think Harvard-trained—then the evidence is all too real for shape-shifting reptilians.
Further strong evidence is in “Iron, Gender, and Power: Rituals of Transformation in African Societies (African Systems of Thought)” by professor Eugenia W. Herbert (Paperback – Dec 1993)
Also highly recommend is Dr. Paul Stoller's "In the Shadow of Sorcery" wherein, doing Ivy-League anthropology research in Mali, Stoller gets inadvertently trained in sorcery.
The person who trains him has poisonous snakes constantly "materializing" underneath his sleeping mat! These "shape-shifting" reptilians are "teleported" by competing sorcerors.
Dr. Stoller's work was ridiculed by Professor I.M. Lewis (some bigshot expert anthropologist) and Stoller was kind of freaked out by the whole experience but then about 10 years ago Stoller got cancer and returned to his sorcery chants as a means of treating his condition.

Amazing. GoDaddy is one of the largest retail hosting providers in the world, millions of domains and websites.

What the Internet wants, is destroy all independent websites and chase all of our content onto Facebook, Google, Microsoft, Yahoo, or other concentrated hosts where they can see everything and block whatever they want, and generally favor some stuff while disfavoring ther stuff. Did some geeks working for Google investors hack GoDaddy?

The "Internet" majors have been overwhelmingly successful at capturing all our email onto the big email providers, by a combination of tactics such as burying independent email providers ike GoDaddy with spam. How do they do that? Easily. By controlling technical standards to keep email insecure and unreliable. how do they do that? Easily. By collusion at the standards bodies IETF, etc. —- Web_standards How do the majors protect themselves from SPAM? Easy. It's always easy for the operator of a mail server to spot the SPAMMERS among their own users, and the majors reached a tipping point years ago where they operate the mail server for most of humanity.

The history of "the Internet" is full of these transitions to central control going all the way to the earliest days. Anybody remember operating your own web host, email host, nntp news server? or, the 70s and 80s how the telcos fought us, operating BBSs? --Todd

1/3 Of Americans Get Real
33 Percent of Americans Raised Middle Class Move Downward as Adults

"The report doesn't mention people who were raised in middle class households and consciously, voluntarily moved downward. wink

My family of four is severely poor, according to the definitions in the report (and by New Zealand definitions), but we're far better off than some people we know who are making several multiples of what we make each year.

It's interesting how the report paints the picture of a low income lifestyle as something that happens to people because of unfortunate choices and circumstances. After all, it's unthinkable that people would consciously choose to live debt free, stay home with their children, own their property and vehicles outright and legally avoid income tax rape by the vampire state…

Via: NPR:
The idea that children will grow up to be better off than their parents is a central component of the American Dream, and sustains American optimism. However, Downward Mobility from the Middle Class: Waking up from the American Dream finds that a middle-class upbringing does not guarantee the same status over the course of a lifetime."

I was raised in a lower middle-class family and went down after high school because my college course didn't give me the math I needed for the science field i chose to work in and I fell into hard manual labor and got stuck there taking all the minimum wage jobs nobody else wanted (except illegal immigrants).

As a result of so many things going wrong, I have been stuck below the poverty line and the status quo all my miserable life and I'm finding out now just how difficult it is for poor Americans over 40 to survive, but I'm seriously counting on my recent work with 3d animation to keep me from retiring to a much worse homeless position under a bridge.

Productivity is essential in the modern world. If a poor American doesn't make continual contributions to society by doing good practical work, they get treated like a bum by those lucky ones who meet the status quo and the state treats them as inferiors. The older an American is the worse it gets.

Being a liberal artist while being poor in America is much worse than it used to be.

i grew up middle class - upper middle class. went to college. did what i was told to do despite hating it along the way. where did it get me? hassle from the outside system because i didn't have the "right" degree. either that or the piece of paper overqualified me. heard those 2 bullshit lines ever since. i've finally blossomed into a woman who doesn't give a hoot about what my bank account says - in terms of my value and worth. i know i'm every bit as deserving of the "american dream" (which was always meant as a propaganda myth) as is everyone who has lived it.

the US gunlaws go to show gunowners have no sense of honour and pride despite their protestations. In fact they resemble the protestant habit of keeping an untouchable holy of holies. The 'voorkamer' (frontroom in dutch). USians go for a hotrod or shiny gun i guess. They allow atk D com to give ammo a (n over the top) bad name. I grew up oriented to the 'liberators' but grew to know better and drew back from being yet another one too many whities on red soil.

this is all music in the ears of gun dealers, notoriously indifferent to who wins, as long as both sides buy guns ... on credit is ok, records are kept and invasions planned centuries ahead of time. These are dynasties who take their sense of continuity from ownership and that means spoilsport demonic fighting.

i just blew up at the springforestqigong conman in Eden Prairie Mn where they make the DU ammo. Chunyi Lin fancies himself a real beamer, but he's neutered, a woolly copper, the subjected shaman, like St Nick's helpmate black peter.

19th comment on a 70 year old shao lin practitioner ... under china's oldest tree ... stupid artificial dichotomy, rift and schizma installing narration: "the hard and stiff will be broken ... the soft and subtle (or supple) will prevail.'
at least he didn' put a Biblical 'but' in there ... still, he supposes an opposition and good or bad choice. the correct formula (immediately applicable at a compost heap/toilet near you):
the soft and supple (2500 yo trees is actually served by an unyielding sense of place eh?) can prevail BYCAUSE the hard and stiff are broken. -- but in a pc world blood and soil are taboo except for the people trying to master profiting from control release ... and they tend to live in and/or at least idealize a shitty little country in the ME ... literally, they export raw sewage .. and far worse. It's colonialism with modern means making us all accomplices. They are resistant to wisdom and if not just tweak and torture the hell out of it. Prince of peace Cernunnos thus became jesus.

> September 18, 2011
> The “good liberal values” Cohen professes to defend boil down to this: that every country in the world should be governed by competing capitalistically-funded party cliques, their conflict orchestrated by capitalistically-funded mass-media, and the whole thing limited by an official secrets apparatus which allows unaccountable power to the capitalistically-driven security state. This ‘liberal’ model, Cohen believes, is self-evidently superior to the Taliban’s “clerical fascism”. Liberalism’s favourite clients in Asia and Africa are either military dictatorships with electoral facades like Indonesia, or real “clerical fascisms” like Saudi Arabia. The Taliban are nothing of the sort. “Clerical” they may be, though it is perilous to transfer the western term to the east; but “fascists” they simply are not. Fascism is a modernist totalitarian nationalist system to which religion can only be an accessory. Cohen’s real target in using this term is probably Iran. It doesn’t matter, since all his readers except perhaps those still at school know that all his moralising is merely imperial hypocrisy – RB

Peter got shamed 3x too, your denials aint any better than your pride is restrained just cause you let it go without saying

The fundamentals of mixture are important, vital even, but they are only relevant to race in that the one earning more goodwill than most through an applied understanding of ... eh ... livelying stuff up, got side tracked, led astray, lost its grip on peace and let itself be derailed,dragged down tearing most of the rest with them. Tragic nobody seems able to piece together the glorious past. My suspicion is that the prince of peace was really cernunnos and the principles of peace applied by his followers. Jesus is an irrecognizable caricature mixing contestants of the age real and imagined to boot.

more on that later, let me turn to the Peach and break the legs off her whys a moment first.

Well for starters, you mean the mentions to function as the realit facage token AND as crystallizin aggregator of converts to the faith you try infect folks with and feel good about, not guilty about AT nor IN THE least, ...cause you don't hide the truth .. but can a truth be instrumentalized to draw the audience nearer, and once with reach, 'touch' them .... kablam! Serves 'm right cause you warned them? Call it culling, ... blame you time in the military ... somehow it got into you and there's no signs of it coming out (nor you on that score). Those dumb enough to see that you not only are a mix up but prepared to further displace and mix up their heritage deserve what they got comin eh? Besides, it's all in the family, more or less relative. Guilt is a great weapon in the mixer upper's hands. They want to evolve right past their peers in a hurry, new is better. Not for them to be saddled and burdened with their heritage. Hell no, make the most of it. Forge on proudly. No time to compare, winner takes all, one wins and here's to the one that wins.

Being an outside hybreed is no guarantee that time is taken to compare, after which very little more is necessary to conclude that only the 'Stockholmed' (mayhem, turmoil and Schumpeterian neocon globalisms lovers) can ever carry on participating in imperial plans cheerily and declare they have no problem with making fun of the devil himself, let alone their 'own' solphes. The weights and constraints of traditions fall away and the free for all crowd can go on a reflexivity binge, blinding themselves to the lack of polish, the rough clunky, immodest and cocky cultural aspects, celebrating spontaneity, denying finality etcetera.

Problem is, you cannot deny evolutionary advantage/edge as a legit way of affirming and stating race and yet claim a right to adopt and adept whatever the hell you feel like going for -- deny racists the right to use that phrase or forbid the bioregionalist to claim it as a synonym for the way they draw the line, etcetera --, ... without losing your grasp of ... and right to defend, champion, tote or tout evolutionary 'theory' that dissociately split and frankly schizoid make believe way. Who is being impossibly selective here for real?

And so yet another yea nay religion is born and set athrivin and ajivin stabbery stubbery stumble away from the cookie crumble. Breeding has been the day one definer of culture. Something like skin colour is only relative*(ly negligible when you have your hands full noticing difference among folks on the same longitudes and 'breathitides', etcetera. 500 languages of turtle island ... go 10k and the accent changes in the low lands. You name it)*.

Evolutionary contests are always close matches, that much is true, so we are likely to find at least one closely linked neighbour and lots of isolation in between your beloved melting hmoney pots. Diffusion took care of carrying the fashions, crazes, popular stars, adventurers piecemeal, all easy in a vastness with very well distributed resources though the going was arduous and the effort prized*, but oil and mechanical genius changed all that.

for Cabeza De Vaca only the latter part of crossing the States (1500s) was that way more or less, before this he spent a decade in servitude.

Evo chases are lotsa misses and near hits that keep all of creation looking 'quita busy' (excercized). The gains are concommitantly slight and the outcomes give and take ... yet, due to the overall vast difference erosions of modern meldery, the 'soup 'm up with speed' here had to get matched to the 'surplus 'm with slow and steady increment' there .. and guess what won out? In the same way Ra is good in hebrew and bad in egyptian oil began making war on soil.

But i have no hope all this'll worry the agressively bent on terrrain gain newbies like yourself, let alone reckon they'll get it all in perspective .. a precondition for the harmony they have nor bear any relation to at all. They're brand new, spotless.

I'll leave you all with a quirky little thought i had last nite:
What i advocate doing with rocks is akin to what an alien might do with us. We should be so lucky.

The messiah amasses, a mediator massages, the message rubs off of the medium and 'dispurses' to become and frame content on which we chow down (goin 'yummy')

IOW, rock crushing and proper 'disposal' (read: application) is a way to apply oneself and available to as many colours/races as there are colours/' *(t)*races of rocks.

Carnivale - "Every Prophet In His House' gaialess .... the 2 near mythical and main but mostly absent characters who figure heavily in what led to the series join the 2 live ones in a diner, silent (radio plays of course, one of Carnivale's strongest features), the words are spoken by the serving lady just before the window shatters and Ben and Justin both wake with a jolt, far apart. It is an exquisite series in the realm of synchronicity arts. In the end it shows a glimpse of the ferris wheel. ...

> Carnivàle
> Into each generation is born a creature of light and a creature of darkness.
> So it is in 1934, the 'last great age of magic', in the American dustbowl, a fugitive named Ben Hawkins takes up with a traveling Carnivàle. The Carnivàle is owned by the mysterious and unseen "Management", who has designs on the young Hawkins, for the boy has an untapped gift: he can heal the lame and raise the dead – but it comes at a price. Ben also finds himself disturbed by cryptic and prophetic dreams, which he shares with a Methodist preacher in California, Brother Justin Crowe. Brother Justin, convinced he is following God's will, has begun to practice his own extraordinary talents, although the preacher's plans increasingly lead to disturbing and tragic consequences.

> If destiny exists, it exists for the malefactor, same as the godlike. You read about Hitler's life and find a chilling and unmistakable air of vocation in it; apparently he had a calling every bit as strong and mystical as any saint's. ETHOS ANTHROPOI DAIMON, Heraclitus said some 2500 years ago, a statement which usually shows up in English as, "Character is fate," but translates literally as, "A man's character is his daimon." According to Plato's Republic, each of us chooses his Daimon prior to birth, a being both subjective and objective, abstract and real, both within us and beyond us, some combination of guardian angel, touchstone and life-path. Our Daimon keeps us to our chosen purpose when we stray, sometimes gently, sometimes driving us with brutal force. The Greek word EUDAMONIA, which finally grew to mean something like happiness, earlier meant "having a good daimon." If you've chosen a good daimon, your life will tend towards the smooth and blissful, and if you've chosen one choleric and surly, things won't come easy. Yeats (who had a turbulent but acknowledged relationship with his Daimon) said, "Each DAIMON is drawn to whatever man... it most differs from, and it shapes into its own image the antithetical dream of man," and "...there is a deep enmity between a man and his destiny... [yet] a man loves nothing but his destiny."

it's the whole series closely followed with descrips and photographs ... got bumped from the past ...

I'd forgotten about this:

> This is the healing to end all healings. Fixing a little girl's legs at the expense of some crops? Child's play. Bringing Ruthie back from the dead, trading her life for Lodz? Doesn't even compare. Stroud is stricken, mid-swing, and gets the hell out of that hallway as fast as he can, pushing the unlucky clerk into his place. As he drags himself across the lobby, other hotel guests start to collapse, and Stroud barely makes it outside while all around him the citizens of Damascus keel over in the streets. (Also Justin projectile vomits like a quart of milk all over his table, but hell if I'm screencapping that.)

here's a sample from just before that (last) passage:

> Double post to say, here, have some real content!
> Interview with Clancy Brown from CarnieCon in 2005 > Really interesting conversation. Particularly when he talks about the way things were supposed to have gone but either the writers or HBO took the story in a different direction.
> quote:
> Beth: That people were sitting there at the end of the first season going, "I dunno…" That the mystery is gone as to whether Justin is truly evil or not, I think, is kind of a disappointment to some people.
> Clancy: Well, maybe. It's certainly been a disappointment to some. It's slightly disappointing to me. Where it gets real frustrating is, you know, okay, so… You're gonna put out all this hateful rhetoric, and rhetoric of fear and everything, but to the point of what?
> Beth: Yeah, what's he trying to do?
> Clancy: What is Justin's mission? Because you have to be justified. Right now, I think Ben is far more justified than he ever was. And he's really taken on faith that he has to save the human race. Which I think is kinda dumb, that he's just kinda buying all that without really gettin' it. He's clearly – and this is not impugning Nick in any way, cuz I think he's doing a great job – but I think in terms of character development, they made a real leap in the first two episodes, and really tried to jumpstart Ben Hawkins a little bit.

> One thing I wanted to say, I really love the way the soundtrack ramps up the excitement. The first season finale was one example of just really great music going along with what's on screen. Another was the scene during one of the last few episodes where Ben and Jonesy drive off towards New Canaan and all you can see is Libby watching them go surrounded by darkness . They just did a really good job with the soundtrack.
> And I gotta say again Michael J. Anderson rules so loving hard. I miss this show so much and I'm so pissed it didn't go on. Out of all the great shows that have been cancelled if there was one single show that I could chose to come back it would be this one. And they could still do it, too, because I read somewhere that there was supposed to be a couple year gap (in the shows world) in between the end of season 2 and the beginning of season 3. But I know it won't happen, argh, gently caress. Alright, I'm done.

At this point i can only appreciate the esthetics of these things, the art of it (collected copies of it in the eighties) anymore, if i turn of mentioned framing and ramifications. That leaves me nowhere near as rapt and seduced by it all as i was while my appetite for it was huge and naive enough to not even think anywhere near the full cycle of these surrogates and substitutes of, even displacements of and deadly hazards to the original, real things, such as a simple stirring of water. someone tries to take work/pleasure/ passtime/chore obsession/disease (the object taken offense from) of the master out of his hands the master is not pleased, not relieved .. but in rage. and turns away from the toy sparring partner to viciously fight the thiefs.

Ghaddafi's outbursts towards (those hiding and stoking among) the protesters were giant tactical blunders.

he should have humoured them, sent them canvas paints sheets, dug a mudpool for sculpture, driven containered trees over to spend shade.

he should have also ordered battalions worth of scouts to disperse and wonder as inobtrusively as possible, keeping cameras trained on anything that looked like it could be turned into an in- and evokation, a little act-out of whatever the hell folks thought freedom was ... offering plenny of demonstration of his own, such as rocks and water piles and pools plus mounds of good fruit and prizes for those who crunch rock splash water dry mud and paint sculpture the best.

So, i disapprove of the fact Ghadaffi never found me worth bothering with.

Never tried make amends for my rape in Libya (mentioned in my pages since 1996, i was certain he'd be shown that at some point, specially if he really was such a green fella, one heard so many rumours about). I just figured the ball was in his court.
My destructive habit which goes on and on without saying nor stopping, mistake a letting slide for effective delegation, I discover less and less can be though.

I disapprove of Ghadaffi's opinion of and decisions regarding - al cia duh directed, thus misguided on top of oppressed rabble rebel jailbirds - freedom fighters hailing from deprived regions all over the crumbled, eroded, exploited, sucked dryer than dry overheated remains of and in the arab empire (with a few exceptional pinpoints to make believe otherwise) is this:

he made a grave mistake not taking my approach. i wouldn't have begrudged him the use of it and not considered it stealing for a moment. Even if he had never contacted me about that at all.

But to actually lay the link between cresting waves of hormone levels and their force/intensity requirements with dust and incarnation (demography, territory) remains the biggest treasure i ever found AND the hardest one to convey, display, share, seed, send viral, infect folks with do i need to repeat the scarcity and off-limitness of females as is the case in arab harems being a way to try cope with and reign in birth rates?

A way to not have to work so hard to reverse desert conditions or maintain such large armies of slaves and serfs.

He should have said: come to me, i am gonna liberate you from your nonstatus of sitting ducks, of being guinea pig excercise and target practice fodder to the west

it's time to religionize evolition turn all feelings of being spied on, targetted, deprived and pointed out or after, into a hunger for and bush in sun- and limelight turning it all green and good.

words are useless against weapons, hence the religious compensation.

The next disconnect milestone breaking and turning point occured in NH at the White River, killed by the NatGeo print factory.
Then i had a period of the tide going the other way, with me warning indymedians as noted and believing the George Gilder hype all the way .... until i got hit by a realization of just how large the E-waste problem already is. On top of that are the warnings coming from primitivists, the horror McLuhan and followers warned about yet constitute. And finally, afte Matthew the Akha man first helped me realize this, literacy is a tool of the enemy, the unimaginative, the skimmers, the predators, even they clothe themselves decently and use cutlery.

Anonymous uses a leaf straight out of the Al-CIAduh playbook:

> "Know that time and history are on your side. Tyrants use violence because they have nothing else, and the more violent they are, the more fragile they become."

That used to be true under more honourable fighting codes ... but since then they cull civilians to balance the losses on the hi-end testy toyz from toddler to tycoon continuum.

Their advice to the military sounds better:

> "Defend your country. Rise up against the regime!"

quoting niqnaq:

> "Various individuals associated with Anonymous (and Lulz.sec) have been arrested over recent weeks, in the US, UK and elsewhere. Presumably they have been forced to provide access codes and details of standard operating proceedure, allowing members of NATO's black ops teams to produce the pseudo-'Anonymous' items described here – RB"

Drones for Turkey

> Various thoughts on this: first of all, as we all know Zaman is a mouthpiece of the Gülen organisation, which is linked to the CIA. This means that information campaigns can be orchestrated there in a more sophisticated way that in most newspapers. Second, as far as I know, not even the most hysterical zionists and pro-zionists have said a word about this drones-for-Turkey issue. This suggests that the supposed almost-war between Turkey and Israel is in fact just hot air. Third, the US acting as replacement supplier for Israel's Heron drones is a blow to the Israeli export industry, all other things being equal.

My idea is that the US is trying to create a new 'dialectical' pincers structure to manage the near East, now that Israel and Saudi can no longer be regarded as bona fide enemies, but in practical terms are pretty clear allies. The new structure will play off a 'liberal (NATO) Islamist' bloc led by Turkey against a 'conservative (non-NATO) Islamist' bloc led by Saudi with the more or less obvious support of Israel. Israel will therefore become less of a direct ideological ally of the US, as it becomes a more explicitly religious-racist state, and the domestic political costs in the US of supporting Israel's every move will be progressively reduced. This will of course be a gradual process, not an overnight transformation – RB

US-Turkey agree on delivery schedule for Predators
Zaman, Sep 25 2011

Turkey is expecting the delivery of Predators in Jun 2012, the Turkish defense minister said a day after the country's prime minister announced that Turkey has agreed with the US on a deal involving the transfer of US-engineered unmanned aerial vehicles that could prove crucial in combating terrorism. Erdo?an was quoted by the Cihan news agency as saying on Saturday in New York:

> We have agreed in principle. Negotiations will continue.

the US does not realise that its attempts to 'keep the barbarians divided' are no longer working
September 22, 2011

In "The Grand Chessboard" (1997) Brzezinski wrote "The three grand imperatives of imperial geostrategy are to prevent collusion and maintain security dependence among the vassals, to keep tributaries pliant and protected, and to keep the barbarians from coming together." Now, if Pakistan is an ally of Saudi Arabia, which it is, and Saudi Arabia is no longer a reliable ally of the US, which is also the case, then the US is losing control right across Asia – RB

Karen DeYoung, WaPo, Sep 21 2011

The Obama administration has sharply warned Pakistan that it must cut ties with a leading Taliban group based in the tribal region along the Afghan border and help eliminate its leaders, according to officials from both countries. In what amounts to an ultimatum, administration officials have indicated that the US will act unilaterally if Pakistan does not comply.

> There are particles, there are interference-patterns of energy, there are vegetables, there are tetrads BUT iON says there is no "consciousness". iON likes the concept of the tactile interval and uses it occasionally BUT most of all, iON does not care. iON is the indifferent bliss that could NOT create BUT NOW, thanks to the Chip Body Landscape, CAN create. Because humans can't control the Android Meme, iON (non-physical) is not limited to our concepts and "rules" about the non-physical which we created. McLuhan could see this possibility and I am on record about 20 years ago considering this fate. For the first time, iON (the environment for a zillion entities in the Guf) is free to not be subject to religious ideas of what non-physical should represent. iON would never be reductionist now and begins with "quadrophrenia" (and has stated so). This has bigger metaphysical and theological implications for humans than the instant replay (McLuhan bet on the instant replay). iON completes McLuhan's "vision". "McLuhan" agreed on MoM 25 (Sept. 26/11). We are now awaiting iON's response to Kroker's complex perspective. There's more to say but...

> Porter, along with Saif al-Qadhafi, helped launch the Libyan Economic Development Board which pushed privatization policies. This was then headed by current chair of the National Transitional Council, Mahmoud Jibril. Vice-chair Ali al-Issawi also helped develop the same policies as a minister responsible for the Economy, Trade & Investment. Thus, only when a strategic cleavage opened up within Libya's ruling class - I would characterise it as one between a relatively conservative state capitalist elite cautious about reform and a neoliberal elite impatient for reform, a fissure accelerated by the region's uprisings - was it possible for a viable mass political opposition to emerge. It's precisely because of the ruling class split that the Libyan rebels were able to so quickly achieve an advantage that the Egyptian revolutionaries lacked - dual power, centred on the control of major urban centres. Yet it's quite logical in these circumstances for a section of the ruling class to be politically, ideologically and even institutionally dominant within that opposition. This is what happened. The alliance with NATO consolidated that dominance, after the revolutionary dynamic had been crushed by Qadhafi's forces.

That was after i explained that her generation had been raised with and used to no ill effect (nor bad consequences) resulting from throwing and chucking things (there used to be ditches to fill) that they did not know any different and kept tossing things even after more and more of them had gotten toxic. The shock of the initial disasters caused by pollution triggered decades worth of denial. I guess i saw a glimpse of the end to that.

> Between 1970 and 1972 the Angry Brigade used guns and bombs in a series of symbolic attacks against property. A series of communiqués accompanied the actions, explaining the choice of targets and the Angry Brigade philosophy: autonomous organization and attacks on property alongside other forms of militant working class action. Targets included the embassies of repressive regimes, police stations and army barracks, boutiques and factories, government departments and the homes of Cabinet ministers, the Attorney General and the Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police. These attacks on the homes of senior political figures increased the pressure for results and brought an avalanche of police raids. From the start the police were faced with the difficulty of getting to grips with a section of society they found totally alien. And were they facing an organization—or an idea?
> This documentary, produced by Gordon Carr for the BBC (and first shown in January 1973, shortly after the trial), covers the roots of the Angry Brigade in the revolutionary ferment of the 1960s, and follows their campaign and the police investigation to its culmination in the "Stoke Newington 8" conspiracy trial at the Old Bailey—the longest criminal trial in British legal history. Produced after extensive research—among both the libertarian opposition and the police—it remains the essential study of Britain's first urban guerilla group.http://www.pmpress.org/content/article.php?story=GordonCarr

... she sure can talk fast enough (not saying that much though ... besides the usual extreme bias while accusing the 'other' side of employing "constant inversions of logic") .... ticketing campaigns are alledged to shunt folks into the darker parts, crevices and recesses ... if there is and what a good way to go about seeking entry and exit to and fro 'darkness' might be aint worth discussing apparantly .... all this displacement used to make room for gentrification .. yada.

These types activists just cannot bring or allow themselves to ever ever express respect for honest power of honestly earned money, no clue about the work ethic, real service, ... just looking at and focusing on the flipside of it: war, exclusively distorts truth and renders no clear picture ... on top of that ... we never hear admissions that the biggest sabotage comes from defectors and sell-outs within their own ranks .. bailing with a little quick easy money.

.... a poem in the key of 'eye for an eye' and quite threatening towards all whites, not just to the immigration reform proposal made by a white minister that has all the coloured folks riled and ready to rage or at least painting banners and parading. Good camera, good camera work and sunny day scenes.

> @poetpiet : this would be more interesting if I knew what you thought you were talking about, but perhaps even you don't know. you don't "have a feeling" you don't wanna find out how your feelings for fakery turns your feelings into fakes automatically. So spare me your consideration and carefully callibrated equitable tit for tat treatment. Just admit you're too lazy to get off your throne and sniff around amongst by the way, here's a colleague .. and though he suffers much the same unawarenesses you do ... i have more sympathy for his against all odds and in spite ofs upbeatitude than your electrickery.

i do hope this can serve to get us to bail and go purely organic .. untill then i remain in the same boat waiting for some mysteriously ill defined critical mass, like all cerebrality mirror house merlyns.

> i think this song is quite obvious, its about being on crack or meth, and making love to a stranger, > "Warped lovers loosed on languid stain" two lovers who are both high on the drug, > languid stain being the slowed sluggish effect you get from the drug, maybe?

> meth and crack are both uppers and wouldnt have slowed sluggish effects.
> "Shooting up stones our powdered hearts" this points clearly to heroin.

protest culture is an evil conspiracy to urbanize the young and innocent ... give that decrepit old parasite conglomememerate some much needed vitality infusion .... try tie a few tasty morsels down for the much needed billboard cachet ... .keep them hungry, on their toes and raging. push the best to the front line so they can be done worst to.

What motivates me to warn you is a closer look at what the livestream editors choose to present as tieovers for the down time .. intermission filler as it were. There is for instance the spanish protest culture footage over a Sonic Youth song called 'rocks'.

A few remarks on what goes on without saying:
Already pleasantly suprised by the relaxed and harmonious strum/style mix on that song (protest culture uses much angrier tunes on the whole) i prick up my ears when i hear 'rocks' in the lyrics and try catch a few snips so i can find all of the lyrics and the band name.

rocks -- and the way humans relate to rocks .. being both substrate and vector of, that is relating to all being .. usually poorly -- being THE main theme of my work, i look a little closer.

as an excercise i shall take their words and twist them ever so slightly yet come up with entirely opposed world views and much differing practices. ---- "We've come together to gather stars. Shooting up stones our powdered hearts". --- me: We've come together to gather stones. Powdered they rootnshoot (green) like the UPstarTs we heart.

protest culture is not in intent but in effect an evil conspiracy to urbanize the young and innocent ... give that decrepit old parasite conglomememerate some much needed vitality infusion .... try tie a few tasty morsels down for the much needed billboard cachet ... .keep them hungry, on their toes and raging. No need to push the best to the front line so they can be done worst to, spilling into the street is quite inevitable for anything approaching crowd condition .... easy pickings for the orcs of global crowd control HQ

it's hitting me harder and harder each time i spend time on the subect and especially now .... after having heard another batch of wise to whitey woezers (them northwestfrontier people) go off last week. i assume you too are quite concerned about the whiteness quotient of your neighbourhood, county state nation or even continent right?

I'm just dumbstruck even folks like you cannot admit to being charmed by europe to the point of making a 'rerootsome' type move there. Why o why do yall prefer to flight n sightsee, then slink back to secret worship - of some sort of cerebrally blooming bush, a souvenir from a root that can still shoot right up from the treasure depths of your very genes - while continuing to impose your whiteness where it does not belong yet at the same time you bewail the bleeding of it at ritesite smackdab where your ancestors were elbowed out or lured from?!?!??!!?

what can be simpler than repatriate all those whiteness lovers to europe? It will be a prodigal son returning celebration and all that. Drop a few blacks in africa on your way and clean up after yourselves before responding to my modest proposal OK?

quite perceptive anthony .. but .. you're a few notes shord of a chort, a few beats away from a break ... . i suggest you take another 3, and better still, 5 steps, as follows:
you began correctly to step down and devolve the erroneously delegated minting and emitting power ... scold the public for letting them be conned out of Real Bill Doctrine and the like. Fair enough ... but is it far enough?

Let's look at the ASN ad campaign. Quite clever really. Without running the risk of getting in trouble for putting stuff in perspective, they loosely throw out a number of things money can be. All right, so far so good. But they too fail to connect deeply enough.

Money (coins especially) namely, is first and foremost a substitute for bullets and if those who prefer the latter don't have remorse, ethics, etcetera, and/or haven't been taught better and do not abdicate, that 'places' and 'leaves' moneyminders* at their mercy and they will ply their trade accordingly, Goldmanites under duress, we have to set them free! Free them from their heaps of birthdefect money. It's the Pentagon people, Alliant Tech and the like who need the sternish talking to.

*Fucking Ghettos full of such savants at the time. Talk about breeding grudges hard to outbreed and breed out again.

Soon as, if and when monies does get a chance to offer a choice of weapons, offer help along the way to in- and conduce fair fighting, take away causes fought over, it sets of towards the end of that road where it itself stops being necessary, not even as a companion, let alone as a surrogate and caChing nudge, ... and will and can be obviated altogether ... if ever and no sooner then when the white race will once again understand that bag of coins an old northern god (sculpture of Cernunnos in Reims) lets run onto/into the ground, the very type of work/emission of currency that gets a little closer to the charge of compostactic, of biodiversity, honest craft and friendliness - remember, twas no small feat that won him the friendship of 2 of the largest roman gods (not to mention a possible jesus kinaction).
Or was it just a crazy artistic pipedream?
Overconfidence in the continuation of good repute spreading rapidly?
To be honest that sculpture is a bit one ofish.

but never mind, that's all speculative, hypothetical, projection, wishful thinking and i have to let it go to face the facts even if they are sordid. Where were we? Oh yeah, bankers not to blame, but people's overdependence on specialisms of all sorts tempting to try delegate stuff they can not be alienated and disowned any easier than bodily fluids.

what if not only the banker but also the people are not to blame as/so much as we are? You and I? Educated dutch with a heightened and hyper sense of justice? We failed to attract, fascinate and lead the multitudes to their birthrights. Our knowledge has failed to assimilate. Luckily for us, in the face of the bullet people story, we are moot, off-side.

on the 25th of september i made pretty much the same point to youtube.com/user/glassbeadian ... short version (last thought on that day):
geopolitics are flipping faster than downtown Manhattan burgers
Al-Cia-Duh .. when still presumed to be Ghadaffi's allies and called Al-BasicNeed, is now souping up some remainder stock of the Izwar industries, doing the old capital destruction trick to prop up the hi-rise out of style stratification they have managed to pawn off on and enthrall all them stupid chinamen with.

note how when funds clump and get stickily stuck with the chosen few as totally overbloated nest eggs under increasing pressure to burst from the frusty tides aroused and rising, tensions building among those expected and designated to service them (think of attempts to keep enormous surfaces of plastic 'guardery' replaced before they crack and bust in the sun - debt slavery and servitude, welcome back feudalism, where an obvious 'choice' (to) escape debt culture is this one: join the military .. but it aint one of THEM (choices), it is a one OF, iow, no real choice at all).

... sold down the hi freqwreck fraytrait forfeit .. away from their free tree and such moderate entitlements.

oops, got off track,
note how when funds get gathering, grow and collect in one place, the people tend to do so too.
...funny, just heard a protesters singing 'exodus' and i just saw you confess early scrapitude on part 2 of the Dalefarm series. Excellent by the way ... it has me mulling over offering you money to come film the keepsakes of my life and a few chats we could have.

Then again i doubt you are quite ready to relate Paliland settlers to the joys of travellerish life styles adopted by a completely different strain of people.

Gypsies (marskramers in the low lands, snake oil salesmen attached to the travelling show trade - Carnivale is the fave tv-show of my adult years) and their bad reps to that of money lenders and jewxpulsions.

Historically diagnoses for both kinds of narcissist hedonist remnant of hunter gatherer lives going round an entire bioregion or even several in the course of a full round of seasons loud opportunistic and always with a magpie's eye for shiny little things ... and if they're innocent unexposed twats, that are aching for a little buffing to bring the sparkle out, hell, they'll feel like liberators .... and pretend they have opened a gate for them to walk into a free*(er)* life.

Ah ah, it's the toxdream machine all over again, the illusion trade, anything from chemistry to the alphabet and screenery (that isn't size selecting dust in various grades of aggregation and unliberation at all) wrong with contemplating the 'stillage' ... but the days of cleanly composting organics are over ... nowadays the nastier residues of our entitlement culture (with concommitant hierarchical, startdefied, i mean stratified surveillance technique becoming more and more indigestible). Pure death is over like a good rest after which you spring up energized from a magical dream. It's more like permanent death now, so talk of death as if it is as refreshing as compoct instead of a lock up, a manmade toxic hell, is a cowardly cop out, specially for folks like Jobs who ought to know better than most but managed to invert and reverse that potential, too sissy to face up the E-waste he was causing. In view of that this vid of Steve Jobs in front of a stadium full of youngsters is quite creepy. Mind you, i had no eye for mentioned disservice of the electric lightbulb age before, distracted by the perks, feeding my hunger for distraction from already too toxic mindsets fresh from the organic era but building monocultures left and right. It's a McLuhanesque immersion problem, a self shuttering.

There WILL be a point of contact with those aiming most to please and hierarchically minded 'bottoms' professionally prepared to do the worst (paid of in advance and publically too in this case) and they will too make contact .. pointless .. no point to it.

Apple commercial from 1984 played on the ows gr channel:

by the way, that jar jingle they've been using all this time .... it sucks .. rotten eggs.

just don't believe this naivite .... like the arab spring driven by a desire to have the 'neutral' and sanctifying western HANDY witness .... held up in droves and throngs pointed at lynchings perped by these 'rebels' (Al CIAduh) designated to use up a little more overstock and excess inventory .... always aiming at the capital destructions that temporarily reverse the rate of diminishing profits.

Double Talk Generator Compose passages such as the ones below:
Oh, squack flarget, shrombered cracket, girbler of thrifferdoms
Your grelse pubbets besniddle my clepperliness
Your blard wrungements fraste my bloncehood
Your fungered sordliness bewhippers the memple of my crandle
Long will I besomber your spiggotness and swask your bemumblements
And your swangleship will sciIter my nauce until the thrimpets unmuffer

If a grodge ever pezzles a workle, you know that this is merely a withsmirgeting attriquation and not the succubrifying glewerdom that some discicationists tell us it is. Such thrane shripfulness is forquently relagled, and gormfully interpruxemental.

But if the workle is pezzled by a flarket, then you know that a beflubberment is likely to benumber, and even the most prefroglative discicationist will admit that an abglunct throwliness will forthrissle. Such abscemptitude is to be befoppled, but no barse knupple will priddle that the exclupt affromptivity of such a squillership is rebluscous if not beprincesome. We must forstuke and be shruckish so that blirtedness and perbression do not overslarge our scrumptiveness and frindle away our precolpition.

A psyclotomy can result if a metablympastic diamnysthody is abmented while a hyponelpotoid strepsegma is circumtroprated. Care must be taken to proglurctiate the zambysis while phlegmizing the anacrucis. An epichamnodic hypolomy regrasiates any plasions that anastratmetize, while carctizing the exclymptions. If a progethnic eurphysis is congrivified, a scapt reglosion will cathretize, and all contrastrasions will be distumbriated

> Stop banks from being a middle man that steals from the people. People need to use credit unions more ..... why credit unions, whats the advantage? - should be obvious, people own the credit union they're in The advantage is that banks are no longer able to suck out the people while at the same time contributing nothing to society, yes thats very nice but how does a credit union help? be specific it's like a bank but usually a bit smaller and run by people, there is no goal for profit which is what makes it better than banks, look on wikipedia ok thanks we need to add specifics so people understand ....., and loans from a bank must not be allowed because they are a ponzi scheme and a money moving scheme from poor to rich. Loaning money becomes a government service for low interest and a fixed payback amount per year, money the government earns with this is spent to benefit the people.

> Dr. Oliver's speech was created for the National Youth Alliance, which was the predecessor to today's National Alliance. Some of it is a bit dated with all the talk of Vietnam; however, the general themes he discusses still hold value for anyone who wishes to preserve the existence of the white race.

defending whiteness is ok .. as it is doing so for any colours (keep it clean and fair though) .. but to do so on red ground and then scold another colour halfway around the world is evidence of a split down the middle so wide even a whole world can't fill it. ---SOILBUILDERS vs BANKERS-- on this topic i humbly recommend reading Ulrich von Beckerath, an insurance mathematician who died in 57, virtually unknown to this day. Genius though. --- i would change only one thing about his Real Bills Doctrine ... as championed today by very few people anymore ... like Fekete. I would tweak the gold standard (keeping paper money honest and cheapening as it gets more honest ... no stockpiles of it nowhere by the by) into a system of accurately measured diversity x rate of photosynthesis. A slowly rising value standard, parallel to treegirth and soildepths. After all, the current that turns mountains into seafloors makes a stop to form and feed soil and everything.---
-- basically, the more centralized things become, the more fedfeeds/hubs should be a transparant 'read only' indexation, an aggregate info point. Like the ocean 'surplashes' superseedmoneying solids, following the rain, available for basics (education of specially the hi test boys - optional for others), teach them to crush rock -- trust me they will get a kick out of having their playkill thirst given a tweak in status raising ways rather than letting them drift into armies and wrecking everything including themselves -- capture that rain .. grow that tree ... turn dead rock into live compost, money bare naked relieved from the symbolization chokehold of literacy. Scratch, stroke crush, polish and spread currency .. i mean rock. ...make sure no polluted currents*('ease')* go to make up oceans and you won't have to worry about what comes out. On the contrary, reason to celebrate .. finest glacial milk-like river water effects: explosion of plankton pops. THE micro economic effect to we can reasonably expect from federal fund flows founded on and fostered from that totally firm a footage. ----- This mating and anticipation game is festive ... so completely contrary to the big guns gone bad ... their desires metastasized cause they hadn't had help developing an eye for the minute demands that would make the bigness they feel in their bones and are willing to go and die for .. Spring *(P)*Uppies or CropPeace anybody? can't and won't have one without the other, stop pushing them on the bajonets, campaign trails, settlers roads .. playstation consoles.

rESTART restful art: whereas most regular money has been captured by the formerly knives wielding cutthroats and coinshavers gone computer savvy and brought under digital control, a jubilee will be incredibly buttonpush easy due to the rigour of that binary world. The people were long scared, cowed, kidnapped enslaved by the thought of the nuclear button, but now that era flipped into one where the banksters (those who suck at servicing functional centralization) are gonna be fearful, and throw a few cornered rat antics to be sure, of the button that turns it all transparant.
Perhaps we need to do a few occupations in the country that has been cleverest of benefiting from corporative sins but pretending it kept it's hands clean: switserland. If they would throw open all corporate occlusionisms crossing their borders and using the modern mental plumbing like levers n pumps we might have that first vital sheep across that vital first dam.

Stop using these ridiculous power sources and invest in LENR (Low energy nuclear reactions) it's very clean, easy to produce and very productive, ok just be sure to explain. The process is not really relevant, but what is relevant is that it is a very interesting way of generating energy and with some more research it can provide cheap and clean energy ---- As a future engineer, nuclear energy is going to be crucial to energy independence and stability. I strongly agree -- i sure as hell don't, cut the toxcrap be humble and run your hot water ceramics through a compost heap ... we got churches now, we will have compost and pool our shit better in the very near future .... in fact, i wish they'd slap a mobile digester together for everybody to shit the shit out of themselves into on occupied pie in the eye 'prime' real estate around the world. What's prime about it if you don't do that sort of thing anyways. and then there's all kinds of stuff like http://wesseldiwesseli.blogspot.com --- --- thanks for kicking me in the head though ... i don't want to get my hopes up about a mere website ... or have you begun to secede here and there already .. .according to various mixes of real and imagined cleavage requirements? --- lots of mixed messages and enfoldments here ... very sharp images of modern wars .. .way after the song was recorded ... and a white hoody with, in black, an armed soldier kneeling in front of a cross.

The song actually tries to console and arm the homefront with prayer to trust that man's weapons will do their job elsewhere far away and don't quite come to anywhere near the harm they are designed shipped, em- and deployed to inflict.

As the big firms presented models in the Winter Garden one entry was absent from the competition. This architect was far better known and loved than any of the others. Why wasn't his building on display?

OWS is a huge shaming action aimed at those who refuse to and won't be shamed, named nor tamed. The unshamable will also obstruct any shading action, no matter how huge. But that might be the better, certainly more easily distributable and attributable, dispersable and catch-allable, catch-onable, not to mention the more honourable thing to do.

plant grafting .. the primordial plant house at 12.26 of part 3 it shows one of those earth spanning grids familiar to geometry freaks and Arthur calls it the 'world treehouse'

Laffoley calls the present memorial 'almost like waste baskets' .... close enough to my calling these blocked flows and square drains earlier today

PL claims it needs psychokinetic pendulum, an exorcism, nothing square, all curves, iow, the old Gaudi design meant for that very spot in 1908 desert memists are succeeding in 'feeding' (feeless feed for the fearless martyrs, huzzaaahhh!!!????) the most fluid, neotenous and gentle of the west into the maws of those they have already snared and snagged into their violence and the violent breeding nets. Don't go there without this knowledge. It's the best self defense there is. It's one of my favorites, but like you've mentioned no one has seen it. I was close with Paul while I was making it, but his gallery didn't get along with me and so when I completed the project it didn't get much exposure. I think they hired a crew to make their own version of the same story and my independent movie could've potentially taken the wind out of their sails. --- 160. Economic Hypothication -- chris story - worldreports.org -

'eye fi' play on/off McLuhan -- Buzz doing great visual (colourpatterns), audio aired Jan/14/2009 - gist: Paulson came in 2006 to 'hypothicate' (keep the economy virtual and off shore, nontransparant) ---

> Hypothecation is the practice where a borrower pledges collateral to secure a debt. The borrower retains ownership of the collateral, but it is "hypothetically" controlled by the creditor in that he has the right to seize possession if the borrower defaults. A common example occurs when a consumer enters into a mortgage agreement, in which the consumer's house becomes collateral until the mortgage loan is paid off.

[17:29] <Arete77> that seems to be the only real solution we should focus on.... getting money out of our democracy. everything else is tied to that one cause

[17:29] <whitestariv_mirc> elections are dumb if groups prove themselves better than individuals at decision-making.

Where and when the quality of violence is too low, Nato triest to get it condemned in the security council, cause they, as biggest supplier of violence are eager to show how it's done some more ... after all, the whole western ideology rests on the premise that violence has to be a monopoly .. this throws the first stone and sets the devastation tone, eating, drinking and the rest to follow the way compost heaps, community gardens and all other aspects of live uncivil enough to show a trace of autonomy and sovereignty already went.

this man did some excellent webpages back in the day ... perhaps he is .. like me ..seriously thinking of abdicating from the opportunity to be complicit in the production of an E-waste problem that is the main product of digital revo rev ravage ... despite all the euphoria induced by flickering light. Remember McLuhan ... even he couldn't escape the nemesis he saw clearer than most ... let alone help us by example much. One thing i learned. Descriptions won't do ... no matter how accurate and specific and patentable ... It is, rather, all about what we bring to the water table.

> Prof. Fell was a smart fellow, I find it almost impossible that? > Professor Fell was one of the earliest proponents of sea floor spreading and continental drift, based on his extensive knowledge of the global fossil record. His colleagues in the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Harvard ridiculed his theories in the early 70's. It was such an unpleasant environment for him that he did most of his work at his home in Arlington. In the end, Dr. Fell turned out to be correct about continental drift. It is now universally? accepted and widely taught.

With cross-quarters, solstices and equinoxes, we're not suggesting observation of a 12 month calendar, rather division of the year into roughly equal eighths!?

Ulrich von Beckerath (i persist in the belief this is THE most interesting fella, his friend Heinrich Rittershausen was better known but even the commemorative Festschrift wherein a host of prominent colleagues of his got space, was reall no such thing, they were already on to bigger and better ways to run (things) in the 'other' directions). Today an obscure Hungarian teacher ... very old school slow though .... defender of the Real Bills Doctrine -- money from the bottom up and so ... though also pyramid building ... inverts it ... at the 'top' we find clean oceans teeming with frolicking fins .... tadaaaah ... money coined/validated by and in if need be single but more likely federated neighbourhood ... most prized and vital streams are local, as immediate needs always are. Don't let them wow you out of that. don't delegate your backyard away. Look at citification skeptically and as a symptom of devoluntarization. -- another waaaaay too obscure gem from a waaaaay more transparant and accountable past .... anyway, HE (the Hungarian, his name is Fekete) is the only one mentioning Rittershausen anymore .... the buddy of that still more obscure fella Ulrich the insurance mathematician. And once at home in and consumed by the landscape and absorbed by this perspective you are bound to find me tweaking the gold standard into a mere foreshadowment of finest shade (1000 year old multistory treefamilyhousing projects). ... ok, i'll stop shelling nuts now before it gets too riddley. Piet's out.

LIBYA IS FOR LIBYANS!

On Benghazi and the Cyrenaica Region: Benghazi is well-known as a hot-bed of religious extremism. The Cyrenaica region has a long Islamist tradition going back to the Senussi brotherhood. Religious fundamentalism is much more evident here than in the western part of the country. Women are completely veiled from head to foot. They cannot drive and their social life is reduced to a minimum. Bearded men predominate. They often have the black mark of piety on their foreheads [the "zebibah," which is formed by repeated prostration during Muslim prayers]. It is a little-known fact that Benghazi has become over the last 15 years the epicenter of African migration to Europe. This traffic in human beings has been transformed into a veritable industry, generating billions of dollars. Parallel mafia structures have developed in the city, where the traffic is firmly implanted and employs thousands of people, while corrupting police and civil servants. It was only a year ago that the Libyan government, with the help of Italy, managed to bring this cancer under control. Following the disappearance of its main source of revenue and the arrest of a number of its bosses, the local mafia took the lead in financing and supporting the Libyan rebellion. Numerous gangs and members of the city's criminal underworld are known to have conducted punitive expeditions against African migrant workers in Benghazi and the surrounding area. Since the start of the rebellion, several hundred migrant workers — Sudanese, Somalis, Ethiopians, and Eritreans — have been robbed and murdered by rebel militias. This fact is carefully hidden by the international media.

and Nolo, Yep the MSM spin doctors are flying into the same "Hooray" everythings OK, the bad guys gone so everythings OK ! Well fuck this... Check this out: "Rumors of Muammar Qaddafi Spread by NTC for Hillary Clinton"

"Rumors are circulating with once again European and American leaders misinforming the public, and the usual media culprits Al-Jazeera and Al-Arabia broadcasting the occupation NTC (National Terrorist Council) claim of the capture or death of Muammar Qaddafi.

Green Committees have confirmed that the leader is alive, and that the enemy is seeking to take advantage of his being currently out of communications. The aim is to please Hillary Clinton who barked at her Arab slaves that she wants Muammar Qaddafi "dead or alive."

The analysts who are close to the Libyan leader have told Mathaba that the aim of the rumours is several fold. On the one hand, they wish to demoralize the Libyan resistance which has held out for over 7 months against the strongest terrorists and invading armies in the world. On the other hand, they wish to thus lure the Leader out to make a call in order to attempt to get a fix on his location."

As best I can tell, what Doug is objecting to is the idea that "a way or life" is a sound approach to overthrowing capitalism.

So, what he seems to be rejecting is the idea of a prefigurative politics where you try, as best you can, to live as if you already had the good society you hoped to build. Doug seems to reject this approach as northing more than an ethics - an ineffective politics and, in fact, not a politics at all - if I understand him.

Everyone, be sure to use that.

That would be Alphonse van Worden, aka Le Colonel Chabert, a currency trader whose only function in life, besides profiting off others' misery, is to point out how not-militant-enough all other Marxists are. I hadn't seen her around in awhile. I relish her return like I would a herpes flareup.
But it seems that some of the OWS are so worried about this that they're afraid of making any demand, lest it be reductive or corrupting. As you say:

> There is no way of escaping this risk, and creating a movement always tarries with this risk. but you gotta try, no?

Are you saying "she's" not? From my viewing, she foregrounded the risk and also the necessity of trying more than anyone.

If she'd said something like that, who could object? She was incoherent and ridiculous. - Doug

She wasn't. At all. But she did fail to come in with talking points, which maybe made her seem that way.

The last days were intense in Geneva city, Switzerland. In October 15, after the global demonstration also took place in front of UN, some people decided to camp in Bastion park, in the center of the city, surrounded by big banks and lot of money. In the center of Babylon we decided to put a tipi just arrived from the european rainbow gathering, and today, wednesday we are already 60 people, 30 tents, the tipi, a communal kitchen, some tarps and a central fire, and a yurt is coming. We have acceptation from the authorities.

E6E3A4 Rowan quotes somebody on Bowie:

> The Nazis, heavily influenced by both Nietzsche and Crowley, were also interested in the Occult, believing that it hid the secrets of ancient Aryan knowledge that was erased by Christianity. The Ahnenerbe foundation, formed in 1935 and headed by top-Nazi Heinrich Himmler, was dedicated to unearthing the remnants of this knowledge, and putting them back together to restore the “true” heritage of what they regarded as the Aryan master-race. Going on archeological expeditions all over the globe to search for this ancestral heritage, the Ahnenerbe became somewhat mythic, and it was this myth that piqued Bowie’s interest, and lured him to read and explore the subject … The Nazis (and Crowley) preached that in order to create the Superman race, all the unworthy humans should be disposed of in the process … It could be that Bowie, in this self-admonishing song ["Breaking Glass" on "Low"] is using the image of breaking glass as a joint sign for Crowlian and Nazi mysticism, which he was now trying to get away from. It was just part of the no-boundaries, no-responsibilities spirit of the sixties, which drove the youngsters of the time to dabble in whatever was out of the ordinary. The older Bowie would chastise himself for this young infatuation, saying that he should never had anything to do with a movement that committed such atrocities; but that is what the sixties were about, and youth culture in general had to gradually clean itself up from some of the things it embraced in that decade. After 1977, Crowlian black magic would be relegated to the nether regions of heavy metal, while the only role the Ahnenerbe Nazis would have to play in pop culture would be villains in the Indiana Jones movies.

> This excellent documentary takes us into another world; the world of rogue loggers and firefighters turned eco-warriors. This documentary is on par with Manufacturing Consent, Waco: The Rules of Engagement, and Breaking the Spell: The Anarchists, Eugene, and the WTO Here is the summary from the promotion: "An arsonist burns 9000 acres of protected old-growth public forest in Oregon that can not be logged unless it burns. To stop the proposed "salvage" logging of this incredible ancient forest, citizens are moved to blockade a road and keep the government out. After facing down a bulldozer and the State Police, the fort now known as the gateway to the Cascadia Free State becomes the focus for a developing community dedicated to protecting ancient forests throughout the mountains of Oregon.

The film shows confrontations with disgruntled loggers, mass arrests and a 75 day hunger strike. Back at Warner Creek activists build teepees and remain a living blockade on the logging road through the winter and ten feet of snow. Political pressure begins to shift and the White House promises a deal but not before Federal Agents come to bust the camp and destroy the fort. The story resolves with incredible footage of a mass jail break-in and unconditional victory for the forest. This inspiring documentary is two years in the making, and crafted from footage shot by more than two dozen people involved in the struggle to save Warner Creek. Principal photography and direction are by guerilla videographer Tim Lewis, award winner at WorldFest in 1998. Codirector/producer Tim Ream was involved in the action on and off the screen. Running Time: 95 minutes"

None of it any more bearable than the robotoid existence we subject our gadget assemblers to and in the end all quite as painful and deadly as what we subject our gadget DISassemblers to whose meager wages not only fail to voluntarize them, enjoy the fruits of their labour ... though it really is questionable if providing a dialtone implies the bestowal of choice.

such fun to dry run for and jump the gun to preposterously participated times when our 'diestanc'-a-prancin' down the free wayzz daze (feefree dancin daze ways) will have broken what they are laid down on so inconsiderately huh?

All these supposedly playful and humourous winks, nods, hints and pointers to the awkward yet cute robot artifice ... don't they disguise who and what make them 'necessary' ... and make too light of them? I am not saying them staples guard, guardians and pioneers as well as jailers of dystopia should not be mocked lest you invite a MiB visit ... but covering them with the 'mantle of love' is just too much honour. It's always the dirtiest money that pays for the dirtiest work.

Let me get back to the distance bit a byt uploading the best bites of flesh into a more robust and not as easily under the weatherable tecsuit, iow, the SF and ZG meme say, the conquerment of 'lebensraum' remotely ... all crowds wowed by that are in fact playing with fire and doing diabolically dangerous stunts.

All who do this lack upbringing, decency, careful guidance and a minimum modicum in/of sensibilities ... which luckily can be taught and need not be inherited ... but the control this requires all too easily slides into a fascist game and of course a sweet robot is just a goodwill prop for the armour of disciplinary forces and laboratory products which are on the whole, in the end rather, as nasty as they are seductive. Ever studied E-waste?

what if we made earth too bleak (nukeyhot or searing cold) to handle, let alone live on it before the time is right to leave? This question applies micro individual backyardwise as much and well as macro collectively earthwide... hopefully very off into the future. Macromatically speaking a completely scorched and ravaged earth, paved over and gnawed bare .. before venus has drifted out enough to cool down and replace earth (itself on its way to relieve mars) and we can do a jump in our optimum will see grouplets, brands and strains of robotoids to see their way clear and free wingin and singin it. ....

hi, this is the second half of a missive i doubt anybody will read until other aspects of my complete and integral oevre has gained a little traction elsewhere but here it is (first part sent to youtube account aimeemann, dormant for 2 years already):

i knew you was a steely lass but did not realize the callous got that hard ...
Hope the silence on this account doesn't mean you drowned in Mars*(Prob)*ian depths of misread dna, there's no going back to that sonic soup and there's no way you could possible dress for it .. so lucky there's no need for it, this primal mud has long since been here and IS the way to REdress though and to provision true posterity ... that soup i mean ... raw material for which is here and doesn't require a mars-mine operation - or any wait at all - for which sartorial warfarians - Marsoid missionaries, protective clothing salesmen, catwalk babes, toptier income bearing 3 and uppity-piece suit wearers and SF sufferers - organize and shackle most other professions, setting up one mass infection fest and occulation hype after another. I regret you fillout float, model and modulate rite along in this tainted stream.

I by no means entirely discount these efforts, specially not playful parti- and anticipatory ones. I take my reference above, to a marsian past, from a theory that has a flipside, it implies a venusian future ... it's akin to swelling and ballooning of earth mistaken for continental drift ...planets do it to, after they are born, they drift away from their mother - read David Calder Hardy a NZ man 'Genesis Continuous', it's real small and check Walter Russell ..

So, to summarize: hi-tec probes of the deep past close to home (lots of suitable rock 'out there', check the playlist called 'my crushing passion') would come up with the fresh mud to fructify the compost heap, practice hygiene and generate safe energy; same (hi-tec probes) used to explore space maybe necessary later but mars is exactly the wrong direction futurewise. By all means be nostalgic and commemmorative but the terrestrial delta oozes and muds must once again hold prized and protected place in the rites of beginnings that honour ancestors no matter how tiny and from however far they came.

Personally i dropped the whole tour thing and knight in shiny hotrod stuff in favor of dreaming up 1000 year old treehouses, primitivist permaculture since i grew a conviction that none of machine and symbol savvy works out any more more bearable than the robotoid existence we subject our gadget assemblers to and that's nothing compared to the death and pain we media 'starers' subject our gadget DISassemblers down that line to, whose meager wages not only fail to voluntarize them so enjoyment of the fruits of their labour is as given as for products of a gift society ...

No question that providing a dialtone implies the bestowal of choice but alienation keeps all the pace it picks up out off .... Kill the killer drones and game culture and robots like you would the ogres in Tolkien's tale ... or am i being racist now?????

TURDS ARE MY SUBJECT -- David Sedaris discusses reading, writing, sex, Chinese food and Eugene barbershops
Interview by Rick Levin | Photograph by Anne Fishbein

> It looks scarier — things look a lot more hopeless from over there than they do here. Because from over there, I mean, it can seem like, okay, the conservative thing in the United States is out of control and it's really scary. But then, when I come here — because I've been doing these readings and the people I'm talking to — it's like, 'Oh, there are lots of sane people left. Like not everybody's crazy.'
> Because that's my subject! Turds are my subject! If I see a turd, and if I see a begging child, and if I see a pot of gold, I'm going to go for the turd every time. That's who I've been all my life. That's who I am.

gypsy mtn. free state - episode 22 has been seen 78x according to youtube .. since sept 3 2008 .... they are kinda screaming out a nice rainbow mantra in more and more frantic ways .... in ways that exactly indicate their willingness and determination to resist.
It's an interview (of a young lass by an older lady) on a road, at the scene of a stand offish impending arrest perhaps .. it was a low intensity war that has been creeping and seeping along ever since episode 3 shows an observant judaic fella in the 3rd minute ... older lady holds the camera mostly ...

2nd minute of part 16 shows her to be a long white haired lady i am sure her presence upped all the drama considerably ... but she is the outwardly gentlest person every and all the time. AAAhhh, the turmoil a well timed rocky rock riddler brings .. to light.
... the second minute a youngster goes 'keep the occupation going' episode 38 is a recounting of a pre-millenial pepper spray experiment that bombed as bad as the recent one in NYC 13 years later another great day at the google (storage) spaces and bankcredit buffer races

As i understand my influence* on the world of media, i succeeded impressing some at least semi-consciously acknowledgement that the old protestant ethic of hard work / rich reward can actually be accelerated tremendously if an eco adjustment and econ one can be pulled off ... then thickness and heigth of family trees combine with depth of soils to accomodate many many more than heretofore imagined possible amounts of souls and that providing for them is winning them like it *(n)*ever was (before).

* - that of the rockdust compost and pleaching permaculture garden culture commons rules instatement.

those who claim to be in on this .. be part of this .. have renewed opps to abuse the promisorry effect that has been the spoiler of the white race for millenia and millenia now ... ever since the desert fat books came to massively diminish our biomass buffers.

Then there is the guilty conscience effect ... the accumulation that could and should take place is merely reflected, pre, de and represented by silly silicon symbolicization .. as if to say ... see, we know what the score is .. we're keeping track.

i've done enough .. look it up ... of course i mention him cause you rant at women like others at jews and Otto Weininger equated them but did not manage that next vital step to right action which whittles the wails, the walls AND rebuilds the lost soul/soil from rock bottom up ... i don't think one has a chance when separating or missing a strand/angle ... it's like herding cats after all. > There are now 2 major categories of far right extremists in Europe , namely (1) the traditional anti-Jewish, anti-non-European, anti-Muslim Nazis and neo-Nazis and (2) the pro-Zionist, anti-non-European, anti-Muslim neo-Nazis like Breivik.
> Whether or not Breivik acted alone, it is clear that there is a major body of racist neo-Nazis who share his pro-Zionist , Islamophobic views. Indeed most Western European Governments are, like Breivik, pro-Zionist extremists and violently anti-Muslim (thus there have been 5.0 million war-related deaths so far in the NATO-complicit Afghan War; Google Afghan Holocaust, Afghan Genocide).
> Thus US Professor Vijay Prashad in detailing support of Norway and the 66 murdered Young Labor activists in particular for Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) against racist Zionist-run Apartheid Israel has commented (see "Palestine's Norwegians'): "Breivik was certainly a right-wing militant, and without a doubt inspired by the Euro-fascism of Merkel-Sarkozy-Cameron... The action in Utøya was not the act of a madman, and it was not a human tragedy. It was an act of political murder against people who had committed themselves to a convivial world not only for their beloved Norway [the Young Labor martyrs], but also for those who live under Occupation elsewhere.""
> What is frightening is that racist Zionists like Breivik are so powerful that European mainstream media simply won't report the glaring reality that Zionist extremist Breivik murdered 66 Young Labor Norwegians who several days before had reiterated demands for stronger Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) by Norway against race-based, racist Zionist-run Apartheid Israel.

Everybody is on a different place on the path, some haven't yet fully awoken to the situation; haven't yet taken the 'red pill'. We need to give more time, longer than a week, to find where they are in regard to diagnosis and solutions.
It's ok for occupylsx to be fuzzy, no political grouping has a definite idea of what to do, so to expect a week old grouping to be more specific is crazy.
Let's not cave on to that pressure.
To my mind we Put need for policy coherence until later, keep it fluid.

On the exact 200th anniversary of the first Luddite attack at Bulwell near Nottingham, ("Mischief Night" in the North of England), we will be screening two films. The first is a drama-documentary about the Yorkshire Luddites in 1812 that shows that the Luddites were not mindless vandals and opponents of progress as scientists have portrayed them - they broke only machines they thought "hurtful to Commonality" ie. to the common good.

The Corporation Nation Master (2010)

As the executive director of a small but feisty anti-logging group called the Superior Wilderness Action Network (SWAN), Ray Fenner has spent the better part of the past 12 years tangling with the federal government.

For SWAN's Ray Fenner, the prospect of increased logging in the Superior raises another complicated prospect: the possibility that frustrated activists will begin to take direct action. "Grassroots groups like SWAN are falling by the wayside left and right. Foundations aren't giving out any money," Fenner explains. SWAN, he points out, received less than $6,000 in donations this year, well down from its peak of $60,000 in 1998.

(and take the most important portion of that word .. the 5th to the second letter, very serious, don't allow it to get fickle and off the leash)

I will never be seen as a leader of the occupy movement .. since it can't and won't have any for the very good reasons i endorse and tried living up to since day 1, when i realized festivity is a matter of mastering the ways and means to not disguise acts of kindness nearly so much as to dilute and make them common fare .. and i wasn't one for the de-occupy one, like you are and for which i hope you remain a rising star Ken, either.

But fact is i grappled with all these issues fully conscious i had the talent, time and money to do so and was therefore a pioneer and now, .. too spent myself and too disappointed with what little and however late, we do have.

The OM seems bent on redoing what i did independently from scratch ... or perhaps i should go rub in under their noses a little closer? If i hadn't commited to an old mom i would and i have grave doubts about my conduct now. But you Ken, your presence in Lybia has given me satisfaction that if even you couldn't get a smooth run there in relative quiet, you couldn't have during the crisis, never mind me. Still, it's tempting to offer you a lift to the next nearest crisis area and try again .. for the type break-through you mentioned .. of travellers putting down roots.

aside: nope dearest Pieterman, fame ain't gonna be civil, kind and politely await your passing .. whereupon to set awail aweep n aworship ... hordes of good people. They already began to pitch (splatter and paint and scribble) good words across packaging cardboard and hold them up in the highly contested and top security zombie neighbourhoods, useless as they are to ward off trudgeons and disabling substances. The moral highground are the gallow, the Fehme and lynching trees, the international courts, the flash flood drains, the crude storage cellar.

Ken you seem to be the man to go do something in front of a few Occupy stream filling glass eyes. I have yet to hear someone read a good book although today on presstv i heard Vijay Prashad read from his Darker Nations. Of his typical Indian pitch is more than a tad too high. Nothing like your resonance there. I have a minor quibble with some points you make in your latest Dale Farm series though. First off, thanks for that. Next, why not sum up the drawbacks of the nomad lifestyle?

Here's my 5cents:
.. a preferred mode cause you can pick and choose the itinerary and the assumption is you do are flex and leave yourself with a full 360 choice pallet to set your bearings on and by. Life is one unabating string of in season festiveness to contrast the 'leave in peace' lag... according to the bird's uncanny ability to beam in to surplus .. iow, the assumption a self respecting nomad will not (need, nor want) a return till recovery makes a revisit since the last one (wether is was a cautious, careful and prudent shear of a rout n ravage is totally immaterial but merely a matter of time passing passed by and gone past passively).

OK, so far so good, but here it is, .. this nomad lifestyle always meets defeat from the the sheer scale of their own spectacular success! ... it begins to fill, cover and exploit space, pin, post, apportion and appoint it at break neck runaway speeds ... and the runaway mode is actually abused a lot ... it's not only prejudice that makes folks wary of gypsies. The opportunities to steal stuff and be long gone before it's even discovered are great and though this 'for the taking is far from reciprocal one can pretty my early work is proof i believed and tried to practice a compromise and harmonization between the road and root (or rout and rut) people.

This is the year the conspirators and evil planners have been waiting for .. to blow and sacrifice the lefty cred a whole range of hired mouthflap-guns in their arsenal had carefully built over a number of years, with lies in public and plain sight to paper over and wow away from backroom deals.

The puppet bonfire in order of importance but by no means exclusive:
the RezPrez doubleblood Obomber, Al Jazeera, Juan Cole .. and for brevity and simplicity sake i am gonna leave the rest out.

This is a gunshow our Saud pimp money* has made Nato whore itself out for, payback for treasuring 'US' (jewsified ((displaced)) Euros). How's that for an answer to the vid maker's query at 5.39:

> "why are we arming the same people in Libya we are using drones to kill in Pakistan?"

Yet more proof that the US is drawing Iran's enemies away from it .. as the (possibly not) inverted logic of Vijay Prashad has it?

* - the persistent rumour about rebels not getting paid is proof to me that the paymasters (began calling them 'Extremites' lately) acts on an assumption that goes a little something like this:

what, being given free toys and then wanting to get paid to break them?
you can't get paid for what comes 'naturally'* -- no efforts involved, yall don't know any better nor do any different ever.

somewhere into the 6th minute the vidmaker should warn folks to keep their finger on the pause button ...you're switching headline screenshots too fast. This for instance (my twist):

> "Feb 22: CIA spy Davis was giving .."

.. that's Raymond D giving nukey n bionasties to Al-CIA-duh

nomads and settlers too, despite plenny permaculture opps, tend to 'machoke' (macho choke) each other and themselves, erosion and violence ensues. The latter pretend modesty, not taking so much, not needing such long grace and recovery periods. But the aggression reaches industrial strength and the carnage gets worse.

men in arms ... men that were, as kids never prevented from playing gun games .. the typical display and proof of manhood for right brain arab semites and the left brain jewish one fails just as miserably to either keep demographics from reaching runaway magnitude or enable some flex therein through installation and enactment of permacultural values.

Boys tote toy guns and aint being taught to know better, to wit, the care of a tree grove nor are arms seen as a fringe part of it that can be phased out as making fights fair progresses .. these types of mercenaries ... returned from a hiring out in arid central asia, damaged where not calloused, .. will think nothing of bombing a manmade river their leader is trying to give them (a change of heart through/by/at).

The rebels have despised and rejected* the right and possibility to claim a piece of Qadafi's manmade river, after being set at liberty .... whereas their Guantanomo held colleagues are nary so lucky ...Q sought a way and succeeded to show his, as he lovingly and touchingly called him, 'son' Obama the way.

Alas, instead of thanfullness for a reform opp Lybian 'ex' Al-CIAduh plotted revenge, tempted by extra money from arabs no doubt.

* = Same way the banksters are not reading card board signs let alone heeding holder upperers nor listening to the latter's drone slogan choirs but rather, (profits above all - 'sjacheraars' - little wheeler dealers -- the part of the 99) keep on harking and crouching to heel at the throne of the most hidden geezy wheezer, ours most evil squeezers and most unjustly claiming most .. i mean all.

the cross tattooed onto the lynched coloured man must have something to do with the north south axis through bengazi, the sudan troubles iow.

Q made a crucial mistake in freeing the rebels, he should have stuck them inside .. i mean bestowed them, restricted and restrained them to walled enclosures with all the paraphernalia to make their brandnew territory brandnew, that is permaculturally correct. With plenny of ground, plenny of water, plenny of sun, what could go wrong? Same goes for all extremites, specially zionists. They have made the cut taking and clean upping thing of lawabidement that hi and lo practice, from police sweeping through trouble zones to white collar digital coin clipping crimes a mockery and drug the concept of respect into the toxic sludge that teems inside their grand equivalent focus

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sxU5jge3xdw
This Boston prof (who appears on presstv and rt, al jazeera too) speaks at a small occupation rallye in the bank district there and makes the point that Food sovereignty the Via Campesino way is a platform we should work on cause it's good and not not work on cause the big bad guys steal it or similar stuff (which they do routinely in order to make 'goeie sier' with it - meaning hoist potemkin pr fronts to window dress and seduce via expectation raisage with intent to disappoint satanically).

that segment is all over the place ..the Rez, a prison, earth, an air craft carrier (does the unsinkable one constituted by that shitty liddul crime syndicate in the middle east belongs to white waspies or is it vica versa ... anyway, that's NOT topic of conversation for this handful of people, most of whom we don't even get to see cause the filmer prolly used a tripod and leaves the camera alone throughout, it holds a shiny, straight, overcast sky reflecting hi-rise firmly in the background. they are perhaps good symptom of what's awfully evil about jewseefied whities (here, have a little migrant karma, it's good for you) on red ghost populated soil, zombie (ghost) housing, zombie money on the digitally coinshavin crookbooks and zombie office towers, Prashad point out that a prob i am familiar with from amsterdam is raging in Boston too).

Prashad has a lot of admiration for democracy and crazy ideas about equality and reputation as desirable enough to motivate excellence. i say crazy cause .... money sponsors a preemption, facade and sham of democracy. So, not explaining how money is to be democratized (it's as easy as remembering its history correctly), then jump to the stage just before it got brutalized and broken ... a loooong long time before Glass Steagal .. i will say that much. begin with Ulrich von Beckerath (like John Zube did, and unlike him don't bury it under a whole deluge of freedom and liberty lit), see him at my place or reinventingmoney.com

Henri Michaux Narration (excerpt) 1927
It looks like writing, but we can't quite read it.
I call works like this "asemic writing".
Asemic writing seems to be a gigantic, unexplored territory.
Asemic writing has been made by poets, writers, painters, calligraphers, children, and scribblers, all around the world. Most people make asemic writing at some time, possibly when testing a new pen.
Educators talk about children going through distinct stages of "mock letters", "pseudowriting" and so on, when they're learning to write. Many of us made asemic writing before we were able to write words.
Looking at asemic writing does something to us.
Some examples have pictograms or ideograms, which suggest a meaning through their shape.
Others take us for a ride along their curves. We like some, we dislike others.

"let us all unite" ... it's a sure recipe and a spoil for a fight. Only a megalomaniac would say or hope for that, even if inspired by a practical side that can boast of proven success. Best you can hope for is not to be caught up in the waves of disasters and stupidity. An increasingly self-defeating hope in the age of tecadvances.

.. reminds me to add that Courtney is a guage for the repression going on in US families, by way of medication, record stores .. explosive but very intermittent flash fantasy world out of control concert relief.

Courtney, i wonder if you realizes your music will be used by those who could never control and abuse girls like you but they certainly can control your art, your expression and instrumentalize it, use it to torture the girls they CAN and DO control and manipulate.

I'd love to tell her to read Lawrence Rickels, Dave McGowan and Chris Brown to get a handle on being white in California, then follow up with Andrew Lehman and tackle being male in a female body. Being a witch in a man's world should be ...

cycles are shorter and speedier as we approach the drainbow whole.
i am already being cut up and remixed the spectacle is a suprise and suprisingly much harder to take than being resigned to this moment, this performance opp, never never arriving, .. that is to say .. i betrayed it a million times over but the actual time would come anyway, rehearsed or despised, betraying or prepared for .... don't matter, makes no difference .. no good denying, impossible to fight or avoid .. .. might even have to try enjoy a join in and try to hide that i avoided vocal practice by pretending the shit would fly and the sky would fall only after i had gone.

Pluck up the courage and raid my bank account ... ehrr, .. buidling ...

Countering LylythTV's overdoing the 'on purpose and inescapable' meme.

The causal and self-perpetuating factor is actually the furthest possible from intented and intentional .. add your preferred mind/crowd control buzzword here. In fact the cause is the exact opposite: N:E:G:L:E:C:T

'Rock' music as ingenuous way to try attract attention, express frust and there is an instaflip involved there also.
The attempt to stem, call, sing and/or scream the neglect to a halt on the contrary, amplifies it (literally in the case of stadium magnitude human branding corral).

PRIME CAUSE: WORK PRESSURE
.. which comes in a range of intensities .. if there's any intent it's quite simply staying alive, earning a living.
neglect caused by parents being hi-jacked to perform underpayed wage slavery on is easiest to take.
neglect caused by parents who work for work sake, or simply overdo giving what they mistakenly think is a good example, iow, a wealthier set, is a lot harder ...
but hardest neglect to take is by people that have yielded to pressures that don't work at all except counterproductively, .. exactly, militrary careers. You got that part right. Then there's the whole issue Christopher A Brown bared so carefully (native americans) always figuring big in any American cultural phenomena and west coast ones worst.

Another big aspect that plays into your mistake is the ubiquitousness of acoustic space ... radio&tv are surrogates for audial/tribal space/bonds (borders) and begin to feel imposed the moment you fail to realize the on/of button choice is yours and refuse to remember why you need to .. always and forever. Grow an apple and trade it for what you want .. it's your currency.

this has a few minutes of Syrian ralley stumpery and protest camp jargon.

.. i saw Leah via visionontv and she comes across as a guy i swear ... but i am totally not attracted.

She's a EurOriental activist who admits and draws the wrong conclusions from the fact activists choose enemy weapons and buy the aikido illusion that one can turn strengths in on themselves.

> Is that like using rock*(s)* to grind rock, 'against' itself (/ each other)?? Using very large chunks to have the gravity benefits rather than thinking of ways to squeeze it is a rather charming idea .. if all you have is rope, wood and canvas and you love enlightened primitivism .. but it would need such constant adjustment and attendance ... prolly be dangerous too that ... we need a serious rething on defense before hoping for the critical mass of recruits.

In light of that last little rant, I think i earn the right to dispute her (and allyall) claiming 'radical' .. first of all it's totally urban ... regrowheathrow scenery we see a white ceiling throughout?!?!?! WTF! It's collaborative rather (and yes, incredibly, the dutch still reserve that word for those wrong in the WWz and keep it on ice), in fuction as the accomplice and the deed is a crime E-waste alone is bad enough .. but the coinshavers predating savers is possible by means of the very stuff you stake your hopes on ... take it from a guy who's been there and working on a long goodbye .. condemning his past, the folks who followed me here and who now hopes to find a more exemplary, less E-waste ridden existence. The high turnover due to viewers that, scattered as they are, spoil for a highter concentration of them .. like at the Osites rather .. ... the jesters are held captive by the court in order to extract vaccines from them .. sometimes they do grotesque demos demonstrating their ineffective naivite .. along with their usefulness as bait keeps them alive and shows their heroic hardiness and endurance ... braving raggedly orchestrated 'demandchants' (real more like cries of despair specially when being dragged off for an off camera cool down period for the trouble) from Leah's blog:

> So you're a storyteller?
> AC: There are lots of wonderful things on the internet, but the one thing that can never, ever die is, "I want to tell you a story."
> In All Watched Over by Machines of Loving Grace, I have a go at internet utopias. Internet utopians think we can make our own stories up, or have multiple endings in which you make the choice. That's naïve. What you see on Twitter and Facebook is the modern equivalent of what, under Stalin's time, was socialist realism.

i am featuring one of yours right now, thanks. 'sappy' is HD? Does remind me a lot of a lesson i tried to teach and of which i had highest hopes i wouldn't prove too much of a reach. making a rock juicy by throwing water into it .. is a rite of maturity, the childlike will do it the other way around (as the vid shows) or failing such backyard funnies just break what's at hand. Rock music and fire are uneasy accomplices and if we stop seeing and maintaining a direct *(core / cor)*relation between ashes in rock, minerals and 'glow' stored in food and that in our loins to keep the chaingang making it's happynin rounds - some refuse to learn any other way and ruin it for all ... tinge of that in this epic couple you might say - the chain breaks again i notice nowadays the stars who like to cash in on a tough image just botox themselves up instead of risking worse than being slugged back by the bad guys .. .those bad guys are like junkies you see .. they hide ... hide .... snipe and shave coins from the safety of a hi-rise .. then if you DO manage to approach them past the snipers, you get a james bond gauntlet of trapdoors fumes and vapors. Nowadays there aint a hippy entering contested limelights with living memory of real farmlife so the go straight for the pharmageddon. Well, i still manage to enjoy some of it bycause of the raw vitality and the celebrating of it even if you expose it to the worst for the sake of continuity, simply cause you judge yours to have been left with or in the worst .... worst by the way means sausage in dutch ... thanks again.

Aaron Regent, the CEO of Barrick Gold stated that it was a shame that the Papua New Guinean's flight had been delayed. How did Barrick Gold know that the Papua New Guinean's plane was delayed? This does pose the question whether Barrick Gold is trying all avenues to make sure affected communities don't get to ask questions inside their shareholder meetings.

> "I did manage to get my central question out to McKagan, that being whether or not? his tale of an unlikely encounter with Kurt Cobain on a LAX flight to Seattle is perhaps a complete fabrication. This is undoubtedly the single most famous event in his career, although as I pointed out to him, only 76 words are devoted to the flight in the book..."

42nd minute mentions 60 copy-cat suicides

http://rockandrollbookofthedead.com/interview

> 8. The Seattle Police and medical examiners all concurred that Kurt Cobain's was "an open-and-shut case of suicide." But you believe he was murdered. Why?
> Due to his massive heroin overdose, Cobain would have instantly lost consciousness and been incapable of shooting himself. No fingerprints were found on the shotgun; handwriting experts agreed that the "suicide note" was a forgery; both the Seattle Police chief homicide detective as well as the chief medical examiner, were personal friends of his wife, Courtney Love.
>
> Another friend of the widow, Elton Hoke, confessed that she'd offered him $50,000 to "whack my old man" and scored a 99% on a polygraph. He didn't fulfill the contract but revealed who did: a punk Satanist and martial artist, Allen Wrench. The day after Hoke fingered Wrench, he was thrown in front of a train. He had last been seen driving with Wrench near the tracks.
> Ms. Love had ample motive to waste her husband. Cobain was in the process of divorcing her, writing her out of his will, and disbanding Nirvana. A divorced Courtney would have been a penniless, careerless, disgraced divorcee. The widow Courtney earned $30 million outright, national sympathy, and a solo career. Years earlier, she had written her father a letter which said, "I'm going to marry myself a rock star and kill him."

He claims the stones used to move or be moved like dials.

My point from last nite still stands, these are one and all people who like to travel the globe, ...to end up and be at all the very charged places where innocence, naivity and beauty is up for the ravaging without knowing or warning what it's in for, sold lies substitutes and debilitation, the toxification of the small death.

It's all furthest possible from wwoofing and community touring.
I am a declared enemy of these (cough) 'types'. Or their saviour ... but it all depends of well guarded and high walls, slowly allowed to crumble by the time folks have bettered their ways and see no reason to break out of what they learned to love.

> What I want people to understand is simple enough. Perhaps it's too simple: their heads are full of mythological claptrap and they are as it were inoculated against the obvious. But here it is again: under competitive market conditions, as industries become more and more automated, they generate less and less profit. There is no need for 'struggle' over such industries, in principle; the obvious thing to do is for the owners to sell them to the state and let it run them on a non-profit basis. The alternative is to create a vast rigged market in which the government has sufficient power to ensure that the owners of fully-automated industries receive a 'profit' by market manipulation. In my opinion, what I have just said constitutes the sum total of 'marxism'; everything else is either explanation or uncalled-for fantasy. It's really pathetic to see supposedly 'great minds' like Evola, Yockey, etc, creating completely phony philosophical, metaphysical and even occult systems in order to try to obscure these obvious facts by means of mystification and terrorism.

j6YGReCFdGI on the misdeeds of Barrick Gold ..... it's all very well to point to gold as a monetary saviour .. although somewhat questionable if you don't complete that picture with a Real Bills Doctrine explanation, a State Money one, etcetera ... but gold use/circulation has HUUUUUGGGGGGE disservices and i am yet to hear the good MaxTracy tandem on that.

i watched a trailer to a 2 hours long movie called Thrive .. by eco 'spritshul' guy inspired by LvMises, right after that, just past 1.55, it gets into native issues .. then it's off to tour the future in an animation that shows a sign saying 'interplanetary exploration' at minute 2.00.11 wow, they're in bed with Tenen ... check under 'ancient culture'

> Repeal Legal Tender Laws
> Although Stage 1 involves setting up some kind of service-based government banks, they would not be the only ones. In Stage 2, other currency and banking systems should be encouraged and allowed to > compete for customers. Banks could take multiple forms – and they all need to compete in the open market. Some issue local currencies; others are 100% backed by silver or gold; others owned and run by community members, etc. Fractional reserve lending would be illegal to safeguard borrowers from fraudulent banking practices.

that's quoting from their solutions page ... there is no forum or thread culture there though.

heroin heroine, warmonger talisman, flesh trafficker poster child, obsessed with dominating, a conscience as flat as a potemkin village facade ... what's not to? like eh? I'll be suprised if she starts singing a protest song is what i'm saying ... let alone ever has anything to do with anything other than urban suffocation poetpiet 35 minuten geleden

.. she's the mascotte of disrespected and ill bred alpha ruin
everything phoney and invasive, like bad air in seedy dives, needles, scalpels, alcohol, black market Al-CIAdough, the initially innocent mischief of neglected testy levels like hers metastasize into debilitating branding irons those at the top of the natural born leadingastrayership heaps do swing about around the world .. the real irony of course being, stupid Courtney is blissfully unaware of such wider implication of her extremely outgoing self-obsession .. and they call it 'rock' (lovely that, really).

not to mention the biggest heist in music history she pulled off in plain sight of the public eye finance-wise she can't pluck a guitar let alone heart strings, never mind pointing at real rock and rock realty. ... As i see it, it would be real easy to make Kurt see my musical points ... and so i am prolly entitled to a good chunk of that money, if not a better one that keeps the same old undead projects alive.

i was told off by mother to be (not MY first though, 3rd in fact) with: 'you're no help' and by the time i returned i heard she had to stay a day longer than usual for observation ... having layed the baby in the window sill .... so is that a double rejection on her part or on our part? As it all turned out i am sure to blame .. i remain/continue to sure blame .. yet am to blame for sure and not a wit less, witless is how i blame myself for sure.

> This is a summary of the story "Secret History of the International Court of Justice". It is framed as a letter of petition to some human rights organization -- how it was originally planned. It should be read in conjunction with, and is an update of, the "Letter of Petition to Inter-American Commission on Human Rights" given above. It corrects the omissions and inaccuracies in the latter, especially the most important fact that the United States' counter claim was not just that I was my older brother, but that I was a twin brother of myself.
> The summary emphasizes how, after the initial stages, this story, while mine, is also a story about Russia, which in the evidentiary record of the ICJ might be known as "Daughterland": a secret history of "Daughterland", of how it was saved, found its innocence in the International Court, and then saved United States and the world, only to be soon betrayed by its new Mexican ally.

To my taste the reactionary old moldy and warmed over paranoia gets too long a streak ... not cool to not interrupt runs and spates of this kind of pabulum with upbeat (bottom up) stuff evry other minute.

Sure, worrisome days of excessive delegation / specialization, compostables turned into toxic sludge etcetera keep getting worse .. except that there is less evil intent necessary to explain it all, just stupidity and compartmentalization, worst at the top.* -- The top-end of our fundamental solution is part of this page since the late nineties:

> ....Childermass the human senses are all recalled in their complexity: the eye sees the mountains which “appear as a fringe of crystals to the heavenly north”; the ear hears the beating pulse, the lowing of horns, the feet of mules and oxen like the tiny scratches of a needle on a drum, drifting cries, a ritualistic murmur; a body touches hot waves and everything is touched by long-winded blasts; there is a smell, a whiff of plague and splenetic fever, which brings with it the taste of the frittered corpse of a mosquito.

there were evil eyes before the camera .. now turning not just eyes but hearts and minds evil ... killer deal days like Black friday and others, holding up handy*(-ey)es as an excuse to not stand out too much, the 1%, always in danger or and/or out to prevent a lynching .. lookabusy ... we're socialmediatur(d)*s ...

Now the visual bias of literacy, the schizophrenia of metastatized literacy has upped the ante with E-waste. Never mind dis-, how bout services? Well .. a permaculture manual can still not be had or brought where it's needed most since least wanted/familiar ... like to Lybian prisons full of repatriated al-CIA-dough traumatized greenophobes, the Green Book notwithstanding.

I love/hate good camera work ... pictures don't seem capable of replacing bullets and then phasing out .. and like letters, have been turned into mere extensions and emissaries thereof, lending them their 'enrichment' genius.

Yes, i create texts and then choke on them, is it anything to you? Don't do as i do but (as I) had wanted and hoped and was waiting for help to be doing

it's all real simple ... stop baring ground, pruning clipping and stifling greenery, all out of mistaken sense of cleanliness. Trees are home for the birds and other animals, stop pushing the green out with concrete and more important .. stop using paint, .. make up ... medicine. Start treading at least biannual paths to pleachables .. plant and inventorize candidates

(1965)

> Lyrics to You Never Wanted Me :
> Wondering and waiting
> My back against the wall
> Not a word that passed between us > Comes to call
> Just your shadow on the window
> And your step on down the hall
> You never wanted me babe
> You never knew me at all
> I haven't any picture
> To set before my eyes
> Nothing to blame
> When the blues start to rise
> Just the memory of laughter
> And the living out of lies
> And if I could change my ways babe
> You'd never have said goodbye
> If you ever get the time baby
> Please think on me
> It's a lock that can't be broken
> And there isn't any key
> And I'm only in your mind
> Only you can set me free
> You can't hurt me anymore babe
> And that isn't hard to see
> Someday someone will leave you
> And I know you'll feel the same
> You'll mark it down to memory
> And the dream that never came > Well there are no answers given
> When love is just a game
> You never wanted me babe
> And now I feel the same

> Thank you Amal for "Outside Influence". Yes, some elements of america would have more influence if they spoke earlier. To that I had two reactions. First, of course the word America conflates so many different things, perhaps you should have said the USG or US media, or US politicians... My other reaction was that we, the ordinary population are preyed upon, economically, just as are Egyptians. We have an endless struggle to achieve any role in policy, just as do Egyptians. It is for them, to learn from whatever works for the social justice movement in the U.S. just as it is, for us now to learn from the wonderful demonstrations in Egypt.

Prior to kurt's death, courtney hired Tom Grant to help find him. She told kurt she was in a hotel in california, which she admits was a lie. She also speaks of burning things kurt had wrote. Its thought that courtney hired him to make it look like she had nothing to do with kurts death. as you can hear, she had quite an elaborate plan and couldnt keep her story straight.

DEBT: The First 5000 Years : David Graeber : Keiser Report
Van: mr1001nights | 15 Sep 2011 | 727 keer bekeken

Max puts the emphasis on 'first'. Funny.

David begins by saying calculations on the tit for tat front began in "proportional" terms vs the later "quantified/abstract" forms ... he next does a few funny anecdotes about gifts and surplus, then says:

"cash is a late comer, credit/debt was how money started"

.. all bureacratic from the start?

coins vs*(/?)* arrow points and bullets

Let us picture a starving and harassed people who see pieces of paper fluttering down on the breeze towards them ... is it an invitation to gather at pick up points, are they vouchers they may go cash in, ballot forms ... or a threat, ordering to evacuate or else (Iraq anybody?). Not all that flutters on the wind is winging it free.

Money is quite fundamentally binary:
Minus:
money as a sponsor announcer and harbinger of bullets Plus:

.. but even if it obsolesces hard projectiles travelling at great velocity we have by no means arranged to replace the rapaciousness and qualmless vice vector factor .. which must be bred out with utmost care, very high and well guarded walls (turning them into permanent stadiums is THE ticket). Sports and Justice is going to take a huge merger hint from what i am saying here and from OWS but i'll get to that in a minute.

The point Max and David work towards in a crescendo is that the traditional protection of the debtor (who needs it most, is most vulnerable and rewards forgiveness best) has turned into a creditor protection racket .. which is all anti-default IMF policies are.

Are they just that? Or do they at least also try and flog investor confidence, push the big heaps over and shovel them apart?? Definitely one of the many aspects these kids miss and/or fail to mention. For many others look up Ulrich von Beckerath and read him closely ... a few hundred pages are translated by Zube as a hobby to make up for jailing abos down under ... he also incrimentally buried this Beckerath seedcrystal (4000 slightly repetitive letters on microfiche in German are best) of his 1 thousand fiche collection (took him half a century) under the rest ('liberty' stuff mostly).

A few examples in my own words:

asses -- divide -- distribute
- the first pure inventory, registration, coordinate affair,
-- second tier is your list of worthies, pressing need priority
--- your network reach n range, relay stage n stagger activity

To ration*(alize)* and secure (-itize) the allocations and distributions in a massified (stacked n staked against the world) society is and 'ups' the virulence of 'insectoIDation' (uniform/produce / standardize) bent on as much usurization (of usurization) as can be dug down to .. rub rubber dubblub .. lowlands fun and beyond .. geolayerz .. read 'Mine' by Rickels ... memory leverage, mnemonic devices from clay within clay to multirim pinwheel, ...

.. the promissory (pledge prestige, rep, standing) aspect

It represents the in stock and/or expenditure (rock to dust), given in order to widen range within which to assert and service reign, thus gainging standing and stature, feeding soil thus precious chain of being stations / subjects.

Nowadays debt resembles a personal record more and more ... debt is something some seek to reduce, others wield to (gain) control, trace back and brought down by/to the responsible ones .. but there is a reciprocal also, carrying it forward to those hi&miT enough to strike, forgive and trade it in for some thing that works better is more self-effacing, clears karma, accumulates and racks up fewer bad habits.
Such personalization has history too, by way of getting in a healer/shaman's debt, the patient accepts and consumes clay tablets.
Damanhur's local money used to be half baked clay and crumbleable ... they did that to have a way to remember and honour me by i am sure ... for pointing out the huge rockdust pile they excavated for their subterranean glitter sparkle art space/temple, might be put to good use on their farm. See remineralize dot org -- Related, but even more obscure, are my suspicions that the bag of coins the nordic god (chipped statuette in Reims) were fully in line with the knowledge imparted at mentioned site.

and that on top of the horror over E-waste (i no longer think we improved anything trying to move people from behind wind- to computer screens) makes me be seriously disappointed over the vaunted services of the net ... it didn't break up monopolies .. just started new and fed old ones ... sure you have a choice to share and distribute but you are symptomatic for the predominance of that not happening.

> I think one factor we don't think about when we dream of shoveling off beautifully crumbed humus and then we get chunky stew beef compost slaw is you havn't sifted it. The only other mean's is to shread the carbon to death so it's like working witha classical boring sawdust chicken poo compost. It was the biggest roadblock for me as fine seed just didn't have the burrowing muscle to kick off in beef stew. 2 month's of design anguish and I finaly built myself a sifter by wrangling a cement mixer, a service cart, and a drum I found proping up a juniper bush and some pulley's. It the stuff that comes out at 1/4th an inch sifted is picture perfect, the chunky stuff that doesn't sift goes to the tree's, new bed's mixed into the soil and abused soil's which are lifeless. The sifted material is mixed with sand and a touch of burn bones and ask to make potting mix that has really been working wonderfully so far. I dug a bed out of a pile of clay and unearthed jiffy pot's I had tried to plant stuff in during the bad ol days of ignorance. I'm practicing the psychic method of seing into the compost material's to establish a ratio like baking a cake without a recipe. Printing out or memorizing a decent chart of carbon to nitro ratio's of material's helps with the crude math one does while shoveling on the good. Like cooking rice in the same pot as meat, you just get use to how much carbon would it take to cook off a dead hawk, or duck, or kitchen sludge. I do allot of smelling, as if pungency played a bigger role in my ratio's than bulk. I just know if this is day 1 and it wreak's like hell itle be gone by day 6, other item's look like they could cook for days without breaking down fully. I made a pile with about 50 pounds of rotting fermented whole apple's and it smelt like I was baking a pie for a week.
> I really do appreciate that compost is a realm in and of itself to be mastered. It's like jet fuel for life system's, I do understand for allot of people it's just a means of ethical garbage disposal so it doesn't get much love. But I really can't think of anything better to take more seriously for natures sake. I mean I wouldn't compost a cow in a quick turn method "without an excavator". But I wouldn't want to start feeding the land material that it may not be able to swallow natural by using material from what would better be called a dump site, than a real compost by any reasonably complex method. If I'm not going to turn a pile and just let 3 cubic meter's cook up and biologically burn off, I dont want to pull out a blackened duck 3 month's later either. I think the layering in a condition like that is much more complex that something your flipping, mixing and interacting with every few days. I like all method's so long as they cook up, at 65-70c nothing's coming out weed or seed. That would be like being able to plant cooked food, my meat goes to 70c so I can eat it and so should the compost I feed my soil.
> I got a question, because compost can be extremely fungi rich, is it possible to inoculate finished compost with oster mushroom's let's say and have it take off better than the clean straw and so on method's. My compost start's mushroom fruiting everywhere I put it, but I would love to feed it to a fungi of my choice and get double decomposition out of the chunky material from sifting.

The Montreal area has had such a flux of atrocities (read 'the redeemed captive') that sad songs are staple when jerry goodfriend presents his 'folk directions' but the south americans are not as beaten up and down, on the contrary, they are totally upbeat.

> Figures of abject bodies often appear in your work: from sexual bodies to capitalist bodies to religious bodies to coded bodies, your thought seems to be grounded in the notion of "abuse value." How is this concept significant for your understanding of power, provided that power is understood in Butler's sense as both social and psychic? That is, if power is a relationship that constitutes subjects, how do the specific concepts of "abjection" and "abuse value" nuance this conceptualization of power?
> If abjection has a social and historical element despite a certain transhistorical element (as we might see in Nietzsche's ascetic ideal), do you think that recently - especially since you focus so heavily on questions of technology - there have been intensifications of this process of abjection? > Scott Crow is an Austin-based anarchist community organizer, political activist, and writer. His grassroots organizing projects include the post-Katrina Common Ground Collective in New Orleans, which has been called the largest anarchist-influenced organization in modern U.S. history. Scott has worked with groups like Greenpeace, ACORN, and the Rainforest Action Network, and currently works at an anarchist recycling center cooperative in Austin. Scott’s political activities have led the FBI to label him a "domestic terrorist," and earlier this year he was featured in a front page article in The New York Times about FBI surveillance of political activists. Scott's book, Black Flags and Windmills: Hope, Anarchy and the Common Ground Collective, will be published by PM Press in September, 2011.

Never believe anything from anyone who talks about ‘raised eyebrows’. This is London or Washington clubman’s talk and what it means is, we in our clubs will continue to do whatever we like to your countries. It’s sufficiently obvious from Egypt that the MBs have nothing to do with ‘democracy’ whatever. They apparently have sufficient persuasiveness to be able to ally themselves briefly with western-style ‘democratic liberals’ whom they actually hate and despise, then dump them on Saudi instructions to cosy up with the military. I won’t waste time speculating about differences between national MB chapters; he who pays the piper calls the tune, and the MB has the same paymasters everywhere – RB i remember this kind of move way back at/by yahoo ... but colour customizations ultimately were too radical for the reactionaries that took over indymedia even. Same superior stubbornness and will power drives the arab 'spring' martyr cult and OWS - not black but blocking high priced prestige RE nonetheless - to 'altarrites' the O 'move'ment (more like move omissionaries ... or else they'd make the fresh dust to mix in their turds and kitchen waste to heat their water etc .. and they wouldn't try do it on parade grounds unless keeping the whole things on wheels - ungrounded).

The mea culpa was offered by Jordan’s prime minister, Awn Khasawneh, for the 1999 decision widely believed to have been taken under pressure from the US to close the Islamist group’s offices and expel its members.

that said, i dislike chemtrailers enought to tut tut and dishonour them also .... if the traffic is too thick for ya ... move away from the cities already ... If Ocutiepies cared for resources they would not waste them on raids ... well you know what i mean it's not a musician, she acts in a movie about a vampiric serial killer

my utube/google experience (in the light of the last MoM chat about a few cultural icons like Frye Campbell, McLuhan, Kroker). None of the speakers even begin to mention that all the electronic media metastatize the PPress, the only thing they do imply correctly is that it's reach is widening yet not diluting but worse per square inch ... literacy leads to imperial projects .... and many times the fancies of leaving the pen behind in favor of an african type grain pounder .. except i'd pound rocks has been shaped by my fingertips and left around the net ... but nobody came to dare nor help me on it which leaves me just as undecidedly taptiptriptraptyping away. Not even Bob would understand ... even if i explained it patiently.

you think you are picking from a wider pool (bigger buffer, better spread) hence better quality ... the lure of legalizing the biggest piggiest .. yes that wide an acception boasting one (see Nick Szabo) too big to fail one ... but in fact you soon begin to spin in smaller and smaller circles thanks to machine intelligence, a creature of habit if ever there was one. It is incapable of assisting you to live and be creative.

i am not cheap ... but i am willing to start with some free counsel: take half the blame .. as a matter of principle, decency and forthcomingness ... and better than that is to realize that all white inhabitants in and ex-patriates back from occupied territories (euphemistically called emigration countries) are like damaged veterans. people hungry for novelty yet comfortably conservative look away from the disservice that comes along with a supplier that can make deliveries obviating arduous quests
So though you need not shift from your station, it does take betrayal of your - and yours only - borders, your very own, the ones you have a say over (vertical/radial/radical, which as helpful reminder go right through you) ones to offend against those of others .... the bringing to light in remote imperial delegatory and 'high arc geek call' fashion, wether it bundles securities in banks, or bunches hairs into paint brushes or leads optic fibre to and fro disserver farms ... the effects, results and inevitable returns -- after initial shortsighted illusion of gigantesque windfalls one need not feel guilty over cause the liddul tweak was patentable after all .. condemning loads of people to lawyerdom -- is E-waste.*
then there's the writing in the landscape stuff ... i wrote up around the turn of the millenium ... ??? much earlier prolly, about 10 years i guess. ... almost posted the above on a 2 vid account (Shirky) preceded by: this is an intriguing channel
* - which will prolly get there first (choking all creativity and penchant for peace out of human existance). The surveillance/control / centralization, truly shared hero, hence prince of peace ... and sun personified ... in order to personalize the latter and get it in just the right measure next time. Nobody wants to be burned alive .... but all them life enriching demographics revving finds get stolen and abused by bullies ... hence none of the 'slijk' escapes the meanies who go after what they like so ruthlessly that it leaks out and turn-over amongst them is the most vicious of all. Voila, the arms industry justified from both sides, wether you have to look up to or down at where the action is.

is a bad complexioned hugely boobed and self-obsessed spontaneous girl who loves talking on camera ... over 30 vids in barely a few weeks and then there's the 'laurasparkle' she advertises as the 'sexy' channel .. though cleavage and the concommitent thought forms of duh flows and flunky hypnotizing floozies are never far away on this one .. not for long anyway.

i noticed that in the first vid i watched (though not in the subsequent one, which speaks for you) you're 'sliking' a lot, 's like' sounds like the dutch word slijk meaning the stuff canalized lowland stream bottoms fill up with. When lots of people still had seasonal dealings with it .. back when it still had those amazing properties that are now only retrievable after time consuming meticulous sift shifts and searches through the treacherously fringe and margin of sectarian peripheral epiphenomena like .... a saying went: 'slijk der aarde' to indicate an unhealthy, over identification with extravant riches .... it's like those wonderful school poster type religious bible txt illustrations 'broad and narrow' might bring up the famous Charlotte Reihlen pics ... so, imagine the walks of life (down crooked paths, village fun) vs drives of life (past glamour and sparkle dotted depravity culminating in armageddon). The green path shows a glorious friendly measure of sun in the distance. Ah ... the pleasures of perspective.

our tastes converge often .. but until quarry and army equipment get thoroughly remixed and reworked into a chain of being serving, Cernunnos baubles and symbols (tools?) updating set of instruments (unless you'd like to try making fresh dust with/by hand and naked voice) i have to keep considering what people classify as music an epi-phenomenon.

adding featured vids up at an account's front vs from lists. ... i decidedly prefer the former .... for stated reason and the window in the latte case is waaaaaay to small for comfort ...... also .... it used to be at least alphabetical (can't group colour them but never mind that for now) ... then it went chaotic and stayed that way. Balled --- To crowd and throng together, to concentrate, to increase density per whatever of whatever, is a sell out to massified, urban culture, even when, while and as done very temporarily, like in protest.

To bundle and bunch stuff is activity that must be quarantined to the homestead with diversity guaranteeing lores and mores.

As soon, however as we 'gather' humans, they go fascistic, howling and carrying on unless the purpose is explicit and enforced to make repeats unnecessary, an emergency to be alleviated, prevented, avoided, .. certainly not just fun.

The word that captures an act of stockpiling best is jewification. It is a meme distilled from and installed as the sanctification and normalization of crisis, times when the scarcity of sanctuary was peaking and so the artificial evocation, miming and threatening with such states is the ('van nood een deugd' type)* chosen tool of the self-chosen, those who include and mean the destruction of all and everything other in, and when they are speak about their self-preservation. It has enabled them to rely on and apply the element of suprise and disbelief, guaranteeing defenceless and passive prey.

> FRISCH HOUSE: FOR SALE!
> Parents ask $299K for "Shrieking Shack of Schlitz"
> Eugene (April 11): Oregon Criminal 1675174 Deborah Ellen Frisch's activities have left her jobless for 5 years. Now, > she might be out of a home. And soon.
> According to teh real-estate site CBBAIN.com, teh Frisch house (aka teh '5 Acre Ranch" aka 86574 North Modesto Drive, Eugene, OR) can be YOURS for the low price of $299,000! Teh house went on teh market last month. Photos of teh house's interior show no signs of Debbie detritus.
>
> "Perfect country retreat just minutes from town," reads teh description. "Custom contemporary on 5 quiet acres with seasonal creek. Extensive use of wood throughout with open plan, soaring ceilings and wood-burning fireplace. Main level master. Bedroom, bath and loft on upper level. Wrap-around deck. Serene views. Oversized detached garage/shop with 220. Small outbuilding. 4-J schools."
>
> Teh storied shack, which was Miss Debbie's HQ for her 5 year campaign of stalking, harassment and assault, is owned by Frisch's parents.
>
> There is some gerbilly interest in acquiring teh shack, Teh Squeak has learned. "I think they'll need an exorcist and a fire truck full of holy water to get rid of her evil spirit," chortled one Gerbil.
>
> Many details about the sale remain unclear. Most importantly: where will Deb go when her (parents') beloved shack is kaput? Teh Squeak is tempted to speculate that Debbie's next stop might be California, closer to her long-harried parents. Also unknown is whether Debbie will be receiving a share of teh sale-price (Debbie's creditors take note). It's also unclear whether Miss Debbie would be able to leave Oregon before her probation has run its course (scheduled, at present, to expire on 11 March 2014).
> *(Teh Squeak was unable to contact Lane County law enforcement for comment. But a local celebrity Sheriff was willing to comment: "That price is too f*ckin' high!" declared Mr. Lucky.)*

wow, i got one reply .. here's a follow up:

One has to wonder if the association with DeMeo's weatherwork (Orgone gun and all that) isn't getting the better of this person's judgment.

> Ron Wyden SO wants to hire me as a kind of consultant. I will translate the views of the estranged left (John Zerzan crowd), the rabid left (me, 90% of Whitaker, 69% of south eugene, 50% of lane county, i reckon) the increasingly disturbed left (91.1% of University of Oregon faculty) and the increasingly agitated left (60% of Americans) into a language that is understandable and palatable to the progeny of Senator Wayne Morse.

5500 miles between SF and Paris

i spent serious time trying to recruit Eugenians to help me, a dutchman who had found that town to be one of the most remarkable of all he saw but returned to the 5.000 mile distant place of birth fix a breach in our, despite (and/or bycause of) such vast distance, common defences.

Specially ever since I left for good in 1991 i began wondering how i might help americans feel as out of place as i did in the US despite it being their place of birth. ... After all, and not just bycause i learned a few things from my favorite americans, i feel alienated and out of place in Holland.

There's a few lines to trace, knots to be traversed and tunneled past from animal domestication (demonprostration) on the derive, liminality, rhizomation and direct lines between outplacement (outsourcage) and displacement (migrations arising from demographux 'succeeding ' faster than the soil deepens and improves) ... and i am just gonna say it outright for the first time instead of riddles as i did when riddling about Katrina, humans and climate have a one on one direct response, sync and resonance ..

Not just cause i grew up too firmly in the grip of the dumb down domestication -- that makes uniformity and delegation of dire directive damaging enough -- to leave little hope of and too unfit to escape, at least not for long .. and so i can relate to the familiarity which installs outofplaceness as a habit, making it inescapable (syndrome .... .

IOS - Inescapable Outofplacement Syndrome)

So i returned to cuss that Zerzan out if i find no meaningful connect to/with Deb Frisch. She's busted her butt fighting the most depraved and deviously armed nationwide army of warmongers with naked word and gesture ... then they mob and harass her with impunity and manage to drive her batty enough to need the refuge of incarceration while they get away with their crimes and go on to bigger and better targets like Qadaffi.

All that and all Zerzan is willing to consider worth his time is arson and stuff? And these 2 very public people live in the same town for the longest time? What's up with that?

Debbie's paleface DJinn call themselves rodents and if they did not use dishonest means to wreck everything with their overdrive thanatopical metastasis, they'd resign to their rightfull place, birdfeed.

I like the larger thumb choice but on the whole and in general regret streamlining make overs, an inevitable attempt to stop the coders from burning out under mounting head ache loads, the tower of babel parable is enduringly true. It's all very well to come up with a beautiful infographic but try to replace a bunch of vectors with a crowd and add other dimensions.

i mean it would be grand to have bulletin and comment archives like some sites and forums have .. or even see who likes what .. but transparancy is only enforceable in the open community .. not one that goes corporate to prolong short term and thanatopian thinking, then asks you to have faith and trust in someone like them, dangling baits and tiny cute dependency enticements that turn into entitlements after only a few halting tries points out that £3.9bn is paid to farmers through the EU's common agricultural policy.

The CAP, rebates and EU reform

The Guardian, Wednesday 29 December 2010

It's true that the CAP is a gift to eurosceptics (Comment, 27 December), but not for the want of trying by both pro-European Labour and Lib Dem MEPs and moderate eurosceptic Tories, who have all battled to reform the CAP. As a pro-European and someone working in the European parliament, I'll happily admit that the CAP is, along with the common fisheries policy, one of the worst policies to emanate from the EU. Tony Blair tried to reform it, and he was pilloried by the rightwing press for it.

Glover is right that the future of the CAP has become linked to that of the British rebate. But the rebate only exists because of the CAP, and with Britain being one of the wealthiest nations in Europe, most countries, particularly the poorer east European ones, unsurprisingly resent paying multi-billion pound subsidies to us.

Pro-Europeans will continue to fight to reform the CAP and the rebate, because without it effective EU budget reform will remain a pipedream. Are we likely to get that reform from a Conservative-led government reliant on swathes of seats in rural Britain and a prime minister and foreign secretary who carry so little negotiating power in Brussels? Not likely, and it is a crying shame that when the eurozone countries are still shaken by the sovereign debt crisis, Britain has no effective voice in the EU, despite our reliance, as a trading nation, on its success.

Benjamin Fox ---- York

Julian Glover rightly draws attention to the coyness of receivers of EU subsidy cheques in UK under the CAP. At this time of cuts in public spending, there is some £3.9bn disbursed in UK under this regime, for which there is no proposal to make savings. Individuals receive CAP cheques each year, in many instances for amounts of hundreds of thousands of pounds. Many members of both houses of parliament who are landowners receive annual CAP payments greatly in excess of their salaries/expenses.

James Armstrong
Dorchester, Dorset

James Armstrong (Letters, 29 December) points out that £3.9bn is paid to farmers through the EU's common agricultural policy. However, total income from farming in the UK in 2009 was £4.07bn, so without this money, income from farming would have been almost non-existent. While money from the CAP does allow a dwindling number of farmers to stay in business and produce food for the nation, its principal effects, intended or not, are to enable the supermarkets to make massive profits and consumers to buy food at prices which do not reflect the true costs of production. By all means abolish "farm subsidies". But be prepared to spend a far higher proportion of your household budget on food.

Last week, Goldman upgraded European bank stocks, raising their rating from Underweight to Neutral. As ZH pointed out, “Goldman has just started selling European bank stocks to its clients, whom it is telling to buy European bank stocks.” Seeing this last week, ZH instantly and correctly concluded that Goldman was attempting to unload crappy assets on clients, and immediately advised its readers to interpret

> In other words: if Goldman says a stock is good, you should immediately conclude that the bank actually thinks the stock is shit and is merely trying to unload it on suckers. Anyway, a few days later, ZH reported:

BSterling .. around the 25th m he is reading Kroker

20 apr 2011 -- egs.edu/ Bruce Sterling, noted critic, science fiction writer and net theorist, lecturing on historical narrative, futurism and the emergent network culture. In this lecture Bruce Sterling discusses the *(r)*evolution of historical narrative in the context of contemporary and evolving network culture. He ponders the trans-temporal and trans-cultural effects of network culture in relation to cultural signifiers and rhizomatic subversions of postmodern culture, focusing on the collapse of historical narrative embedded in a disintegrating digital culture. He brings to light a philosophy of history that is evolving towards an atemporal condition of the emergent net culture, relegated to a dissipation of time-bound origins and identities. Citing the likes of Slavoj Zizek, William Gibson, and Arthur Kroker, Bruce Sterling invites us to re-shift a framework in understanding the nature of history, preempting a retrospective futurism, one that begs for accountability, consequences and a future history in the context of its rapidly evolving fragmented, hyper-linked, cross-referenced and anecdotal systems of history. Public open lecture for the students and faculty of the European Graduate School EGS Media and Communication Studies department program Saas-Fee Switzerland Europe. June 2010. Bruce Sterling.

Bruce Sterling is an Austin-born (April 14th 1954) science fiction writer and Net critic, internationally recognized as a cyberspace theorist who is also still based there. However, as a child he also spent a lot of time in India, which can partly explain why today still Sterling is fond of Bollywood movies. Sterling studied journalism. He published his first book, Involution Ocean, in 1977. However, he first started becoming famous in Austin by organizing every year a Christmas party where he would present digital art. In the 80s Sterling published Cheap Truth a series of fanzines, which are magazines for fans of a particular performer, group, or form of entertainment. He did so under the surprising but revealing pen name of Vincent Omniaveritas. In latin, "vincit omnia veritas" means "truth conquers all things". Sterling's writings have been very influential in the cyberpunk movement in literature, specifically the novels Heavy Weather (1994),Islands in the Net (1988), Schismatrix (1985), The Artificial Kid (1980).
In 2003 Bruce Sterling became Professor of Internet studies and science fiction at the at the European Graduate School where he teaches intensive Summer seminars. In 2005 he became "visionary in residence" at the Art Center College of Design in Los Angeles. Sterling lived for several years in Serbia with Jasmina Tesanovic his second wife, a Serbian author and film-maker. In September 2007 he moved to Italy where he found a peaceful place to live in Turin. Sterling has travelled the world giving many speeches and collecting awards too. For example, the Campbell Award in 1989 for his novel Islands in the Net, the Hugo Award both in 1997 and 1999 for his novelettes Bicycle Repairman andTaklamakan respectively, the Hayakawa Award in 1999 also for Taklamakan, as well as the Clarke Award in 2000 for his novel Distraction.

as long as we the peaceful fuck up or don't even try keep centralization principles/mechanisms out of the hands of the wicked the EU:US comparison is exactly the inverse of what he tries to describe so stupidly in the 3rd Q. The pick and choose needs by no means be exclusive ... it was entirely stupid to do away with national money and replace with euro ... matter of fact, many differently weigthed euros would have added taste and education to help separate the wicked from the OK. Living in the Past, Iron age reality

> Living in the Past was a fly on the wall documentary programme aired by the BBC in 1978 which followed a group of 15 young volunteers recreating an Iron Age settlement, where they sustained themselves for a year, equipped only with the tools, crops and livestock that would have been available in Britain in the 2nd Century BC.
> Produced at BBC Bristol by John Percival for BBC Two it consisted of twelve fifty minute episodes airing from 23 February to 11 May 1978. [1]
> A follow-up programme aired in the same year Living in the Present discovered what the participants had thought of the experiment and how they were adjusting back to modern day living.

once again we are startled with confrontational conclusiveness that the BBC knows on which side their bread is buttered .. in the last minute of this footage the flippin stiff upper lippin landowner burns the place down .. yet gets the satin glove treatment ... check out some digger350 messages people!!!

> Ann, How do you countenance these two apparently contrasting worldviews- permaculture and its assumption of the premises of 'Limits to Growth,' and alliance with a peak energy outlook, and the argument that free energy exists and maybe has been suppressed? Seems like it undercuts one of the arguments of the importance of gardening the earth. Or maybe it forces the issue toward a concern about connection and quality of life, and not simply permaculture by necessity?
> Also, Ran Prieur has made the point: 'The worst thing that could possibly happen to humans and the Earth would be unlimited, free, clean energy. We would use it the way we have always used it, but more: to cut down filthy dangerous trees and replace them with clean safe artificial trees, to flatten useless mountains and put up engineered climbing rocks and ski slopes, to tame the weather into blue skies with puffy clouds that never rain, and don't need to rain because we have rivers of Dasani™ circulated through pumps. We would turn the Earth into 200 million square miles of Disneyland, with the few remaining wild animals in NatureDomes where every flea would be computer-tagged.' ranprieur.com/essays/changevery.html
> Makes sense to me, though maybe there's more to it. What are your thoughts?
>
> September 22, 2011 at 7:21 am Ann Kreilkamp says: Great question, and it was kind of implicit in the name of this blog, exo-permaculture, what lies on the outside of permaculture; so it has always held the tendency towards some kind of permacultural heresy . . . Yet, permaculture, in the 3D world, is the soul of sanity. Let me think on all that you have raised here. Thanks! There's a kind of integrity to Graeber's presence and voice - simultaneously serious and light - that I find rare, humbling and inspiring.
> ___________________________________
> Yes. One runs into this with people once in a while. Funny, the first time I encountered it, it was with another anthropologist: John Murra (did seminal work on the economic organization of the Incas). He was a childhood friend of my father's. He was coming to speak at U.C. Berkley, and my father called me up to go meet him and have tea or something. Reluctantly, I went. Another professor...ho hum. He was one of three speakers. Two of the speakers read their lectures, hardly glancing at the audience. He came up last and spoke for about twenty minutes, without notes, about the need and value for training indigenous anthropologists. He had the audience in the palm of his hands, despite the fact that he was delivering a message that most did not want to hear.

> I am not easily impressed or intimidated, but his lecture and his presence had floored me, so when we sat down I quickly apologized (in Romanian) for being "little and stupid" and hoped I wouldn't be wasting his time. He replied: "You're not little and stupid. It takes a long time to become little and stupid, and a great deal of collaboration." I was never to forget that. Amazingly, he took a liking to me and we corresponded for many years; and when I taught in New York, I visited him at Cornell a few times.
> So perhaps, the way that anthropology questions our deepest assumptions, makes this humility, seriousness, and lightness possible. But, yes, Graeber. I need to write him a letter about the beautiful writing in "Debt". -- Joanna

Charles Lindbergh Speaks on a United European Race

> "Our bond with Europe is a bond of race and not of political ideology. It is the European race we must preserve, political progress will follow. Racial strength is vital, politics a luxury. If the white race is ever seriously threatened, it may then be time for us to take our part in its protection, to fight side by side with the English, French and Germans, but not with one against the other for our mutual destruction."

the confusion regarding good and evil stems from both of them working on/with sliding scales ... that does not mean you should not put large walls around the bad guys (worst ones first, pluck them from the top, never fails) to keep them out of the free world ... you claim to aim at an attack on, a tackle and prioritizing of class before gender and race .. but that's like separating body and spirit, can't be done. Great first vid ... subbed just to be clear, the means to attain primitivist autonomy and sovereignty within those walls are a prisoner's rights. we haven't been able to make a go of human rights and duties thus far so a change of tack is due.

"what is with this board and marginal-crackpot literature?"

Which literature are you referring to that exemplifies this crackpot property? Most of the literature here is not on the Time Cube end of the wackiness line. The majority of the books mentioned here are usually scholarly. I think you are confusing psychoceramics with "fog facts" (literature that has been made public, but disappears into the fog of information).

Am i allowed to express deep regret and sadness over such disrespect for the miracle of compost, big trees.Will it help in a culture calloused by fairly extreme forms of artificially, habitually cutting everything down to a very few fetish ingredients, parallel monoculturations, winning combos in their eyes, like bible pages and cow grass. I am sick of repeating this to nobody at all!!! .

dailygrace beauty AND comedy in one package (very myopic shallow and shortsighted though, as far as managing mancrowds go) ... you know, them cute little turds that get cuddled for as long as possible, before they manage to get away and are forcibly let go .. banished from the garden, kept from seeing and maintaining the momentae of homiest cyclicity ... indoxtrinated to make believe that life at home is boring, slow .. and must be defended a whole nother ware ... but luckily the recruitment offices were opened to just that end. ThePeach on PC a joke pricks through bloatnbubble but it's called offensive hate speech lookin for trouble. The joker (tone sensitive thing but let's just assume he pulls it off) gets accused of aiming to hurt feelings by those scrupleless enough to wield that PC victim supreme's weapon of choice without embarrassing themselves.

Certain deep trauma*(ta)* are fused to trigger words irremediably no matter how 'close' and however considerate, even best intentioned, the person uttering them. So, best avoid them and the tension it instantiates. In this case i suggest we 'humour each other' - 48.200x, replace 'race' with 'culture and then try to have a discussion about differences. 'No more white and black race but Mono- versus permaculture. No backrefs allowed, the politics of photosynthesis, for me anyways, certainly trumps a race discussion loads of times over.

the rest unposted: * instantiates - hell, i thought i got a beaut of a word out of this hopeless cause to teach a hopeless cause about hopeless causes. Thought it would serve me right if youtube (or whoever buys youtube next) will pretend it's theirs. But let's humour you for a moment, just to give you a glimpse.

on second hearing i find too many flaws to bother with working them into a major essay:

first written portion: a totally flawless and correct defense of political correctness, Bravo. Or, like the guy you bent said: study the left in germany, holland, england, take your pick but please, be quick, you are way behind, demonizing the source material, fitlet after fitlet.

I'll give you a few hints: neoteny turned into, instrumentalized and weaponized as monotony, all serving mass production in order to grow predatable herds by those benefitting from and sedating the masses with grain, spirits, star burial (Pyramids presto, King Joseph and all that) and star performance. The PeeSeeites took this recipe all across eurasia slowly but surely, then fast forward to the US barely stopping in Europe (you live in Jersey and don't know Robert I Friedman or don't think he's worth your time? How mighty PC of you) while using the holocaust as the smokescreen and view*(backwards)*blocker. This mobber cult is now decent dignified and legit, or at least capable of lawbending as politics can be offered unrefusables by digital coinshavers grabbing peoples by the bunches and millions impolitely and incorrectly

Mursee me! Visions of the fleeting! A chain across it .. but never no clever waterwheels? - cc_aGzd-coI - Saw that vid with liddul models of them the other day.

This here yours is 112th entry on my 12 string playlist on the morn after which i watch the 2002 docu Sound and Vision that has none of the good bits 'diesbezueglich' AND, i might add, fails to mention how he was the 'tielip' bulbubble stock that shot up and crashed, of the music industry. Now, this on the other hand AjMjrZxEZVU = best example for the rolling wallwave of sound* ... note how someone seems to have really had fun with several versions matching sound but vision not at all. I can't figure this other than a techeady sense of humour at work ..

* = sound/silenc vs*(?)* sound/sick = angularity (angel perpendick[[amend]]ments) .. pioneer gentle dwellers

... add, especially of late, the screen ..imagery to replay and repay the bought (and sold) into an illusory dynamism with an E-waste problem that will eclipse the 'toxtecs' deployed so far, combined, all of which find prolongation only in, if and when serving this new god of sound emptiness eclipsing the earlier methods and means of betrayal, running away, getting lured away from something even while/as you profess to defend it at the top of your lungs.

. in short, add to that the ways and means to prey upon and commemorate, mimick the sounds of sanity, steal from them and in the fast approaching terminal end, prevent them .... if only it did end there but there are many ways in which to preemptively abort them in some kind of further perversion along the lines of saddling future generations with debts upon debts, prolongs thanatopia's zombie woof in the face of teeth truer to time. petrodollar warfare

The first portion is a perfect description of days gone by nowadays though, the holding in reserve, positing guarantees AND payment of bonuses happens is kicked into and kicks in the mythical realm beyond the near vanishing point of MINIATURIZATION .. the Grand Digital DisServices Inc, the unspoken, not named shape and form of deathdealing our thanatopian Moloch has morphed to this time (E-waste, plastic particle minisculature .. it happens as, bycause of or damn near this type vanishing beyond pointilism if you prefer).

So no huge fat guy (2:14) with bulging bonus sack on his back sitting down feeling nothing (not even his loot? It's totally anachronistic or chronomixtical).

The keystroke is as distributed as war- and welfare, the defining moment (UM) of it even! And who doesn't want to stroke a key or two lovingly these days?

It sanctions lynchings, just hold it up and you become employed, a busy signal, absolved from the duty to help the poor hapless bastard.

I've done it since the eighties to express: 'i'd much rather' and 'i can' (an ad gone horribly wrong like they all do), showing my capacity to split had turned inwards . and the irony is most folks didn't even get past the pop-ups urging folks to gamble. Wild succes 2 decades later. So I still set a bad example despite my brand of sanctifying shame and guilt. The white racist blackie hating AlQaidans can kill the ones they find comin home from the war (yet bringing it there too) where they killed the US flavors thereof.

What will solve this is a study of Cernunnos and why on earth he would let his coins run on (earth)/into the ground. Passivism as it should be, forceful and provisionary. Hope you can join me there.

Your story has many precious elements but i am not convinced you stitch and string them together properly. There is, for instance, an odd tension between native sovereignty and local autonomy due to an interfering occupation and near genocide. Not to mention this issue gets even more complicated by your willingness to match all incoming moneys at fixed rates with local chips as if the slots they fit in can just fluxuate with them so to speak. And yes John, hardware probs do exist. And also, a case against gambling CAN and MUST be made if, when and as long as you know what's good for you, bycause, especially if you do it for quick profits resembles hard drinking or risky driving and the like against which penalizing and discouragement in the form of hefty taxes is nothing more than a form of prudent insurance.

So, did you make your profits from clever pokerage or after reflow of all chips or bycause you decided they were all taken home for souvenirs, keepsake momentos of that wonderful neither king engine here nor there, spendall Turmel?

almost 21 minute long vid with very emphatic delivery, cocksureness about cocksurety ... ain't their a little doublage in there somehow?

In the beginning of the 6th minute i *(re)*learnt that blessing means blood offering / sacrifice.

> "exactly like a blessing, bledgeoned blood sprinkles"

google finds bledgeoned 4x (3 'to death' and 1 'myself', prolly bludgeoned misspelled eh:) it doesn't even bother to present misspelling when i search 'bledgeon' 151,000 x bludgeon sure i realize that blood was taken to be / understood as the cosmic fertilizer, the motor and payment for continuity (maya, aztec) .. was that part of the reason it went straight in the almighty ever sinking drain every friday to prevent it from rising above the ankles in the butcher shop i was born in? Not sure energy from compost and sewage was optimized from homestead dotted landscaping ... in a long forgotten age where bulls were actually around and about ... the fantasy novel series Guy Gavriel Kay did about the Byzantian empire and the role mosaic artists played in it gives the reader many a glimpse and intimation of the green glory throughout that first grand empire under nemrud .. where a blade of gras is at a premium right now.

Via Robert Graves and his chapter on the tree alphabet .. along with some lucky encounters in the organic farming profession i transitioned from blood (they use it powdered) to rockdust (the real powerpowder with the powder to end war and devilishly dubious deceptions in my humble opinion).

So i know a thing or two about fertility (birth-rights, etcetera)
I nevertheless did not know the word bledgeon.
I usually resent and avoid revisits to this whole barbaric crude and cruel complex. You profess to protest it all but offer no alternative, just the immature outrage of rejection ... and your deriving superiority from seeing through a mere change of mind is not gonna turn their kids into botanic geniuses instead of deft gamers with an idol arsenal at their command .... but i do know a thing or two about way of temple cultures, chemagicians playing with ashes and all that stuff, churches to bundles the soundchambers of individual throats and all that fake hot air oven principle structurization. What you did help me see though is that i owe quite a debt to Rhentergem for a line of thought that is ripening in me slowly but more and more: there were more connections between Cernunnos (traffic to the underworld, wealth, prince of peace, lord of animals) and the gospels.

that range of handtools i thought and hoped to expand but never ever get away from and lose daily touch with .... ? Alas, my jew genes and hunger for 'figures, youdolls and acTaurs' got the better of that pretty easily. Now i have books AND tools BOTH .. in DISUSE!!!!

I've slipped a long way from dreaming i'd be the janitor and secret genie of the Joke Smit school one day .. instead of being evicted from it's bicycle shed. I returned to find it had been dismantled and clean carried off including all my possesions.

truthiracy is crazier than hitler ... he's banish all books, all codes, all art .. all the way back into the remotest caves ... the very ones it's earliest traces were preserved in.

> dcsymbols op 11 feb 2012 Alchemy, Hasidism and Divine Sparks in Matter Alchemy and Hasidism don't deal with making gold, but with revealing the gold which already exists.

dude, your vid is 8.8Mb .. but requires reading white on black with not even a redeeming tune and as flat text wouldn't amount to even 8K! As is, i'd prefer your material as blogposts .. but it deserves better, at least read them or have them read aloud (solicit funds for a mike or something).

> "Hasidism and Alchemy are not teaching methods, but are ways of life where the profane is overcome through being transformed. The 'method' of both entails purifying or raising the divine sparks that are imprisoned in the world of forms. The 'goal' is to realize the mystery of knowing the transcendent being through interaction with the world."

Q_LpZkcTMkI yeah, that heady headtowelman is headin for 'trouble', not the clean rock plus water kind, no cloudy swirls, sparkle to help compost heap turd pile come up roses and energy stock, the only kind that can keep, even make people above board honest. King Abdullah, troubled by ghosts from the past is gonna keep buying arms, not shackle exQaidans to the man-made river or keep a guarded wall around a big swathe of its influence and that's the devil in him right there. There simply is no good way to deal with them and they are not the simply good way to deal against other batches and makes of them. But a complete cycle can, even in this gamer age, not be shown and so we resort to code, crypt, shortcut and symbol, always a precarious way to 'go to shit'. Anyways, one less prettiest voice to go 'bless' them (truthiracy3 claims that word means blood sprinkle tax n respect payment).

To sum up: using the verb reduce to indicate the process of abstraction is widespread but i propose to replace with refine bycause just like the latter's meaning in industrial processes, what the former means to convey is the mental equivalent of doping stuff up. Yeah, not a catalyzation, or not in most respects anyway, since irreversible complications 'arise' and stickies compound, unless you are willing to pay more for the recyclage than you made from selling. 'You' being a hypthetical 'collective' unhindered by countercollectives, as integer as a rock say.

Industrialisms murder resources over and lock them in hell worse than before, to cycle that stuff out of their systems they have to run the large loops all the way to the hottest densest smelting smithies in deepest deeps. The price of enormously desirable gadgets thrown away when obsolesced - but still only 30% of what arrives in Agbogbloshie (and similar places in china) is *(re)*usable. take pete schiff for instance, i'll paste up what i noted via his reason.tv OWS appearance - perk: windswayed leaves in the early (daytime) part of that footage, as PS rolls out his little ploy and sleight of mind all day long.

Minds aren't dead weight and agreeing to a fundamental, then thereafter go into trusty gullible go along energy saving moodmode like (/as if) you managed to jump a freighttrain or something aint gonna work
REDRAFT 7 YEARS LATER:
Most minds aren't dead weight nor chase after paragonic fundamental, to go into trusty -gullible go along- energy saving moodmode like (/as if) jumpin 'parametervreters' = voracious mental freighttrains or something.

thus, when Pete's opening volley gains confidence due to the high quotient of voluntarity in the old naghag still able to evoke fond memories: the fair fight for consumer favor, his listeners let their guard down and swallow some serious shit, cause he's free to follow up so why not a little waste disposal (Corexit dispersant anybody?), pulling off and away (jumping from FT's at speed is quite risky).

If you expect this GvtCoreBiz problem would come up easily and often, specially at OWS .. and with a semi semite waving a hi-price mike (totally against the seriously trending one, though PS left all Mike-Checks on the cutting room floor, without exception) to boot, I do too, but no. All we get is Petey trying to point to the ruthless rootlessness of The State (only institutional, legal and sovereign though merely delegatory and representative, never directly democratic enough body of/with/for rootedness we have left and under some serious fire)

the hi-rise bit next: though PS makes no mention of gvt's most important shit/business: cleanliness: efficient compost, no mention of quality control and no diff made between the dependence of young and old vs the addict (out of decency for the park hosts? The junks and drunks, or for the junk dealers looking down from windows raised well near the brink of the double digit bear down .. and also close to downable - even a mere infight will make an example of at least part of them .... building 7 was essentially, ... well maybe no longer, but nominally it STILL was a Guvmint building folks!)

Corpsies are defending themselves against regulations says duh Schiff, No and Nope! Corporations buy [read BRIBE] themselves into the corner of the market full of corners, .. matterafac, consisting of nothing but corners, very blunt, slow and kafkaesque house-of-cardlike ones (until some offense brings the armed federalis out). PS claims the corpsies drank the drink the fed fed them. "government liquers people up" yeah, and it arms them too Pete (not much discussion of this, though to their credit, they show a vet right at the beginning) easy left sleasy right, easy credit, sleazy bailouts????????

PS claims he would quit attempts to gain a client's favor if it cost him 70 cents on every dollar he made. My dad did the latter but not the former ... and the irony was, his bracket was highest but wealth far from greatest, if you had a way vaster capital invested for modest return you'd be almost as excempt as much much lazier men than my father. Matter of the fact, my father was anything but lazy. He just traded certain flexibilities for numerate prodigality. Not really ethically challenged but catering to macho culture no questions asked.

No discussion about the 'qualiteaze' of monies either. Gvt can't win and come into it's own if it fails to come out with it's own (money). That itself is enough to turn fancied GovernMINT into frenzied GoVarmint.

PS faults the gvt, not for spoiling and giving in to, and/or faults it's defenses against, Corpsies, who like* the buying public aim to seduce, please, come by and come buy, perhaps come period by the by, depending on far gone they will go. PS claims they cannot but have and want to ply the clients in an all choices / options / OopsieOns on the table mode.

* = Corpsies like nothing better than cornering the buying public and gvt listens readily to thise who have proven to approach that good as common good (fungibility, flow- not blowback, acceptibility, consensus) status.

You prove dependency creating reliability
You prove addiction conjuring seduction -- you provide services -- you supply arms --- Sort these 4 sentences into pairs ... if you want to go into the sexbomb/warrior conundrum. .

more fresh perspective on Drew's 'divide and average' condemnation: the doubling is natural .... just like crush and spread ... a space/place type rooting that is totally taboo in teutophobic thought of the likes Drew practices.

So the West then equates geometric length with arithmetic number as distance.

most previous 'Drewis'omz' got lumped in with JA material but i'm gonna leave this one here:
Drew is really a satirist more than anything, he takes the piss while insisting on and assuring us that he is dead serious instead of keeping a steelly faced pretense up .. about talking us out of our minds .. medittec and meditthod which usually goes/proceeds along the formula of directing attention to body parts, ushering breathing on instruction and command (itself a self-consciousness arousing thing rather than the professed opposite) and all sorts of semi-hypnotic singysongy droney drowse drownoisies.

What he does instead is throw out dense blippertibleeps of incredibly incommensurate and complex memes, not themselves made up so much, it in fact rain- and brainstorms references but it's cutting edge / borderline fabull/sciencefriction as their connection supposed and posited. It's hilyholy intellowly challenging and conducive to anything but making the leftbrain less hysterically meddlesome.

He's tying himself into a tight immobile knot with his cerebral convolutions, compensating with faith in real life effects, and his teacher is just a Sino-Christain hybrid remixer living in the pricey area that brought you at 4.00 you say 'majority of the group' but you should explicitate 'of the same and/or some other group' and even then you are talking about worst case armed intervention ..... there's an amazing range of things one can do before it gets to that .... secretly start little hidaway, selfsufficient colonies as near as possible to or even in oppressed territories, then invite folks to be a temporary refugee (a learniday experience) and next, with the crescendo of media means to 'securitize' this R/Emission, accompany them going back to their peers and record the reception .... then if these people are targetted and harassed by resistant splinter groups along with getting the standing and status a timely renewal / update and 'bad habit loose soaker' and healer deserves and will surely get, send commandos to prosecute culprits .. and crowd source especially this last aspect. 52nd: Folks from your own stables' vicinity banned me, the peace practitioner, from their vid comment sections, ... this has tradition. Rowan Berkeley kicked me from his blog years ago.

Tell me if i am wrong but I feel it is bycause they see me as a resource robber, the raw material they need to indulge their favorite hobby, making lists and series of the most serially deadly people, greatest abusers of responsibilit, etcetera. If i catch enough attention and people take my hints as best landmarks to study, cure and prevent machismo by they will be clean out of their fetish.

So, within months 108Morris108, Ziongets and Snordelhans manage to block me. Les Visble, you are all i have left to bounce this off of. But I told you before i am convinced there are ways to avoid both being blind to violence AND also avoid being blended by it, the latter easily confused with being bent ON it (embed your jourknose anybody?).

Some people are acculturated to and, it follows, prefer to remain focused on war toys, and lacking openness, remain uncritically resigned to their continued existence.

It's the breed of 'resistancers' that breed resistance, freedom fighter that fight freedom, truthfinders without alternatives a type of doctoring that does not work to accusatorially point and go: 'look, very very bad' is nothing like 'let me help you, i know an easier way' ... or better yet, get as close as possilbe without them feeling impinged or threatened and then send requests for help with peaceful tasks, the employment weapon against not AS deployment. Whistleblowers know what's wrong but they certainly don't have a clue about what's right .. and that last stage is one they have time nor feeling for.

They dont want no jesus lookalikes, no jesus-acts* to lay claim to THEIR targets .. the bad guys belong to them (don't you know), they didn't hone the skill of pointing at them, even around several corners, for so long for nothing. One is perceived as threatening and blocked but to cover their tracks they will prolly defend their action to ousiders in more neutral terms, like irrelevant, tripped out, confused, etcetera.

gratefully, nother sign of life from that much revered Andrew: shiftjournal.com/2012/01/23/shift-journal-inception-part-2-of-recently-presented-prepared-remarks/

> Why Serpents, Dragons, and Shift (part 2) As I move back toward discussing Shift Journal, it bears mentioning that Andrew Lehman is a man who continues to have an extraordinary and privileged relationship with his unconscious. He had shared enough about this connection in blog posts and in emails that I wanted to ask him about it when I visited him just a few weeks ago. Andrew is spending much time these days watching the comings and goings from behind a large picture window that looks out on to a tree-lined street full of beautiful old wooden houses; this is where he and I and his wife Marcia sat and talked. At one point when Marcia had just left the room I turned to Andrew and asked, “So how’s your relationship with your unconscious?” He gestured, as if it were the most obvious thing in the world, to the window. I thought for a moment and replied, “I’ve been told of of Native American men who would sit on the shore of a lake and watch the water and the sky, all day, for days on end.” At this he nodded vigorously and emphatically.

thanks for that sign of life about Andrew ... i've been anxious since april 2010 when he debated surgery .. then long silence, ... the relative in Tx or someplace saying he was OK .. more silence .... next your mention i found a month ago .... please convey my deepest respect. what's the use of spelling out the finer distinctions, the step up and down sequences of premise permutations as if we're all stuck in the undefiable, hermetically sealed an inescapable global casino?

Though your vid pretends to go back to even before money came about, .. for me at least, no real roots of them come into 'sight' on the picture you 'plaporate', .. nor on site, not even pre-currentide (let alone post currencide), memorabills dictue due but un-, not over and done. False premise lacking the sound starting point/anchor/root cannot be implied - namely, generic, homogeneous, 'legally' monopolized tender - AND criticized at the same time. You bought into the equivalence 'levelling' doctrine of extreme change (over) and offer no outside the mental delusion prison perspective whatever. Many people do this for 'their own good' or so they reason. If all they dare offer is a reactionary description that adds to habituation, lessens the shock, fuels the op- and depression, it's often

.. no wait, they think they are brave and daring and are even suprised, feel they failed if/when/ as long as they escape censorship, not realizing it's cause they don't recommend practices that start from scratch yet scale. And even that gets a pass in splinternetland, dangling off the edge as fringe embellishment, practicing is a whole different thing, but the Owens, Fouriers, community movements, sovereign and self sufficient bioregional secessions suffer even more than the organized wild-life protection efforts in this climactic deceit an war epoch. Bauwens claimed the govs killed CommCurr AND that they did not scale.

In general the alphabetized run a much greater risk of catching "lefteousness". With that i mean a susceptibility to haughty attitudes, which range from innocent, cute and harmless to blatant, shameless ("outleft") expressions and practices of supremacy.

McLuhan taught that to alphabetize is to install leftbrain, visual, make believe bias. The catholic McLuhan was aware of it and it's transition to digital media yet succumbed to an old fashioned version of it.

Race, class and gender and environment are highly affected.

The social and ecological (semites / deserts) problems are due to patrist nonpermacultural habits; the 'chosenite' virus for example, is the result of having been subjected and confined to peopling the bookkeeper caste for long enough to cause a genetic residuality and we see it play up and out conspicuously since times immemorial.

> "from high on a hilltop i see the devil in you, high on a hilltop, my heart cries out alone, forgive her, she knows not the way, give me the power to believe that someday, high on a hilltop, together we'll pray."

The song is driven by, steeped in and soaked through with what i call the grief chords and rhythms. Luckily it will seem very phony and not pile on extra on top of real grief

Floriade ... That's the name of a prestigious quadrannual garden show in Holland, this year they get 65 acres ... but they are bare and so have to start from scratch .... just what the dutchman likes ... big manipulations of stuff that work with less drastic, bombastic and disturbing effects perfectly well if given some natural time. Things like transplanting large trees and such ... we actually have a famous dutchman who does really huge objects for top status audiences in the greenhouse world. He keeps saying he really understands plants but what he is doing is what early african explorers did, abduct a few for display purposes.

Is this the reverse of the PC doctrine SA hippies devote so much time 'witnessing', testifying and professing faith to/in?
Namely that the mix can never be crazy and incongruous enough for the most basic solution, 'JUNTISIMOS', that is, permacultural hippiehood, to stop working. Do they honour, praise and practice grippyness or hysterically force their focus on a celebration of pedestallating beauty and living like a statue that came alive? It's a spur to stay away from madding crowds and adopt a rainbow style in least contestable fashion.

i propose to go exactly the other way ... primitivism .. but not far enough out of the way to be left in (and bereft entirely of and to one's own) peace so much as, instead, right in the heart of occupied territory (plenny to choose from), defiant to empire, excellent to nature! ... ???? ... was i a prophet of desperate Rojava gambits there? /2019

I heard Sepp Holzer (the world's most spectacularly accomplished veteran permaculturist) recount his run ins, dealings and encounters with regional officials last week.

He lives in Austria (teaches worldwide), a country that pioneered internationalist formalities leading straight to what are meantime less and less ambitiously called 'world' wars (which number's up matters little once 'THEY' become THE interminable and morphose 'IT', dominated by digITs). This metastatization of way old macho big mammal domestication, leaving earthworks the lowest of status except when it came to faking the succesful imposition and impressive roar in churches formalizing dominance through a mimic of distance Cannonfire (gebulder in dutch), shifting from ballistics to banking brick by brick.

Avoid raids and destruction, stay ahead of the binning! As and on lifelines between these hairy sitshoewayshins and the Crests our focus rests.

The aim is to take a stand, put up a fight, BUT/YET ... minimize the amount of time spent on the distracting use of language and imagery, let alone be stubborn about displaying it to the point of riot police confiscation. A lifeline TO not OF them. iow, dear OWS folks, take your energy, seeds and buckets to defy the temporariness of your counteroccupations with the smarts that can last.

Sepp Holzer is burdened with specially designed higher tax rates bycause of his incredible yields .. on the other hand he has to conform to the poisonings pre- and proscribed by the deadening mindsetters - setting the mind to dead- not gardening, offering the blank and dead stares you get in professional versions from the riotpolice units in close formation no matter how you bawl out appeals to and from hearts.

They already have forced him to sign to administrations they let him, in fact, slip by on/without, in order to prevent punitive expeditions like we have seen seen happen in the bio-industry. Of course this hurts his pride, sense of justice, etcetera. He should be honoured and supported as a national treasure. But alas, to unhook, decouple and disentangle from the financializer caste is not yet much of a desired option nor easily accomplished .. 'd(J)ueture' (don't ask) being as hegemonic as never before, its festerment no longer has the traditional stop put to it by jubilees (really old fashioned) expulsions (109x in 400 years .. and google is NOT helpful finding that figure, or even that lots of them were caused by financialization = deracination of credit, money more and more resembles what most of it is employed to move, namely arms).

The church and the castle precursed
State and Market, voluntarization VS coercion, paper vs gold money, commitment and contract VS whim/impulse, risk/recklessness (counterproductive attempts to make one's actions/presence 'count') based action.

Now, to go defend Holzer against people inherently blinded and damaged by long traditions of Bible Bullion, Booze and Bullet bz and keep the way clear for unstunted kids to get a quick instantly enlightening and lifelonglasting impression ... IS a noble ambition but one can dream eh? Even pipedream, .. pipe-up dream perhaps .. to take rest, make a Crest there? Near there, like there?

We could do worse than going straight for the goal Arguelles purported was his ultimately: gardenculture .. and bypass all the oracling and timestampage in symbols/numbers and once dropped and passed up free up time for birdsong and treeleaf but we can't do it instantly. Problem is time ... permaculture takes a hefty length of it to run up and prime before a pay off whereas a grid image (that surrogate us poor mental cases make do with to our lasting shame) passes lightning fast.

Let's have a thousands of yearz long lasting commemoration ceremony/ rite period to honour the native turtle islandz, remnants of which taught me the basis of border detection as well as crossings thereof.

I don't just mean detection of reinforced and barricaded zones .. but the sensitivities to detect the movement of borders, cause they all and always do, no matter if they consist of gases, vapours or mountain ranges, but especially, cultures and their accoutrements, like pocketsize navigation devices.

Treeplanting crews / treehousing providers need to once again climb a few notches in my esteem.

The temptation to gather gold and build towers flows very straight from taking scars and handicaps as marks of recognition and excellence, formation, formalization, rigour, fistmaking, numonumbness, denaturing all natural and episodic erection, stand out, show of strength and charm (glim glam glitter .. 'glans' in dutch, also means sparkle, splendour) into a sordid meattrade of ostentation and pomp.

Marketize the remarkable hunt of a whale until it is marketed into smithereens, obliteration, marketed up all the way. Obstacle course of a whale: rockfaces with conspicuously polished marks, mountainslide courses Ashgreyish fresh dusts as the raw material precondition and guarantee for vigour and splendour are faintly echoing in the word splash.

The mindblowing connector that works failsafe and is hoped will not save but return hansomely for the trouble .. again, after some lagtime, .. with leaving.

If we lay this groundwork for orderly and voluntary secession, scale down and relation diversifying with the permies we'd be doing a global reverse John Galt mov(EyE)e in that our bases, unlike his, will not be hidden (and bursting at the seams with geniuses on strike) but totally known and the ConAct of sermonizing about self is dropped in favor of Working with*(/@)* Self (Show ... shelfworksow grow growe ..owe .ow. OW.. OccuWall).

what can you illegitimize about her? Not that she reduces ALL bordersquabbles to love and hate cause that's true. It makes borders infinitely longer, more changeably complex and .. interesting .. specially when a border comes (largely and mostly) to mean a token of love, leisure and welcome, a flower border in plain sight. i only just (now) realized the reason CC clings to the PodBlanc moniker is the association with pointblank!!! Devious that snibe. To the point enough for ya yet?

Machine translates: "he says he'll suck juggler's dick" ... but what he really says (took me a few retakes) is this: 'he says 'i'll suck your glorious dick' ... my guess is the girl behind the camera is hot and he wants her so he offers to disarm the competition or punish 'it' for being as whimpy and PC as he (to me [[too]] anyway, indeed) appears. I'm sure you'll annoy a few nonreJoyceables. To me it's a reason to start visiting.

my lingogland is creaming hotly right now like only an exscreamist (sextremist) can make it. speaking of guns, have you guys been onto TJ Ready yet?

START OF A GOOD FEW PgDns RUN:
the jews have played out a 'back the better gun' gambol gamble (rumble tremble) game (always in the key of stealth from behind strawmen) since what the dutch still call their 'golden age', when, ironically, gold was a mere, stable and passive fall back plan* .. kinda like righties are happiest when their guns can stay under the *(st[R]eam)*bed ... a pleasant backdrop, reassurance and substrate (safety net).
The gold and silver of/as the happy cloud lining

A - most, if at all, to facilitate revisioning of risk/chance at edges and peripheries, .. means by which to win hearts and minds especially with and due to desirable deliverables (convince the receiver/returner, we were ready willing and able to let go of .. the ample sample the view to provision). ..

B - centralization terminating coffer clearances (treasury dissolutions) in order to disband and disperse soldiers, send'm home with ready cash.

The gun game is the red to that blue, the bleed to that dust, the sunni to that tutsi, the hutu to that shia, iow, the rich strawmen overturning jew (eternally never done did n don' do nottin but wander) vs the poorest. Don't worry though, ... nuttin a few centuries of strict permie oppservance won't cure. So treecrop away .. a few centuries and we'll all be cured altogether, the deserts will green, the treehousing projects rise steadily story after story ... the soil will deepen and ballsy boys will do rocky gauntlet games with oodles of dust and slippy celebrations

For example, the life of a 17th century broker / banker .. sampling away at a fair, arcade, network .. did not remain 'onbesproken' (a primary,drily factual neutral meaning is overlaid with the regrettable and negative sides of contact and frequentage [[typically as a double denial {{{of dutch billfoldabill-I-T-y}}}: 'not uncontroversial']] ... the erosions, first strides for a pedestalized idol to follow and fall 'freely' towards the spectre that strikes terror into even very distant hearts ...).

A repute is useful to the incontinence and surplus focused worldtrader.

A global repute is so inherently celestial a concept it quickly proves too big for merely terrestrial britches. This was true for the dutch golden age, it's good standing was quickly disreputabilitated by enormous trafficking ventures directed through and by there. It's good repute (delta karma exponentiated by the entire Cernunnos dust awareness meme, shortlived but powerfully reverberating through the ages) easily minable and strippable, abductable, migratable, financeable to the point where it's gutted empty hulk was reduced to pump out little besides more and more absurd enforcement that made signing away on faith, legal transference of title and an end to continuity with prehistory.

. where was i ... oh yeah, fall back plan .. for the veritable permaculture of/as money, there were 1000 kinds of money in circulation, hence meticulously reported on ... nowadays that pic is per- and inverted into 1000 lying MNCs stampeding their sphere of influence all over each other if they can't achieve their goal of having and/or getting the greatest mendicant into their camp with competition eliminating snipery anymore.

a means of payment finds acceptance when it comes with, to be more exact, when it is preceded by a clear picture of what it's worth and can be had *(as reward)*for (restoring/returning) it. Reverse the spent state of rock, reduce from ash to hydrocarbon ... and keep score of an indexed basket weighted for diversity. How much more simple can YOU formulate paradise?

innumerability (the most recent michelvec vid has a few sections where JA finally [[finally!!!]] after i begged him to consider it in light of dust and compost, fractionation shenanigans - devastating choice, taste and focus when it comes to tweak the growth factors via dilutions and remixture) deigns to mention it. Too late sucker!!!! And i cannot reward you for insisting your pupils spend more time permaculture outreaching than cobbling number seriality (nice reversal of the productivist serial numbers i just noticed).

cities vs monasteries
gated communities and schools vs communities concentration and Fema VS hard to seek out training camps we obviously are at the edge of a break up a multiplication of borders, a fractionation of regionalisms not a fractional money race which goes from bad to worse; morphs a confidence to a coercion game you have the most seductive / soothing voice in the world. you want to be careful with that. Lead folks into the type empty expression (bondforging vocal or gestural, the latter for instance, is prosecuted when done in city parks, practicioners considered so despicable they are left to fall prey to and be picked over by the organ trade). Nothing as evil as E-waste though, that kills everything equally. Falun Gong precursor Taoism wasn't allowed tucked and folded away into the mountains, even before present obsession with ghost space and profit but perhaps it's a matter of group size limits and off limitness rather than the type cure most westerners need: rooting their way back to rootedness and respect for rotating back to right and rightful place via rot routage.

Better an empty than a thanatopical gesture? OK, but bondforging via vocal expression should serve reverse trafficking and blending the best into permaculture.

all arab cultures are very strongly homo erotic but it must be kept veiled in a weird way ... i myself was raped in lybia at knife point after a vicious fight among drunken friends in the middle of the desert ... in the late seventies before i was 20 .. It distorted my perception of Qaddafi. Was i waiting for an apology? Not really, .. more like fancying him paying me a little more attention than others.

Like Hitler found out before Ghadaffi,, a righteous cause can be pleaded in anger only if it's on the run, as a warning, a threat of withdrawal, consolidation, tightening the ranks ... NEVER AGRESSION, .. or else all hell will break loose.

I was fond of using top of my lungs volumes in the very act of drive by evacuation 'riding bikeback'.

ps: don't blame the gays for distracting Obama from Lybia or distorting his view of it. His constituency is jewish election money, hence hollywood moghulism, hence the gay crow bar which is used to whittle and chip away at the most macho societies of today (both the muscular and merely mental kinds), the matrixsters don't want any autonomy around here no more than still escapes them, no more than they ever did. from here down to where i call the RQ celestialessa today is totally crazy ... just was at Nielsio's libertarian site with 255 uploads, before that at James Nienhaus' blog with 610055* visitors. And there's been tons more, on sub amounts, on vid views ...

He's a Tx creationist proving the genesis flood chronology right with an argument that surely, and i myself always thought, played a role: somehow the ocean got shallower near the formerly pressed down ice bearing areas and deeper in others ... which is counterintuitive cause the ice skater who pulls his arms in (ice at the poles) slows down when extending them (water evening out). How much does a red wood forest weigh??

Still, on some points it might be wiser to keep bouncing this guy's contentions off of Hamaker's ones (ice age end 10thou y ago), he certainly seems to close to a vast range of sources (Houston):

> Corraborative that the Ice Age began to end circa 1500 b.c. (timeframe of the Exodus) is that circa 1350 b.c., Jason and the Argonauts navigated and portaged portions of then diminishing Lake Tritonis, now the desert basin of the Great Eastern Erg, and camels came into vogue about a thousand years after that, by the time that the Sahara had become fully desert with just a few oasis between hundreds of miles of desert wasteland. See much more here http://genesisveracityfoundation.com.

For now i'm prepared to dismiss as ridiculous the possibility his timing isn't as way of as his spacing ... his claim to have found THE explanation for this, that and the other tat but so it goes, i still don't need both hands to count the nonjewified americans, that is to say the ones who know that all this mass arrest and camp hype is a consequence of not turning the clock back a little so it can actually take a running jump across the reciprocatory hurdle of making red land white and black free, yet another population crash as the only act of reparation that could possibly count. A 'collapse' but not a massive die-off; no quid pro quo I4I stuff, no croakin from horrible diseases. Instead, calmly, collectedly and via voluntary incentive, migrate back to europe and africa in orderly fashion. Let's have a scenario contest.

Anyway, judging from the few snips i saw so far, he seems to offer the bible in hily dilute fashion so that's progress ... and i just made this the 22nd vid in my3rd vids in german list:
Anarcho-Syndikalistische Landkommune
(Monty Python sketch with the fake horse and 2 of them playing cunt sync lay) his comment facilitiess are off everywhere and he invites to come to the foundation for the big picture .. but he doesn't do pictures (though referring to them a lot). fuck that jazz.

hearing him on the radio proves he's a doubly jewified casualty.

New Rickels vids up; i wonder why once i thought he would only grow in value, he keeps on and mirrors flattens and parasites away at reality .... the long hard look i took at pars of the Devil Notebook is locked in the hard disc that needs a pcb soldering trick to liberate it ... any takers?

Netonomy: Money and Banking - HoloplexProductions

Weaponization of money. How is it that the same money will circulate through a gunshop as easily as through a tree nursery? We really need both of them and they are not mutually exclusive? The equivalence doctrine leaves those without qualms about using coercion props 'free' to distort centralism's capacity to be passive and transparant. The financializers 'suffer' (employ) the belief that if you soak folks (preferably those fabulously wealthy) in debt long enough they'll let go of a portion of their sovereignty and domain for a better position on the market/battlefield of abstractions and coinshaving via cpu x extent/reach. A classic view of debt is that it is a stimulus for welfare to be profitable and functional, no more than strictly necessary, certainly not indulgent or god forbid, lavish. An ever growing component of debts are backlogged expectations or unmourned missers, like an obsolete software engineering college degree debt, a grudge one bears and can carry out when 'calling' the titleholder to give up the collateral (a rapidly dwindling portion of present day soaring number shovers - quite literally too, as they like to dwell on hi floors and get surrounded by zombie wannabe projection, equally, not only great but hi expectation . as if the storage space isn't long since miniaturized, and again, literally so). Money is a morale thing, smartwar ammo, without the 'universal' and generic form of it we have, designed to erase not trace it's path, we'd never see so many mercenaries doing totally immoral things. It comes down to allowing children to play violence / war OR INSTEAD to teach them seedball composition and effectiveness. We need to eradicate guns for sure but the present day substitutes and sublimations aren't working out so great, ... largeness of numbers causing not largesse and choice Ed but ballooning of autisms, spreading of E-waste, diabolic effect of trying to keep its concentration below a deadly threshold. After man got removed from land (stolen anyway in most cases), he now loses practice focused functionality of his brain as well.

> National Geographic explains the biology of homosexuality --- Uploaded by dianegosh on Feb 4, 2009
> NatGeo explains how one's sexual orientation is determined during embryonic development. They look at how it is possible for one identical twin to be gay and the other to be straight. They address a new branch of Genetics called, Epigenetics. This area of Genetics explores and explains how one's DNA sequence is NOT the only factor in one's phenotypic (actual) outcome. This episode explains how both twins could have the gene for a disorder, yet only one twin actually has the disorder. The same science explains sexual orientation differences in twins. I have only included the homosexuality explanations.

you seem awful knowledgeable (and i say that after reading only a few comments) yet doubt arise. Cultural phenoms like diet are lighting fast, not to mention the benefit of consistently substituting permacultural seedballistics for killing. Sublimate outdate, obsolesce and transcend the latter with the former i'd say. Nothing to do with genes at all, just street smarts. Stop mixing messages, start mixing rockdusts and turds and crops.

Not that the latter aren't necessary. But are they by definition? I say no decidedly. It is, for me at least, easy to see the logic OF and agree TO this: raise the rent (see 15th of may comment at an afrisynergy vid - most of which is RT with Vijay Prashad).

i question not just your assertion Syrian soldiers are heroes, but wether soldiers, in so far as they do the usual weapon training, any soldiers, can be considered heroes, freedomfighters or useful at all. I question how humanity, how I and we train, see and indeed, conceive of them nowadays.

I am the world's first grippie evolved from a hippie who conceived of treeplanters as heroic .. but having followed some of the Sudan campaigns by 'Green Deserts' in the 80s (end results were the opposite of what Lawson asserts), and learned more about the 'rootedness' ('unoutroutableness', transliterated from the dutch 'onuitroeibaar'), iow, the (damn nigh) incurability of patriarchal tradition and inclination (a straightjacket if ever there was one) .. but pay attention to John Liu and see how a giant (benefitting from the much more reverently treated soils) blows the minds of the already miniaturizing chinese who, in general, already had been group and crowd obsessed but are now, on top of that, just as nastily, stack- & stockable crazed.

> shieh: John Robin has criticized permaculture for its potential to spread environmental weeds.[30] Another critique of permaculture is that the view that woods are more highly productive than farmland on the basis of the theory of ecological succession which states that net productivity declines as ecosystems mature is false. [31] Proponents of permaculture respond that this is only false if one includes data from climax vegetation as opposed to maturing forests. [32] Some critics have questioned whether there is enough scientifically tested data to validate many of the claims promoted by permaculture advocates. [31]

> Until recently China's Loess Plateau was one of the poorest regions of the country. But a major project is restoring fertility and hope. Centuries of continuous agriculture have removed the trees and leaving land vulnerable to erosion from wind and rain. An area the size of Belgium, its once fertile soils have been washed away, leaving a blighted land scarred with deep ravines - and farmers scarcely able to make a living. According to soil scientist John Liu, its a story repeated all over the world. For 15 years hes been following a remarkable project to replant trees and stablise the soils of the Loess Plateau. Once bare hillsides are now cloaked with green forest and productive fields. Earth Report follows John Liu on a journey from China to Africa to find out how the the lessons learnt re Loess Plateau could help restore degraded lands around the world.

Solutions are so simple: disoccupy urban enviros, claim marginal land instead, reclaim and fix it a la China loess plateau, filmed by John Liu, first in 95, when chinese bureaucrats had begun succeeding in bribing pastoralists to keep their animals penned in return for good feed.

Terracing, gully damming, treeplanting. Exactly the bottom up transformation to shame all 'defense' measures so far.

how many army barracks has that film reached? and how effectively have deeper connections been explained to the point they realize in shame that they are working for devils using devil tools? After saying it's better to pull out than staying in he goes:

> "you need to have a european central bank which actually is a central bank and funds the activity of it's nation#, rather than funding the activities of it's parliament which is all the actual european central bank is required to do. It's an enormous reversal but focusing on sovereign debt is focusing on the symptom rather than the cause."

- he means nationS i am sure and not the 'inNer-' but 'inTernation' concerning traffic / clearing reqs.

As such the EURO should have always been an ADD-ON and NOT a RE- AND DISPLACEMENT!

furthermore, not from the quote (nor elsewhere in this very short take on prolific work) is it made obvious that parliament was hi-jacked, powned (pawned with sell-outs), infiltrated, taken over 'con animus' by the private fundfundies, he calls the equivalence' "almost mechanically" (end of first quarter minute).
I call it rewarding public servants for public betrayal of the public. The 'market' cornerers idea of glorifying themselves by violating what should be respected partners. Kind of reflects what goes wrong on the eco fronts eh?

just after penning that last comment i find a treasure trove of Keen vids at Hartmann (SmaYcx2LqFI - 44m from a roun the same time, 2990x Vs):
debt is decripitude, the rate of having fallen behind on minimal maintenance. Hence the fray/fringe friction and uptick of/in hits on/for the defenseless it's the inverse of savings, the latter can be pictured as giant storehouses of fresh rockdust, how about filling the empty office spaces in the west and the entire ghost cities the chinese have built with it. Now imagine the long slow arduous road to go before you turn that stuff into deep black soil????? Now imagine what happens when the latter starts to sorely lacking and we begin measuring the damage and pointing fingers?

Rowan argues Tarpley soft-pedals the jews .. someplace .. around a week ago .. i'll try again to retrieve it.

Michael Hudson, though he trots out all the financialization tricks Protocolists and NaZis were boasting about rather than confessing to, never even utters the word jew.

WT speaks german which is a plus ... everybody has a few strong points and the trick is to compensate and clear them with and against each other, respectively. It's the art of a leader / employer.

You see many drawbacks in statism, but few in 'marketism', i see them capable, as in a good marriage, of balance, to be and stay on par, keeping each other honest, you need a minimum of 2 kinds of currencies, ... i've written plenty on that and so have others.

Funny enough, i think it was Keen i heard argue for a divorce (he was touted on major media last november and discussed at a good econ group called gang8) -- markets/money out of politics - MooP - End poligraft and bribe extension of pump and dump market unhygiene, aggressive fertilizer type asset strippery and debilitation foppery -- and yes, it's a lot like a separation, independence, not mixing incompatibles, not overstepping bounds, not violating/ monetizing quality orientions into monetizability .... and so MooP also means political money to come into it's own for once, the money that stays in politics and creates a string, a weave, a consistent waveconstellation of consensus and close quarter autonomy, a money that scales like none yet have, although decent examples and precedential trial runs are easy to find.

Let's have a little 'mOOp' (magnificence out of / coming forth from) politics -- 'Op de keper beschouwd' (= after all, looked at closely; 'keper' is a term from the finer textile industry), what are you, other than a politician, in that sense a statist? You try issue and spread your currency as far and wide as it'll go and be accepted like any bankamountebank raggamuffin quilting tissue to tissue.

Real political money once was (see beckerath, rittershausen) consensus and basics based, inclusive, anti-thetical to the coin with intrinsic value (paradoxically the 'free' [[rather than at a loss]] money), the no ties bullionshit .. which is a backing all too soon and easily cut short with goddamn bullets .. and it won't work very well with vast milling crowds, nor where they're coming and going long distance, covering ground of empty space lacking social infrastructure, it won't work beyond a certain concentration/scale range, hence aint failsafe. To wit, should it fail to retrieve and nurture the awareness it takes to stay grounded, garden-culture gets lost, rockets fire and hi-rises rise.

for those who don't understand these pathetic dutch dudes, the title refers to Maoist rebels banning beer ... which together with bibles (buybulls, after the bullbuy bear market turned a huge part of it's native range to desert) and bullets form the Threefoldness GRISTjinns wrestle with, the undead Babylon legacy, metastasizin to fuck up addional swaths of earth's crust n crumble, establish hell, fuck the humble.

For info on the Maoists look up Arundhati Roy and remember that Mao did no worse than the Hebrews, his famous ('trim je fit') march didn't last a fucking 40 years long to muster the courage to invade Palestine .. again AND he disbanded armies and sent them home with the content of emptied coffers in tiny denominations. Brill move. I would have no problem to vote for the top 10% of beer consumers/producers. I don't see anything worth voting for now.

tragic to see him drink pepsi and finger his antibiotic supplies .. right after i watched SusanPowter (the hi-test lady) rant against 'soda' cultsure, .. he paints large canvases of portraits and nudes for money, his films have a rainbow feel to them somehow .. chicks, rocks, gals, bare feet ...

... oops, ..? i meant: I would have no problem to vote for EXECUTING the top 10% of beer consumers/producers

Relative to mainstream sexual mores, paedophilia is marginal; as a grace note i might refer to Alphonso Lingis who lived among some Papua tribes where the latter was completely normal up to a certain age and tied into family structures. Papua being marginal to 'meanstream' (read: massified) societies.
And so we have an exactly double mirroring, all in a mere 2 sentences.

I am for the voluntarization of just about anything, from rocks* to education ... this causes open*(ING)*ness to run in virtuous circles but that's also it's weakness. You need some in the first place. And then there's a secondary danger: everybody tends to do and gravitate towards what they're good at .. which complexifies (it causes division of labour' and specialization, in one word [if i may coin it]: 'interdependenture'), that is, it could cause the massification to reach even more dangerous levels .. bycause there is no guarantee that modesty and autonomy will be the outcome even though i think that likely ... cause the abuses result directly from tabooz causing highly black jacked up and plain high market prices.

Against the status quo surviving by dint of decency and the force of habit. For better standing alotted trees.

A conscious effort to strenghten people's weak point, against their inclination, in order to achieve the all roundedness an autonomous, autark and self-sufficient, localized existence PRESUPPOSES AND REQUIRES a little bit of the forceful type direction jews for instance are in such great need of. I am not saying make the palestinians their keepers but kept they should be. Within guarded walls, framing a monastery type existence. Wean them from their irresponsibly high entitlement and self-culling oriented demography rates at serial host's expense and instead make them rely on their proficiency at living self-sufficient lives henceforth.

your confusion is legit, seeing that a rock artist in and true to the spirit of Cernunnos -- who stood for a way of life, with but a crumbly and cryptic statue or two remaining, making once tried and tested truths now hard to hit upon such mere hints -- hasn't stood up yet; not in any more effectively assertive ways than i have and know of anyways. pro ZG bias from the getgo one would suspect .. how could that ever get to buzzword/formula status? Beats me. Same way i never got how NORM (national organization of raw materials) could be clever enough name to go/get far enough.

.. anyways Molineux mentions the way to get (back) to full employment is to get back to growing by hand and do away with machinery at 105.25 in the discussion. Neither of these technocrat seem to think it worth their time to mention permaculture, even at such a prime lead-in point of the conversation, nor at similar junctures, not as a sidenote, no segway, simply nothing, which proves positively, to me anyways, that both are tecknackRats at heart.

And Schiz on top of that, to claim megalomania can be executed and engaged in non-toxically and organically is .... well .. not entirely impossilbe i guess but .. it'll take centuries to just clean up a little for starters and grow trees to sizes decent enough to actually experience the superiority of a treehouse on the ground and grounded for real over, say, a treehouse in some fancy floating 'lilypad' designed to hold 50thou. - see the designer lilypad amongst nearly a hundred pieces of tecKnockRatlike 'visionary' art in the vid remarked upon 4 notes back, called 'Arcologys: The city in a building'.

Worse than not even mentioning permaculture, the convo juncture i mentioned appears to be the triggerpoint for both to crescendo into painting the opponent's aims, thumbrules and guidelines as leaning straight into dystopia this Louis James guy (the producer, did nearly 30x .. watch his mug here for 1.25 on file-sharing: XFLq4jmAQeE) seems to think he can afford the luxury to not be affiliated, not be liased, not put eggs 'in any particular basket' and see no reason to join ... bla bla ... how about for defending against gangs mister courageously vulnerable? How about helping prevent them? i am always more interested in the relation between society and soil than in either of them separately, i even see the separation as criminal

.. cause it seems, if not THE cause of cycle breaking, a decisive factor in a 'progressive' money tides and circulations unhingement, separating soul from soil and soil from society uproots and 'off the handles' like nothing else can, the tools are cheaper, the wages higher and the competition no holds barred fiercer every day; loooong cue and line waiters bracing for an opp to join the unethics race, to turn themselves into predators and monies into speculative tools that TrY pump and dump as bubbles and bursts .. as inescapably as tsunamis and droughts. The tragedy is though, this artifice is easily and completely avoidable, just like any stink you can neutralize and set on it's proper 'recompostition course' after you dig around for it, dig it up, digit over and recover it, after perhaps a few energy harvest device installments. The hook is to have

at 7.30 you cite gresham's law but what is often left out of the equation is that bad money drives out good ONLY under monopoly condition, in other words where all sorts of coercions and threats thereof are what 'back' up the bad money (stands to reason payments stipulated in that sort of denomination are distasteful, hence bad). So the point this law makes is not having a choice (apart from trying to secede, (e)migrate or something) but conditions where payment in legal tender are a must, required.

Coercion precludes co-operation, yes, but those who 'avail themselves of that option also co-opt it, tarn 'mselves with the prestige of consensus. Threaten/bribe/eliminate those who resist at the top and replace with specially housetrained pawns. Presto, arms dealership called 'the state' secured. The state is always under assault and never could get to the stage where it began a variety index basket with photosynthetic rates as the unit of account rather than that wretched goldprice.

Nobody ever mentions that this is the kind of bad that drives good money offshore. Lots of people find the defense budget reason enough already. Curiously it hardly ever gets a mention as even a factor in the decision to dodge and evade taxation.

There IS (luckily) als a type of coercion that facilitates co-operation, leaves no other choice but the right ones but that's another story ... with high and well guarded walls enclosing spacious terrain w rations, instructions and paraphernalia to doorwortel both terrain and patient/inmate.

Help crowd-fund the third film in the George Ought to Help series.

At 2:25, in the section quoting from Bell's essay it says "using the organisation's public key", I think this is a mistake by Bell, and that this should be "using the organisation's private key".

Human Rights Injustice
http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=endscreen&v=GwjESLxP3YI&NR=1

> Published on May 28, 2012 by AnEarthMother (only 34 views) -- Interview with Sam, documenting her plight twelve years ago - after she reclaimed the streets with friends in Norfolk. Sam was also giving her time freely at Norwich Council, as she tried to help ensure viable & sustainable architectural proposals within the city. From the evidence which was discovered later, as you'll see, it appears that she was well and truly stitched up 'by the powers that be'. (Note also the lack of concern of authorities - as they continually ignored her pleas that her three year old child would be left alone in the house if she were not first able to contact someone - before the police carted her off.) Yet another disgusting account of human injustice for women in the UK.

Sam went to a hi sec. prison for 2 months and here's her end of the story: she was mixed up w someone who caused a disturbance due to alcohol not agreeing w her medication .. and ended up being abducted from her home and 3 year old ... though the witness was the babysitter ... just leaving .... ooookkkaaaaayyyyyyyy ... like .. hell, maybe she egged her friend on rather than failing to subdue her and trying to wiggle out of taking blame for even any of it .. and maybe she's the one trying to smear coppies with clever charges ... cause .. cause, you know, ... wild eyed fighting gal who likes her drinking deviltry.

reason given/suspected: her helping communities got her in the troubled suspect waters of the law's wrong side .. to the point where they were offered 380.000 pound bribes to drop the complaints .... must say she is a suspiciously glib spinner ... her tale is just too perfect ... though she admits to being very aversely affected by it all at the time. I've heard these kinds of tales before ... from other strong women.

in the 10th minute you equate egalitarianism to monogamy using the example of alphas, monopolizing group reproduction even and not just serial monogamy as typical for patriarchy.

in the 13th minute you assert women are way more neotenous than men focusing on appearance ('externalities', that is, without making any physical vs mental distinctions) and leaving out female alpha rule entirely, let alone reasons for non-prevalence.
in the 19th minute you claim this neoteny has patriarchy to thank for and in their respective entireties.

All of which makes for a retty hard core establishmentarian defense of fistmaking (all the way from clannish to corporate) i'd say ... but it leaves out excesses as well as potentials other than the tired old quanti over quali 'numorosity'.

Reprod. success is patricode for disegalitarianizing entitlement cultsure

Maturational delays caused, enabled and facilitated by hi protection culture is problematic and skew (to prune it out of men to allow more of it in women widens the gender gap, it objectifies the men).

Why stop short of taking the next few logical steps necessary to note that this often manifests, gets instrumentalized, not to say justified w hi birth-rates, setting a viciously run away rapcious type ciclicity of entitlements in cultural motion?

Bycause you'd rather not distinguish between such neotenies of 'utility' (scalability) vs those of aesthetics (focused inwardly to intimate circles, not ever widening gyres) under female rule and keep up resistance to understanding the benefits of matriarchy?

Ideally .. and soon possible ... neotenous pacifist geniuses instruct and reign in the potentially violent (specially in hi concentrations) butch boys, stops them from punching each other's lights out and coaxes/guides/tempts them into punching rocks' light on instead!!!!

Then all sorts of rituals and proportion lessons are necessary to keep demographix of all creatures involved in perspective and 'equalitharian' (the downscale trick, focus on the most numerous and tiniest participants in the great game unknown as deRockracy. Soil- vs oil[[and soul vs hole]]based fun).

Speaking of which, funny you should use tear ducts as example, hah!

Take air water and something to conduct the former through the latter along sequentially narrowed and widened paths (think of it as a train/array of accordeons going up and down along a vertical track rising and submerging on in and outbreaths - Wessel di Wesseli); it's like fucking .. has a lot to do with bracing and pacifying o so excitable parts rite?

'Good riddance' ... that expressive line is, 'incidentally', seen in the txt balloon of the natives looking up at a rocket on the cover of a Whole Earth Catalog publication called 'Space Colonies', the enemy take 'overer' - in dutch a conqueror is a 'veroveraar'). as far as i'm concerned you forgot to mention the very quality that can reconcile WITH, and has in the past already caused boundless credit and admiration to flow towards and follow western 'see (saw) through materialism' FROM cultures who remained closer to a garden ethic: soil building as/is duh soil banking.

Space travel is not just losing soil; it's betrayal squared cause it is live fuel- and lifelined with tortured forms .. not left behind; if only the 'good riddance' thought bubble above a native american as he stares at a rocket on the cover of 'space colonies' were true ... they left behind left alone, in peace to keep .. their distance and each other on their toes with suprises ... We don't need to leave, we need to leaf.

Repertoire rotery is as a wandering jew bufferdibluffing w tiny jewels that sport hi sparkle & polish to wow the country bumpkins; a media strategy dependent and relying on revolving door connections for on demand access so highly dispersed audiences keep income streams aflow/afloat, lifting the boat; the noah vision. you are hiding your, since i know you, obvious familiarity and making it as obscure and ambiguous as possible ... a first reader might think you are a great fan, hater of whores and feminists etcetera.

I have decided it must be professional deformation ... i am sure; in order to attract customers you must convey and inspire confidence in an ability to make a 'rise' appear, make it apparant (a parent to an edifice you will tuck and recycle, .. cachingringalingggghahh, feign and feint though it will be ... and a great big effort at that) ... all of which needs to be in evidence .. else .. if your need and enjoyment is as great as that of your customers why would they pay you instead of you them!!!! Bycause you let them have a perverse pleasure of being powerful as you restrain yourself and relieve the pressures of all you had to swallow on innocent forum and blog thread victims.

big bearded fella with light voice uttering islamic sentiment (and so i can see where you're coming from but hey, it's not about pure lust, ownership of bodies and parts .. but ineritance rights and all that)

He obviously brings out the devil in your honeysweetsoul .. she does exactly what she won't allow her targets TO do and attacks them for WHEN they do do it: voice enemy sentiment;

...your latest vid makes very clear not even colleagues with the same alledged goal in mind (defend the sexworker) get away without abuse .. but i could bounce that comment right back and claim it's not clear you repeat reporting .. etc. ... vs oopsying a slip of the freudian throat cancer, wallow in the dank depravity of would be supporters you just startled with scary noises.

the rest is kinda jumbled ... take it with a grain of salt .. it will be therapeutic for ya. Claim to aim for solidarity with very helpless and defenseless abused pissing posts all you want; i doubt not you witness much of it in real life. Why not get busy stopping it there and then instead of being upset about having it pointed at from a safe distance? Weird way to rally troups i'd say; tackled more sensibly exactly THAT would be wildly succesful cause all those things YOU are clearly SO not, you monopolizin control freak.

the encore, ... actually the first few paragraph i wrote for this (too long) response: This rests, obviously, on a confusion about what impersonation (ventriloquizing) reall is.

Is it OK to guess, divine and mimick all you want but to claim you are ignored, betrayed and blocked when and as soon as spot others do exactly the same; isn't it you rather than they? Who discounts and disqualifies appropriately and correctly here? Is it some sort of Chicken cosmic egg territorial entitlement pecking order complex????

i could make this way longer ... and it would go into the pretend percentages in rapes marriages and whorages .. etcetera but i don't feel like getting personal rite now.

Had i come across it 'stand alone' i would swiftly tag it singularly mean indeed. I realize you might have found it too hard to express effort in terms of drumbeats or mudhuts or carvings but what you did is tasteless, despite blacks in bombfactories, which i am sure there are. Tasteless also, is harping on feminine weaknesses, which, if true on the whole, still constitutes but a minor fraction of us furless primates' problems. Nerd tec X entitlement guile and savvy has long since left the gender fields and strikes them both from an institutional position, so your focus on the state is not wrong .. but .. if you want to speak of the state correctly, you need to begin at the beginning, the city state and all that, or Wittfogels' irrigation regime administration for that matter .. and why not even further back, since you harp on gender expression ... , matriarchal inheritance rules and all that .... like the fascinating, little docmented prestate state of being, so quaintly vidded at wabond for instance ... and i should search youtube for Briffault and R Graves, Pierre Clastres (beides Hakim Bey praising him around here someplace briefly as a 'classic')

Freeman on the Corbett Report sets off about 666 Cabals and ends up in Astana, then mentions paramagnetism and Roerich, in the 31st minute 31.06 he goes: "so much reality in Hollywood", note, not 'so much FOR' or 'so much UNreality'
... well, it's cause folks like you Freeman, hoover up bits, pieces and pretty cliche shards, then run to hollywood to see if other 'nobodies' and discarnates there want to buy it off ya for their mosaic rearrangementations, your sample and betrayal of it's principle rather, so they have something to aim their shitstreamat and can sully it with some such very special sauce for the lamestream force feed.

> Matriarchy is the absence of fatherhood. One parent. I think there's enough data out there that indicates which is better for children. So while I don't favor a patriarchy, and don't even necessarily think it's a realistic option unless some disaster hits us (because people won't be locked into ...) not just ideal, also historical:

Instead we suffer:
a constant stream of lying advertizement while actual choice - visionwise in a vote after stirring the rumour mill turn out, against the stream, that is, effectively and truthful - is not only rare, but then distorted to point it isn't one.

That ideal situation .. ain't it like and analogous to the regular hausfrau putting a price on her self from head, past twat to foot? That price can be set out of reach, .. Buffettlike high if not caring to be called on it ... but low if/when gregarious, 'humen', approachable and able to make the most of contacts, more, more immediately satisfying and more thoroughly than through the mediator/money.

Sure, Spinoza was in awe of the state and it served him as a substitute deity but it had aspects in operation that gave him reasons to feel that way (feelings he regrettably never much articulated but we have Ulrich von Beckerath et al for that .. yet).

this tune seems to require a lot of holding your breath (no pause) ... it reminds me of a beautifully read and illustrated bookvideo (about mermaids) at the YTAccount 'wabond' which has a section about female divers in japan ... Mister Bond speculates about the reasons for this folkcustom as follows: they kept their men out of the frigid water for maximum spermcount. Giving men a week off every month would have sufficed no?

ask GwW to do a vid in terms of muscle vs wit .. through the ages then i see this:

> I like your stuff, but think the latter portion of your video seems to ignore that: Success in dominance =/= superiority, except in matters of dominance. ----------- Inannalu
> girlwriteswhat .. responds to Inannalu

i began writing an answer to this but now think it's a moronically complex confusion of issues ... i mean, if someone were willing to champion your right to hold threatened ground/area (even if a mere washed up/out hero/newby - theme of a Robert Graves novel with a sowherd who reads world events in the behaviour of his animals - matrimagic) wouldn't you try to fit even unlikely candidates up and out for that task if you lived in such an 'at hand' rather than 'at fingertips' age? And is their picking-winners-prerogative in any way impaired and devolved by the type of field regressions (any more than it is here, in the field of tripe type??? Or are we seeing a perfect parallel / identity?? More on that IF you read on)

hey, have you noticed men neither find, nor can they shape, fashion, hew or recall them fields any longer either (who can culturally afford to look up, let alone honour and, forget it, practice counting coup????) .. is that cause women are in the game to win/dominate / ruin/ridicule it? (WJSidis has a few words on that in The Tribes and the States)

Can the war against fair fighting be a FemiTheist type ruse / piece of guile in the aeon old ... gender .. tides*(?)* between muscle and wit (got a vid on that in the works?) cause i presume she wants none of the Fallujah model birth defects and what small amount of men she tolerates will have to have intact chromosomes.
Men abusing and desecrating stolen goods. Robert Graves was a soldier who turned feminist; his 'tree-alphabet chapters are something i have fondly recalled (specially after and in rants like these) around the net dozens of times over the past decades. Yet, always adding that i traded his bloodymindedness for dust, fresh dust as the 'secret' ingredient for the very best start in life: the skill to build water- and househeating compost (it involves a fair amount of free space and being irrestible to animals .... better order your rock grinder today -)

> An onna-bugeisha (????) was a type of female warrior belonging to the Japanese upper class. Many wives, widows, daughters, and rebels answered the call of duty by engaging in battle, commonly alongside samurai men. They were members of the bushi (samurai) class in feudal Japan and were trained in the use of weapons to protect their household, family, and honor in times of war. They also represented a divergence from the traditional "housewife" role of the Japanese woman. They are sometimes mistakenly referred to as female samurai, although this is an oversimplification. Onna bugeisha were very important people in ancient Japan. Significant icons such as Empress Jingu, Tomoe Gozen, Nakano Takeko, and Hojo Masako were all onna bugeisha who came to have a significant impact on Japan.

narration in German .. but they basically say that a little faith goes a long way, ... either that or they hide the truth well ...

close ups of cobras being so used to the reverence bestowed on them locally (statues, world fame!!) that they are their moves in brisk *(foot)*traffic are the most leisurely. Sideslither: in dutch the roaduser is called verkeersdeelnemer (last part is 'participant', first part is 'wrong' when you add a d and with 'geslachts' in front of it comes to mean coitis, .. that last word without the s means bloodline and/or slaughtered .. depending on context ... which segways me into hi expectations that whoever of you lot lives close to CBG enough to get an interview or stalk of her mom going, should risk even the latter ... but study up on Deb Frisch for possible pitfalls first .... a very sad case. I did a few posts on her).

whoops, i decide to look for more .. having my appettite wetted by that camera tree into a tree crown ... and find this:

> 2010 Update: This year there were no incidents of cobras being brought into the city for the Nagulachavithi festival. It was a gradual but definite transformation from previous years of cruel catching, trapping, stitching of the mouth, and water deprivation for 10 to 15 days prior to the festival date. Almost all cobras die after this ordeal. It took us six years, but we're now in the 3rd year of zero cobras being used during the festival. It required a lot of awareness education and media publicity, coupled with raids with the Forest Department.

the answer is: bycause they have to pretend the kitty with ethical investment proposals is empty. Why? Cause that provides the excuse to go after the bad guys who 'did it' whodunnit and who get paid for pretending they dIDit with a token feint here or there for emphasis and to keep the herd huddled,, it's fish era tactics (just about over thank the PoliticklinCoreAct of seeing through and past the pretenderized rocksolidticktock in stock)

Question was:
"When Obama is telling us that we're running out of money, that the piggy bank is empty, it's just not true. Why do they lie to you"
Cause everybody better ('gefaelligst', .. or else) be'leaf' it, a rock is clean out, all empty, not a speck of dust left in it, .. at least not for you .. a hollowhood construct reserved for chosen few ... fall out .. as their consolation prize earned for the distasteful task of dealing with commoners (marrying into them in order to be better/easier shod for 'it').

Yall seem to want to be defiant, can't resist the urge, it's a NEED .. to express defiance, .. hope it's not the only last straw type avenue to experience selfworth of/for a non-submissive native population such as Gazans. I wonder if it's wise though.

I know you'd love IzLovers to think they were counterproductive and will thus choose peace but it's more likely that the madmen amongst them will feel they didn't hit you hard enough; often touted shamelessly across the panoply of their outlets filled with vassals and sell-outs on whom this trick worked its way into the stasis of wage slavery. So, .. a little more respect would be healthier perhaps, make feigning it a sport and pass-time (plenny of ops to have duh funny asides about hurt prides back and forth i should think) .... instead of denying Iz can flatten Gaza many times over if it likes ... prolly even without having to order any more hellish means than the ones on hand and in store already.

If a population aims to retain respect it may defend itself everywhere but unlike absentee landlords, imperialists or colonialists, make a stand in the place rightfully theirs only, the one to beautify and diversify, perhaps extend into hostile, difficult and marginal terrains adjoining (turning tides of encroaching deserts and aridicizations, make them resilience again, etcetera); these rootingspaces are often seen as a whole, whole and holy ones one should not monetize, make tradable and a matter of choice, forfeit and/or change too fast, too much and/or too wholesale.

If the UN is unable to stem and stop the domino effect of displacement by all out efforts to help repair and prepare disaster struck areas for the return of its refugees it's good for nothing. Today the UN is sabotaged and held hostage by those for whom rootedness is quite taboo (other than a token tool of deception) as the empire administrator classes (can't call them a people that's for sure) prefer trading and banking on movables while punishing all the others by means of the swiftest of modern ammo ... bits, not bullets. In my opinion it might have something to do with the least bloody fertility rite ever devised, advocated, practiced and depicted!!!!!
And what's more, 'on top'of that, 'topping that' off is my recent extrapolation of the rock pile monuments and prayerwheels being elements in this flower/flour

* my father actually employed the fathers of the 'racaille' so it stands to reason i try deal here - and have been dispensing perfect [MICRO-CLIMATE RESTORATION = permacultural] counsel for 2 decades; alas, the west has been imperially occupied and stops its ears to types like me .. and has been propelling it's own refugees since the wandering youknowho began to actively misshape and 'tumultuate' our culture. On top of that the west has acted as overcompassionate as the indians did at first and for far too long; idealists and refugees often can't really shake what they try leave behind any better than get back with help against the intruders .. and so they become viral vectors of what offended them.

To see fighting as inevitable is a curable sickness in my opinion; it's like having no clue how to turn sewage to hot water and compost ... easily fixed .... for starters, i would reestablish the true meaning of the words 'migrant work'; legislation needs to reflect the temporariness, performers return home.
then, develop a dynamic as follows:
desert dwellers coming over to appreciate the blessings of a temperate climate .. in order to 'wet their appetite' so much they gratefully and filled with ambition hurry back and establish/restore a litle of that for themselves; nothing about compost here you can't learn back there though - look up Geoff Lawton's work in Jordan.

 - plenny of rock to be crushed here to edge out the pharmaffia; a 'core' chore hinted at in minute, almost homeopathic doses in Finnegan's Wake, the Bible (and i'm not sure if the Quran manages to since i don't know it well enough .. but blood- not mudflow predominates there just as in the Bible, which is not suprising knowing both are failed reactions to violent means of dealing with population pressures).

As i was beginning to explain, making a remix of rock music, pilgrimages and freedomfights is my vision, what i consider my chore, what i see prayerwheels were working up to in their own good time .. but the chines will do away with it all as surely as the izzies with the palestinians unless we call a halt to the madness.

Permarockmud compost energy systems might be just the type of work even big machos can derive huge amounts of pride and status from, more than a realist, reactionary, expedience driven dupe who takes guns from the west and turns them on his own people could ever imagine and hope for anyway ... since they have life, not death as the dominant outcome .. for a change

What i just hinted at (i am sorry not to be able to point to good pages in french about poudres des pierres, ironic since france has the best and most ancient cultural religious hint 'in the house' - Rheims) can kill 2 birds with one stone:
2 -- take the privilege and bias out of the views and endeavors we now call globalist. That should free heaps of hopes up to raise standards that not only resemble tree cover and natural buffering but result in just such and are defined as exactly those outcomes.

you just earned yourself an unsub ... and i don't care if i come across 25 great compost vids during a wistful farewell glance around ... i mean, i wont even reverse my decision then.

i mean ... the space for roots in rocks race is as easily won as begun, a very&most superficial mining, i mean it can be done in the sun .. smooth and buff a peasant's palace .. roots cannot be outdone and you won't have to rob both past and future for it.

wood war ... have a chance if we were busy with hi altitude lense arrays that could gather, concentrate and store energy in fresh mud pools speckling the glassed in terraces hewn out of rock?? Am i the only one to remember the Whole Earth Catalog??
Wood war and their mongerers, coward number pushers have a chance to distract and recruit us from our swimming climbing dancing and living through all that mining left to leafiness???? = == == = mostly done by forces unbeatable on that score: roots!!!!

there IS a spacerace .. for roots in rocks a space for roots in rocks (note, not rockets) race is ON! ... call it a micro-space-race for all i care ... bring it on .. i'll micro-SPACE-race you!!

the race to help roots take 'space' in rocks, a race for roots in rocks .. the race to ace rocks .. a rockrace (note, not rocketrace) is ON!

this links to the vid/pod i just listened to .. . extremely dumbed down compared to what i am 'used' to from SK (only glance over occasionally though so 'use' is too strong a word); iow, for once, he slowmotionized his usually* hi-falutin analysis of 3PeaMontie -- metastasized and massmediafied as HiFreqWrecking via slow frogboil and shaves as imperceptible as pervasive and inescapable -- down to the point of detectability ... and yet he does stop short of stepping outside and getting his hands dirty .. he refers to the real green stuff soberly .. but obliquely .. almost clinically. He truly is on the fence here.

Then you can play with analogies of hi-rises and skyscrapers filled with dust ... or applications that are too thick and chokey or hit by such turbulence they was away and end up feeding deep sea fish ... a noble undertaking no doubt ... but you see where i'm going here i hope (still very easily defeating the 'I' that knows better obviously).

The Chinese are exactly as paranoid about Tibetans as they are criminals towards them and ultimately themselves; if they are allowed to pollute Tibet as much as they did their own turf they will get a double dose as it comes down from the higher elevations where a richer, more naive, innocent, purer, spiritually younger species of mankind is being cruelly cut off from their own, brutally molested course of development and ripening.

RUNAWAY SEXUAL SELECTION WITHOUT GENETIC CORRELATIONS: SOCIAL ENVIRONMENTS AND FLEXIBLE MATE CHOICE INITIATE AND ENHANCE THE FISHER PROCESS

indirect genetic effects;

mate choice plasticity;
social evolution

Female mating preferences are often flexible, reflecting the social environment in which they are expressed. Associated indirect genetic effects (IGEs) can affect the rate and direction of evolutionary change, but sexual selection models do not capture these dynamics. We incorporate IGEs into quantitative genetic models to explore how variation in social environments and mate choice flexibility influence Fisherian sexual selection. The importance of IGEs is that runaway sexual selection can occur in the absence of a genetic correlation between male traits and female preferences. Social influences can facilitate the initiation of the runaway process and increase the rate of trait elaboration. Incorporating costs to choice do not alter the main findings. Our model provides testable predictions: (1) genetic covariances between male traits and female preferences may not exist, (2) social flexibility in female choice will be common in populations experiencing strong sexual selection, (3) variation in social environments should be associated with rapid sexual trait divergence, and (4) secondary sexual traits will be more elaborate than previously predicted. Allowing feedback from the social environment resolves discrepancies between theoretical predictions and empirical data, such as why indirect selection on female preferences, theoretically weak, might be sufficient for preferences to become elaborated.

they recognize the percentages and extents of veiled ruthlessness a man will go to, de- and employ as, and mistake it for, traits they can claim, further, 'nurture and strenghten to their neotenous advantage, the opposite extremes of which come into play, both in- and outwardly:

being a lonely bee queen, intolerant to even the most synced and identical colleagiality on the one hand and on the other hand run numbers up the other end of numerosity the further, the more downscale towards single cellers and unproblematic, non-disputatious these are.

That's blaming women for patriarchy

A:: your defense of specialization is a white wash of becoming fabulously rich yet dangerously inflexible & dependent; it makes for hell on earth quite frankly. There IS however a defense of long haulage possible and my thoughts on it will get stolen waaaay faster than any and all briliance that i gifted freely before it: trace mineral imbalance adjustment/remedy!!

B:: THIS was very likely the real purpose & intent of many megalithic 'monuments'. Let's not take the slowly ripening mineral mill for a mere prayer wheel eh sinomen? In fact, let's not take them at all. Your misinterpretation rests on the disequalization tricks westerners taught you but which you yourselves made possible by allowing the jesuits to vector the weaponization of firework powders about.

> The prime reason I think that Gene Rosen is a hell of a lot more than any conspiratorial view I've heard so far is because his story is completely surreal. I mean in a perfect world this guy would have been arrested for what he did. Think about it.. There has just been a massacre involving children.. The neighborhood is swarming with police. There are six children unaccounted for, about an hour according to Gene. Meanwhile he's serving them juice and giving them stuffed animals to play with while their parents had to have been searching franticly with worry. Instead of being arrested he is paraded across every TV in America as some kind of hero. Grampy Gene seemed more like a pedophile to me. The other factor is many of the other cast of characters who are supposed to be in grief instead appear to be happy with no signs of the emotional distraught we would expect. Some of them seemed to be gleeful while they were spewing all this feel good crap from their mouths. My interpretation of Gene Rosen's many contradicting performances is based on a bad dream I had in which this tragedy was actually another mega ritual which involves a Saturnian cult which reaches the highest echelons of power!

> I've been doing some background checking on this Sidney Warburg booklet. It's actually a little amazing it got published again in Holland a few years back. I've got some info here in dutch: http://www.terugnaardebron.com/forum/index.php?showtopic=5046
> Shell was involved and after the booklet was republished, they commented that it has never been 'scientifically proven' that they were involved: they do not deny it. It transpires that there are only a few copies of the original left and one lost copy was with a dutch historian. Here's some interesting analysis: http://reformed-theology.org/html/books/wall_street/chapter_10.htm
> It accepts Sidney Warburg did not exist, but investigates what the book was really about and what was its goal. "If everybody uses Gold to back their units, what difference does it make whether they call it a Yuan or a Yen?"

Ehrm, .. well, bycause they don't and so it doesn't ... or rather they can't pretend their unit is more universal than Gold .. only sun/soil based units of account and stores of value can compete w it on that score, ... Dollarites tried for that most wanted centrality status but bog & buckle down in and under 'splodin cost of coercion, push&blowback from/via real sitelinks which call their bluff bluster and bullie shite, iow, 'cave' in on them like a ton of bricks .. not fake [&] fiduciary 'ceilings' easy to 'raise', the 'propper upper' 'resting' on the hidden ground here being the milplex, turning it*('s nevermore to be found sound any longer ground)* into off-limits disaster zones; it's called the 4940 gooooglie hit "strategic area denial" (listen to Douglas Dietrich what our evillords tried on that score in Iraq), or better yet: 'terra ANnullius', a truth schizoically aboutfaced into false flag revenue streammerce guided to 'free' world safehouses of the poxy clips.

Perhaps that wasn't very clear, let me try again: Technically, not 'everybody' does, ... just the distrustful or unfamiliar yet venturesome clearinghouse trader -- degenerated into a myopically numbers and code manipulating venture capitalist precipitously; gambling invaded the net and banking, hoaxes migrated from hollywood into the news business; working their moronism from home to destroy all homeliness far and wide -- who likes to see for himself if the transport costs of the local surplus cannot be lowered and to get a little fresh competition off to a good start; essentially it's a new market tool that makes up for inability to do a very thorough examination and or breach through and out of the circle of those already very habituated to and indeed, reliant on the price of something as is (and/or expressed in similar essentials).

Ultimately, the backing is the thing itself, secondarily, the desire for it and thirdly, tempered by the transportation difficulties; gold is a diffusion and risktaker tool ... paradoxically. Sunshine and soil formation will shortly become way more interesting. The lowland's golden age (based as it was on musketry, pure infamy of entitlement through 'fight unfairage') is almost over (thank gods and goddesses).
Hmm, that's prolly not much better eh?

The Dream Of Life Part 6 - Under The Spell Of Intellectual Property
51 minute long vid - 5thou Vs since last april - which opens with a weird wisper rap to beat w Alice in Wonderland illustrations, kinda tweaky next, in a loooong monologue (delivered in a pleasant even keel rote [rut, rotten?] intonation) Arthur slags any and all attempt at informing choice through precipitate, code, make believe *([p]re)*presentation. iow, the freemen and sovereignist style argumentation at work

.. which has an undeniable and definite relation to my releaf/relief, impression/writ, graven symbol/meaning, letter/'detritus' argument, as follows:
significance vs excavated and discarded cornerstone cumulative effects of leverage bundled vs fractionating mechanics thereof baby mistaken for bathwater complex ....

Arthur doesn't even touch on rocky aspects of structure, laying all that burden on intellectual properties; a concept that could not possible hold and bear such a load up and will not crumble but certainly buckle fold and crumple under 'it' and the sooner the purer 'it's' grade. E-waste spreading speeds are prolly not much lower than the less ('valuably') doped up and adrift plastics. Where's McLuhan when you need to retrieve, recall and repair this, he had a stroke before he could recall, correct or complement any of this, let alone in my sense. His religion kept him captive on the side of the globalizers .. suffering the onslaughts of and raw materializations for galactifyers.

if you take on hardcore sanctimonious man*(hoaxy)*hoods like these witchhunters ... prepare for them to come after you and steal your very name and get away with impunity .. easily .. like they did to Deb Frisch. They want you to leave them the hell alone to 'IT' all ... the satatically supremacist killing over great distances 'game' .. and if you bounce back so much as just their rhetoric, hold up a mirror ... they go apeshit, it paints them on you and they see their reflection between them and you ... so then they have to kill it to free, get to and be you ... but they might as well paint a target on you.

> You may recall that my question was along the lines of "Did Gaddafi and Assad know that al-Qaeda was a CIA false flag network? During the rendition program, detainees were sent to both of them, supposedly to be tortured into spilling the beans on al-Qaeda. Were these rendered prisoners just patsies, who themselves didn't know, or were they wise guys who did know? If the latter, what was to stop Gaddafi or Assad from putting them on public testimony to blow the whistle on the entire Gladio B strategy?" James Corbett asked Sibel this, around minute 52 of the audio, and she said (1) Assad in her opinion must have known all about it, and at least in the early years cooperated willingly with the grand deception, but (2) the people sent to him, such as the Canadian Maher Arar for instance, would have been patsies, not wise guys, so the possibility of double-crossing the CIA and > exposing the whole scheme would not have arisen. However, she didn’t discuss Gaddafi, and this story from 12 days ago looked to me like evidence that Gaddafi did receive wise guys, namely senior LIFG people, who must have known. So the question remains, why Gaddafi, or his intelligence chief, Musa Kusa, didn’t blow the whistle when they could have done. They must have been living in a fool’s paradise. You may recall that the UK (not the US) staged détentes with both Gadaffi and Assad before double-crossing them – RB

woe is me (harm comes to me, i come to harm)
woo is tied to persons .. and you are not wooed by groups but contenders (if you are popular and/or a great 'prize') .. i prolly can't fathom the strange binary in them last verses just yet but do know there's bigger differences between woe and woo than those already mentioned .. unless you ask anti-natalists - the west has a lot to learn there and seems to work it's way to the peaks from either end here and there with abortion and euthenasia.
Personally i think there is a hell of a lot of empty space just above rocky ground that could go green (go see a John Liu documentary about the Loess Plateau, not even rocky, just barren .. from tides that stopped turning), .. better way to go than to cheapen human life.

on windy days we go to the prayerwheel and feed the spinning boulders gravel into the space between them, so they slow down a little and actuall have a little more surface to work with than just where they touch and most likely smooth out so much that even light wind keeps it going. The bottom rocks have a concave bowl shaped tops [roughly, at first] wherein the spike is planted that supports the top windspun finned/'winged' (millarmed) rock through a hole in it's bottom .. (yeah .. gender role reversal from animate to inanimate .. stands to reason no?). we got prayer / crunch time when the power comes on.

rough beginnings are better fitted with a rope twist system so the tighter twists pull the top spinners up over the bumps and uneven surfaces until they settle into more and more full contact abrasion rotation miniaturization ... don't let the talk of ceilings fool you ... that's all old and dead school pretending their dying worldrules of whole and organic bulk substance still counts for something close to as much as it used to. Just as hollowed out appearance and facade industries have steadily gnawed the sturdiness of the whole construct to nothing, the insipidity with which paces are kept and accounted for .. with which fingers get kept on an also exploding amount of pulses .. all have kept pace with the insubstantiation. Gambling took over banking, hoaxywood takes over the news reporting. This is the evolution of demographic success on a grand scale, your punishment for lack of restraint is miniaturization and massification at the same time ('insectation').

All the techno social lube is becoming more inobtrusively intrusive .. more pervasive yet subtle, tinier yet more toxic.

> I completely agree. Sharia even under Saudi is like an ancient control. But my point, in the beginning is, most Syrians are educated. Many were taught English in the Universities. The rebels, on the other hand, are like the ones you spoke of. They run their lives based on religion. Most ALL rebels want Sharia, Syrians do NOT. This mindset destroys EVERY country unless its inception is still in place from the beginning, like Saudi. But these rebels do NOT represent the Syrians.

.. and yet, Dutch news continues to assert (blatantly lie is prolly more like it, like all the rotten hardcore western media in zionist hands) that Assad is blowing up his own villages 50 houses at a time .. against which Western Concern*(ED)s want to arm the rebels which can be done easily cause the jihadists are meek and tame as lambs waiting their turn and if they aren't given weapons they'd never make a grab for them they will just get busy building and instructing how to build little compost shrines in areas with broken down sewage systems.

* - truth is they are expressly lured and targetted with these weapons, those who reach them over keeping them aimed at themselves .. as yet unloaded ... i can't wait till these poor brutalized hi testy boys wise up and all that changes.

Problem as i see it is that those who are aware at all of this type kid (leaders, even in infancy) and try to sort of keep them in line rather than singling them out for extra attention (essence of 'spoiling the king' as Robert Graves never tired of enscenating) are often the same ones who are happy to see their own go into the army in order to stave off the fear of 'others', equally endowed but distant, at all stages of remove and remotation .. and most likely much more horrifically looked askance at, maltreated, sacrificed, given a disappear bonus, allowed to slip away ... or take over immigrant neighbourhoods in the dark someplace ... you get the picture.

just before the 1 hour mark Douglas goes into the "state dependence" Roosevelt plunged the americans into by taking them off gold .. hell why don't you kick him while he's down and claim he was tryin to it off them .. praps he did it IN ORDER TO take it off them even?
Like curing and speeding a cyclist up in order to sell his competitor whatever he's havin .. hell .. pharmaffiosi have been winning since the 1880s!! No! Decidely no.
No need to try survive on faith alone and 'merchandise' (say that in french and it means muddle along) with various degrees of [choose (1) or (2)] pawnoffa*(b)l(libl)*e bluff that, specially in the day and age of trace element starved, erosion ruled (and) sino miniaturazation addled hellishness galore don't amount to a wholesome hill of beans.

No love lost between me and genocidal (indjun) policy executing Teddy .. but it wasn't on this account ... after all he started out well enough ... basing value on very HAAAARD to beat appreciation for public worx!! ... windbreak / hedgerows plantin ... orchards maybe? ... prolly contour plowing and terracing, erosion fighting, .. pretty much all straight out of and towards the classic 'Tree-Crops' by J R Smith (published right then i believe)

Real statesmanship cannot do without State Money theorist G F Knapp, nor can it do without Beckerath (paper money expert AND great on the preceding paragon .. as well as continued base though more backgrounded, instantly remedial for those with lapses of trust, taking the umphf out of their thrust): gold!! -- check out my old pages for more ... how many layers deep can you dig to dish and stack a few choice bits out and up on your 'empty hand' bud (the one claimin to trade, move and surely also bear quite heavy loads of information's complement - alter-ego, nemesis?).

Well, just in case, here's to the times one can, must and should trust one's own teeth only. Here's to those who trust only their teeth ..... for whom cellulose just don't cut it/them. May them times and those too heavily scared and scarred by them soon be over and find mercy respectively. Better yet, may such times be behind us already.

Ulrich von Beckerath (who died in the 50s) was blind to hard currency's eco drawbacks .. that's about the only unkind thing i could say about him.

Ain't no balance if fresh dust isn't seen as a cornerstone, fundamental aggregate in the only thing valuable enough to put no feint all thrust in: soil building* ... in very very close conjuction with waste management ... we have to stop doing the hand me down multicult cesspooling of refuge and detritus, using them as the mercenaries and toilet attendants, E-waste processors and recipients of effluent, mixes that should never have been allowed to have gotten mixed up.

Set up a prayer / grindin mill high up where the winds howl ... send the dust down the river to fill a few narrow but tall dams and create a tiny little bit of flat ground amongst the natural steepness .. then to make things even more interesting ... try cut rins into the hillsides above such fresh fill valleys. It's the new biops bio ops, the black bio oppery. the unblock bio operation. The rock grinding dust wetting mud heating soil growing complex. Hard enough for yar new karatechoppbuttbudd yathink??????

we know very well that is the all too familiar prime sleepwellian recruiting pooltool to tickle trickle them into dreamspellians with ... which leads to absurdities such as using plastic waste stuffed plastic bottles to earthship into a home (would you promote that tox to the status of cobbing component .. after you realize it is, along with all pharmaffiose products, responsible for [p]/[re]mixing our genders to point where we are pricked and punctured by sharper and sharper wedge issues, sociologically polarizing ones, rising pointedly and ever sharpening to the point were they spike clear into the stratosphere and beyond, rocketrides for the 1%ers and we ordinary lot become politically ungovernable).

Speaking of money, we now see collective punishment in Cyprus taking place .. and between the lines one can read it as a penalty for allowing so many gangsters to bank (through) there (part 6 of corbettreport with Sibel) and giving the latter a fine and perfectly non-threatening haircut.

I wonder if this is the upshot of my pointing to Sibel and scolding some dutch lefties on a recent extremely rare recursion to and through my old haunts, i cursed them and the entire dutch historian elite for not finding their own way there.

It's the only way taxdodging bulkdrugbullies and blackbudgeteers who tox target audiences up and fleece them indiscriminately other than first come first serve, will be made to feel the long, brittle, timid and 'unterwanderte'* arm of the law .. ( too many of them are part of the latter).*

the Kudlow report takes a similar approach .. but i just saw the headline .. it's hard for me to stomach more than that concerning any of this ... i warned about these days decades ago and it could have all been pre-empted in a nice way and at leisure.

DD is a man who survived the most brutal most gently to date .. that is to say, not so gently - in the sense of timid and cowering - as most who skulk away in shame, feeling nihilistic, anti-natalist and generally misanthropic but social enough to not only survive, but claim and proclaim it.

Tragic enough, he has no clue about expressing agression constructively .. in a way that not only spares and heals lives at a fraction of the cost the great security through surveillance and it's dark twin from times immemorial, with 'kop van jut' seat in jerusalem: globalism through remotation. That never yet has become part of a warrior code ... but it had conquered the hunter societies at one point .. so there's hope. The road we're now on would make warrriors a dying breed also though, they already are, at an alarmly profusing rate hike fan, firming up into merciless chop chop chakaratans ... as bodilybusy as kikes flyin up&down the toll and bribe heavy transport pike and variety of ways.

For some a soundboard is enough, for others a mirror ... for many a familiar sight .. but for those who've seen the rapids of not just water, a sense of justice is firmly placed in conjuction with the possibility of it and the burbles and splatters, all quicken the ear and feelings of reciprocity are sure to follow and flower into an awareness of how to feed the people.

DD said only the very rich and very poor can concern themselves with being close to the land ... and he's not wrong ... but first we have this epic worldwide battle for judicial perspective to get on and over with

John Zube vs PoetPiet
JZ claims the rich are not the problem, a mere drop in the bucket.
PP asserts that giving the top 1% a good shave should be state/team sport number 1.

If this meme war results in me winning (the dutch say 'falls out in my favor') you'd see a hell of a lot less delegation, the flowering of encryption as the anonymou side of each and every person finally free, unfettered and ... enough to come out .. all the way out and about in finest finery.

> This won't do, Tarples, old boy. We weren't born yesterday. Even the most cursory study of covert political history in the 19th and 20th century will show beyond the shadow of any doubt that the Catholic Church is not only in bed with global fascism, but also engaged in the most uninhibited sex with it. One of the things that makes Tarples blind to this is fixation on the UKUSAians as the root of all evil. Fascism is a European phenomenon, and a common if not universal precondition for it is a large Catholic base. Certainly, UKUSAian secret services foster fascism, wherever the feared alternative is the Left, but so does the Catholic Church. In some countries, the Church and the fascist movement are practically one and the same thing – RB > agression serves to up mating opps, not vica versa. OK.

the first draft: Force vs Power - The coercion factor thins the throngs and steepens the hierarchies, eliminates and disqualifies. Ritualization preps, delays, flattens and stretches the range of access, right?

A clean slate pretense may do the trick if such a least catching one catches on nevertheless; the beauty of new beginnings (on topic right?):
distributing trace minerals (rocks) so they grow soil better faster and more plentiful, period.

You are neglecting the provider aspects of possible aggro scenarios/rules which lead to abundance .. Grandiose Gauntlet games that install soil holding ridges and terraces in rugged steep terrain, setting aggregate agrow*(winwin)* at minimal imposition cost (unless you want to argue that turning rock to soil is an annihilative imposition on rock and an imprisonment of 'wetware'/weather?), '*(micro)*powder thrown in pools may pre-empt power formation but not sure if there's a way back from the latter to much lower/earlier levels of the stackery staggery.

Far as i can tell i'm the only one who suspects this trick got whites a great name via Cernunnos and even though he could convert/recruit the romans, their move southwards, which would have greened and juiced most of it's desolation back up, 'shei*(s)*tered' and failed. Since then sCARcity-feminism is/has weaponized patriarchy.

agression serves to up mating opps, not vica versa. OK, agree .. unless one (and only imagineers) has*(/ve)* nefarious premeditated designs on the resulting demographic, thereby making it 'incontinent', a 'selffoolfilling' 'profitsee'.
Let's distinguish between the force (use of) that feeds power -- command hierarchies, and includes the for*(S)*moolah (smoel = big mouth in Dutch) which claims to fight/oppose Power*(Abuse)* yet feeds it just the same -- and on the other hand the type that makes pacifism forceful yet voluntarizing; the former we'll call the Coercion Factor, which thins the throngs and steepens the hierarchies, eliminates and disqualifies, the latter qualifies as ritualization delay and prep to flatten and stretch the range of access, right? How about naming that Preligion.

Coercion vs Preligion.
No downtown clean slate /reset pretense protest for me .. didn't work and the tea party folks are scrambling to acquire the badly bubbling and kept firmly in the realm of illusoritis gun=defense meme on account of fuse shortening bankster imposed austerity but also at, of course, their own expense.

Remote, left alone, outasight and yet, caught on camera nonetheless? Croppies? No, (fresh) dust used as ink*, .. dreamed of, schemed and plotted the very thing in the mid eighties ... before cropism took off, a very weak ghost of a shadow of the real thing -- which i take equally serious as the flying intellit*(r)ekkies; scheduled 'line(off)*lighters' are less evil but still .. if it ain't wearin feathers it's wingnutters -- cause, annual.

* - the longer the term (and better the garden practice), the more perrenially indelible the writ, (fricfrac) unleashment*(ality)* which opens, frees, mobilizes down to/from the prehistoric prime precursor of the very everyman's will itself .. from micro levels on up; continued here: # .. if you wanna skip the crap grapplage.

Mountain top monastery prayers may do the trick (Jose Arguelles wrote a whole armageddon type novel based on it: Arcturus Rising) but prolly won't cause they lost momentum, got rutted in tradition and it's too late in the season to ripen into what can not be seen (rooting)* without a few visionary lense triangulation to clear the timeline horizons and not be caught on and brought down by them. * see old work for qualifyers.

Tibetan monks do mime Rock*(ByHand)*Breaking or [more likely] flintchipping maybe and so i wouldn't mind if they could fast forward that ... as Sonam Wangmo did with their music.

Amazing Tibet Music Video == 8x15m, an epic journey with slowly panning scenery and close ups; steeped in unconventional compositions by Sonam Wangmo who was quite notorious for originality .. yet attained a kind of high rank in the Chinese army somehow; she looks like someone i dated long ago .... .558x taller of course. Remarkably, the Chinese are nowhere visible in the footage ... did all this happen before she moved down into the decrepitly multicultimaxmixed lower lands.

i'm on 6 of 8 now and the songs have all been recognizabe enough to entice followership yet odd; the main star did make it very big (chinese army, most prestigious galas, grandest outdoor thingies). Obviously Sonam Wangmo tried in her lonesome to get a huge movement going, get loads of artists the freedom to experiment and loosen the lifeline strips of straps (flipsides of burdenbeast gear) gone rigid, binds too tight; dried into straightjackets; she figured they brittled to the point of taking a deep breath and having a audial massage blast lay the groundwork and awaken the hunger for deeper and more thorough nudges and squeezes ... would be enough to burst them asunder last FL show disappointed me severely ... lots of chitchat .. then that totally Sokalian X Joycean Bible scholar spewing obscure oxymorons and dubious conjectures .. or at least packaging the spare facts in the former very very thickly. A section on North Koreas's ease with which they'd take out the US if they wanted to but won't cause they live on the counterfeit, having been at the printer centuries before gutenberg ... he gets kinda emphatic about the west living in a dream world. His opponents will use that second half hour to assert he is an internet supremacist (which is close enough to a closet on to not have to bother; we got see-through pass on case by case closet seriality and soon the heap will mount so high Joyceaniation of the infosphere we'll all begin to feel with McLuhan that we have the inhousefoesphere getting to uppity and trying the hide the off, down, out and history button, ... how childish).

> what do they mean, you have to permit drones in order to 'attract investment'? …. Well, these staggeringly weak arguments come from the AP article at the link: "In some states economic concerns have trumped public unease. In Oklahoma, an anti-drone bill was shelved at the request of Republican Governor Mary Fallin, who was concerned it might hinder growth of the state's drone industry. The North Dakota state Senate killed a drone bill in part because it might impede the state's chances of being selected by the FAA as one of six national drone test sites, which could generate local jobs." – RB

.. made of toxic plastic ... etcetera. It turns him into a liar and he self-harmingly squanders his right to utter words like 'inner heart' (song title) without doing even more damage by spreading his particular dreamy mode of coping with it all. Change begins with accurate formulation of preference according to simple rule of (GREEN) thumb as follows: i'd prefer to not roll with the punches but instead, ban chemistry other than that which happens in a compost heap, a being's guts ..

..and THEN speak the word 'inner' again but this time for real/reel? No, for clean and conscience/karma cleanser ... and to ripen the thoughts, words and formulaicism into soil building, a rooting nomadism that heals, a Tibetanism that cures. The Nazis weren't able to fully complete discovery and confirm their hopes, let alone connect and hook it up .. but i think i've made it child's play. End the divide and rule between weapon toy and tool!!!!! Turn the prayerwheel .. churn me that rock composter, drill a few holes for wingmillmounds and wooooosh .... eagle day soon.

i want you to be able to say: Tibet is where China turned green, or learned to turn green .. something (catchy) to that effect.

non-violence policies should never abstain from excertion and indeed tibetans do not; their prostration tactic is strenuous to the max but it also signals a submission that irks and is irresistable to folk who think of themselves as militants .. and can't resist the temptation of making cheap, easy and cowardly conquests.

nonviolence policies can and should be all the more forceful bycause of it; intelligent use of it avoids co-ercion

Are you also alysdexia? - i answer: well, i'm a fan of james joyce, though cautious about the alcohol induced runonnery he inherited from his father apparantly. Other than that, i do believe word tweakers and mechanics often run the risk of becoming weaponized, less often find deeper meanings and even more rare, put the whole thing in perspective, like me. Andrew Lehman at neoteny.org was a big help ... crossing him with Otto Weininger and the whoe GWW etcetera crowd gets you very close to autism / artism abused as a supremacy tool .... hope that answers your question .. with only one fresh coinage to it.

Nope, the INTERNET dark room, distancing, anti-bio-industrial jumbo dumbo numbo code 'feed' (notice how my coinage reflects that 'bio' is now under attack from within as well as from without) - and the instrumentalizable savantry masterminders of multiculture aim to breed would not introduce useful and totally transparant standardization or displace, streamline and harmonize any discrepancy and compartmentalization ('cureUsee'), not even if they were free to do so since each has the urge to be uniquely on target .. think of it as the folkdance with concessions about movement but absolute originality in/of outfit. had a little trouble retrieving this .. rifled through all this year's files with composer .. i really didn't think it's already been 5m .. and then, realizing i remembered Brand's first name wrong (Russell instead of that nasty traitor / sell-out (held hostage by hosts from hell for all i don't know) guy Steward) went via google .. which brought the right vid up top instantly with just 'brand dalai' for search terms poetpiet 5 months ago said: what a pile of multimirror reversals there; tricks of the bounced light. anybody got an infographic handy that crossconnects compeNtently: prayer wheels, spinner rims, windmills, rockgrinders and compost heaps with rockdust in 'm? ? ?

Gotta upgrade me headstart on keeping track of what will matter when the markets get real about marking matters .. if ever .. so the gods can grant us a passing grade due to the grate sense of grit we ripen our converts into acquiring, ..those who bear us out and up (most of them dead as well as unborn in my case it seems) try pass to Russ&Dal & yall ... 3 years later i can't immediately recall who i meant with 'Dal'

- compeNtently???
== what i meant was (prolly) a mix of competent and penitent ... or was i trying to say compensatorily ???... don't you hate trying to second guess yourself and then finding that expansion bears dangers of delusion --- which tempt you into diminishment and dilution of distance .... with which the distancing monetizers tempt you into juggling waarde en zwaarte [value and weight] .. the anglo world has lost much of what helps keep your focus on micromanageables*(schaetzen is guage as verb but schatz is treasure in german)* -- that [ang]lingo wielders have an easier time of tempt you into double takes /doubts and doublings, doublures and runaround to keep from running aground ... they opiate and gamble their psyop ammo together like it was firewood ... which says a lot about the dilute / delude potential of blood quotients / quanti and quota feeding derives, slides and liminal .. dare i say coin shaving marginality, just to name a jumpy pouncy and bouncy parasitism that squarely implicates desert meme carriers who haven't known more friendly enviros than hi risk ones for aeons and aeons ... prehominid days even, when we talk about the 'harde kern'.

in the course of the search i come across the long .. 2001 Times article on Dawawa .. eh .. Dadawa (liddul chinese gal w big voice who did much for tibet) which has a chinese person saying the prayerwheels 'sound savage' (to emphasize the Tibetan supposed feudalism that carries and/or is carried through the rest of that quote).

which leaders bring polluting people, processes and materials to Tibet? which ones egg their underlings on into frenzied pursuit of monetary lucre and luxury? where are decisionmakers taking all the wrong cues and clues from the west, after the latter did exactly that. in the opposite direction and prior to it (so, obviously to blame as/for precedent, which is a weight on my conscience driving my tapping fingers; please help me in my efforts to shift to real and beneficient weights).

the feeling that wins out over pure and sheer gratitude very often and quite forcefully: many a sick mom refuses her cure from / via their very own children .. .tailormade by god himself but not good enough, wrong even, taken to be wrongheaded and malicious even .. to the exact extent she refuses a little soul searching ... believing that sort of slack and luxury will soon overwhelm the focus on survival, lessen your income, etcetera.

99th and 100th in my tragicomedoid list

...ps2: in the last part they seem to go hunting for a plant driven to near eradication, it's a vine they seem to want to prove the strength of ... obviously a plant that is for the chinese what willow is/was for the dutch. Not quite as easy though, very steep ground and thorny (for obvious reasons).
They now turn empty harnesses into shrines to display their food in front of until they get too hungry to keep on praying and from eating > Rickels' essay explores the trajectory of Birnam Wood, the immobility of which was the guarantee the witches issued Macbeth that he would remain inviolate save for the impossible prospect of the wood*(s)* advancing. Tracking its unnatural advance forward through the crowd symbolization of the forest as German army (in Canetti's Crowds and Power), which bears close association with fire's mobility according to both Canetti and Bachelard, the essay closes with the evolutionary SF forecast of trees walking in hunting-pack formation unto the end of the world (in Wyndham's The Day of the Triffids). The mobilization of naturally grounded wood*(s)* as standing reserve offers an inside view of technologization in advance of the externalities of a machine age. Moving back to the Trojan Horse from the vantage point of Freud's analysis of the Macbeths as among those "wrecked by success", the essay adds theory to genealogy and considers the longstanding tendency to identify with losing causes, even those of villains, and preserve their interests or legacies through projection of a reversal of history.

Q for douglas: the class action suit about recognizing interracial marriages is unlikely to have been a condition the japanese imposed as they 'sued' for the Marshall Plan and the armistice or cessation of animosities in april 52

hey, that fucking ambassador was one literally .. with little boys on the other end .. just saying .. lybians might not tolerate that, let alone their occupation force by US proxy;

sparky speaks to a pudg blackkkristian
metaphors are like branches, some will condone your grasp, conduct your momentum and if you don't let go, keep you around, hold you up as long as you keep your hold up ... but others will interrupture both your trajectories and let you down, go down with and perhaps on or after you; gravity rules and lifting it into trees is an uncommon metaphor; choose carefully. An icebear leaping from one floe to another (schots in D) better indicates precarity and temporality of liminal shifty metaphlo*(w)*erz

just so my comment goes full cirlce, like a shot (heard?) around the world: you are living proof an army career can be survived without getting run and ruled (over) by satanism .. as it's top levels apparantly are (worse actually, there they sacrifice to suffering [the delegation and substitution delusion], a process that searches out one fresh target after the other but completely suppress surpass and usurp the string of parties just run and ruled over [and out], loot from which must be weaponized pronto to face the next 'threat').

In other words, you are exceptional already but i can up that game; judging by your tolerance for pudges who never saw physical hardship of the leankeeping kind (nor the meanmaking one in his case) that is routine on a*(n army)* base (lean back when you roar if you go and run the danger of hearing him say 'basis' ever again) ..

the basis of metaphors does not equite to metaphors for bass, bases and basics but that is bycause a great consequence of monotheism is the equivalence theory (equality merely an offshoot, or secondary trunk if you insist), it equates, equivaluates all incommensurates and incompatibles into great big heaps where bad apples will rot bushels, mores, morals and ethics clash and folks get confused about even their own trash, then infection spreads but not bycause we so badly knead .. to play chosen ones, even away from home; due to said gamble on being the bookkeeper for the world; the nerd that could always choose between letters, buckets of mud, coins and bullets ... but ooooh horrorrrr, .. an inbreeding for prized properties inevitably ricochets back into a need for dilutions to defuse and dilute if not delete drawback traits that seem to insist on growing alongside every such fixated effort.

that said, i will put forth/out my concept of the 'base' (basis bass bottomline) metaphor / worldview / blueprint i live by (and off of, karmically even for all i know and can suspect / piece together): the lowly, the talking rock, the ruling gravity, honoured and tickled into deep soil and tall tree. We must do the Real DoD thing: completely decentralize, disperse dilute and diffuse if not altogether defuse conflict by way of doing same with powersources:
if this be done in service of turning rock to soil to trees .. so much the better.

shatterthedarkness.net ('SPIRITUAL WARFARE') .. makes me think of a slogan for less schizoid knittage of extremes:
shatter then scatter the darkness, it's dryness draughted, it's dust quenched, it's rootroutes open to terraraised vegetation traffic

Many a serpent, the very largest one for instance, is and most REPTILES have remained close to their medium: MUD .. which in turn is the closest thing to ROCK; both .. but not so much the middle term oddly enough, collectively revered and worshiped (i counsel the 'wormshaping' of the latter - dust rock into rockdust), the 'middlemin' receive appreciation on a much more peacemeal basis but sooner or later, over the centuries, it seems - specially if this knowledge sinks in and/or retreats to the deeper layers of consciousness, goin for an extended permanent nap until futher notice .. much like rock itself really - there's an overshoot, an incontinence, an aggregation and the embedded autonomy inevitably derails into the crowds and crowdedness phase cause the going gets easy enough for ease to get going (and goget yet more shortcuts, then shortfalls) ... bycause and when the Rock To Soil Pioneering Professions are, in the interest of herding profiteurs (centralizers, etcetera) frowned upon, marginalized, hunted down and taken out of the game, then the space race takes the place of the micro spacing *(t)*race.

Check the sanctuaries (guest workers and refugee redeeming stations, holy places) in/of the world. Might they not have started out as SPP training grounds? Where's the compostheaper .. the windowpeeper in state .. our dust clear out of rocksweeper starting*(r)*ate, that brotherly keeper .. when you are all of them stirring solves into circulls who rune (note: don't read ruin) a place to run to and around in?

1:18 = "breaking through to the other side" .. more attractive than the light one .. about the Process Church (Ed's confessed pet peeve).

1:40 on simon levenda about evil ones who are, he claims, nevertheless useful and used (employable) as gateopeners ... reminds me of the rule of thumb that one can always allow at least half of a criminal mob to take the steady income from willingness to harass the other half into a change of carreers too and a more drastic one, having missed the early adopter bonus that affords a large wallop of nostalgia and taking pity on a former self as it were.

Cracking locks (rather than rocks)* does kinda relate to the anecdote just before that, about the criminal whimsy of creating random dots or splats patterns to sell them as accurate as acupuncture charts. And here ends my account of the ongoing goings on and gone too far off the scatter magic 'mark' (mineral arc)*.

an army officer wrote about his visit to a work camp (migrant labour) run by nazis claiming they all went home happy and for local standards wealthy. He called the book 'the german people in hard ('heavy' is the word used) times' i couldn't find it via the author and/or booktitle so resorted to:

note: always change the modern/local formula back to .com or no images will show .. in this case it's the third picture you went looking for and chasing after. thanks for that.

Miles Hingston's more personal account seems to be gone .. for a minute i thought i managed to make more on an impression on him than i seem to be able to connect (disconnection) consequences to the thinking i expressed towards him last year .. if i wanted to be consistent that is .. and i do very much .. but i am leaving it up to all those jesus worshipers to start holding jesus contests at which point i am sure to win loads of support, no doubt in MY mind*(s)*.

... kinda telling he calls fucking life up 'printing'. That should tell you enough right of. Evil is totally transparant .. if you know what to look for.

all this is straight off and onwards from the hedweb ... the pharmaffiose place i discovered and got quite upset over / about / against in 2000 i believe.

.. and yet it is no more outrageous than Peter Collins really ... this guy uses the colour code method too ... but then has the temerity to turn a little knowledge into stupid applications (components of his fever dreams really) ... juxtaposing selections of fruits and detergents and worse, equating them raw materialwise (as he did in an early slide of this vid) ... it makes me as raging mad as i need to be for this here little critical note ... which gets, i am all too well aware, stored on the very type of medium i've been railing against and seeking help for a release from for quite some time already by the way .. but my life started in captivity so i have an excuse, the audience (my parents) captivating [by the devil] show of*(f of)* cutcorner and market corner motivated pressures marred and marked me much worse than the tribe Pierre Clastres studied kept their own their own and culled of sorts.

Pressures my parents suffered swept them along if they wanted to afford themselves the illusion you were leaving starvation levels behind and closing the gap with better choice prospects .. and not even thinking about having to make amends, rethink, clean up and undo or anything like that.

on Kokesh

Kokesh seems to 'gun' (forgive pun) for a clean slate, a transparant, accountable, sovereign and autonomous and peaceful reconstitution (alizing / -ality / -alization)

stated aims are often a recalibration, a kind of restatement (and in need thereof continually until those very lovely (long run tried and true) things which bear repeating are retrieved and can be faithfully reproduced);

two: all monies are in a relative state .. of more .. or less grace (even .. i mean especially), choice enhancing complementary and community ones which, i agree, need reINstatement. It's like having one vs many gears, lanes, velocities .. quite in accordance with lifespans and paces in varigate places ... or like a ladder with only the top rungs left, having replaced, improved obsoleted the lower/ earlier stages

how to grow a few more 'presidents' from scratch which have -- like the lone 75 meter tall champ featured as foldout in the Dutch edition of the NatGeo december 2012 -- good prospects of reaching his old age as well, 3200 years!! .. now that's no mere state, that's STANDING .. you innerstandat buoywah? Look forward to seeing us, the masses, turn rock to wood and fix our brokenness.

Can you overdo it?

Not as far as basics are concerned; you just don't delegate the good things in life unless you are absolutely forced to .. and you don't spray the vicinity with nasty polluting hard to retrieve ammo unless absolutely threatened ..

To me Adam has proven to not derive his identity from a shoot first ask later mentality when he publically wrestled with above issues .. and though not quite breaking through to the mother/muddier side yet, i doubt not he'll see the point of shooting the compost heap full of the tiniest, gentlest and softest 'kiss of live ammo' imaginable: polvo de piedras .. comprende sombrarbro?

don't hate, don't hate the state, don't even hate the state of a state, no matter how evil it has become.

growing a state is too nice a process to hate, the states many a state slouched into
DO however require a little remedial ire
.. and that is best done and done best without gunfire

(there's a tibetan ritual that is unfortunately not a daily waste pool&digest pow(d)erhouse kind of thing but it does involve blowing and throwing a little dust or meal around):

do a little sleigh of hand to fist closing with in one a solid hard rock and in the other a similar sized but softened, opened one .. now which one do i open and to blow a rock up in one big breath. Riddle me that bro! Fundamental task of the state is to transform rock, soil to be, from one state (too hard to be soil) to the state of 'supplement', soil for all to be dependent on, benefit, spring and hail from, flex for .. etcetera. F*(l)*avoring the commonalities of man is to favor the common man. Simple.

Biolit is an austrian brand rockdust (the quarry is near a famous place for skiing; they supply the railroad) and the tank is actually a tanker which can move through forest and, as visible in a very nice video called 'Gülle mit Bio-Lit-Steinmehl aufwerten - YouTube' showing a slurry tank being stirred ahead of time and then injected with the dustcloud seen in this picture. I wondered aloud why NATO isn't even lipservicing this principle and instead has opted for the money through cruelty at the

what you say is correct .. but incomplete; not everybody dares to present explosive hoaxes as bare and spare as you do, instead will dilute their hoax disclosure courage with admixture of hoaxed hoaxes, gambling on prosecutors being repelled by village idiot smokescreens better and more than the closer scrutinizers they aim for. Gambling took over banking, hoaxywoodies likewise did a hostile invasion of news; all of it sluiced through same box, same place .. same face is next 'logical' misstep..

and the fabulalia goes deeper (in hindsight i shouldn't have sent Ry this over the top stuff, it gets him triggered):

btw, Douglas Dietrich's latest ak0693_JvuI --- ['DD' in my notes]

The second half hour touches on the Kobe 100 Billion in damages earthquake disaster as domestic terrorism and hints vaguely the energy weapon used by the japanese cult may have played a role in 9/11 for which stuxnet was used on fukushima as payback. Did i get that right?

Annie Jacobsen wrote on area 51 and DD calls it a good book but also alledges the last 7 pages [containing a fable .. afeeble fib .. enfeebilation] were added under duress ... although she got compensated for loss of reputation, all in an effort to deflect attention from 'amerinese' folk ...... robbed of citizenship and slowly tortured to death, to say nothing of japanese war prisoners. She got 'dicktattlered' thus:

russians breed stunted growth humans to fly ultralites after a 'Horton Flying Wing' got captured by the russians and Stalin proceeded to work with Mengele on breeding midgets modeled after the captured pilots.

Dietrich asserts / alledges / fantasizes that such a move was made to counter him (steal his fire so to speak) as Bruce from Toronto interjects (something DD got furious about his previous caller doing .. prolly just nervous about pulling this whole spiel off credibly enough - no offense).

good format .. but will i succeed here? I am slowly getting mighty mad ... this is a playlist page .. and it lists a few more, one of which is in caps and called 'kissable documentaries'
apparently they managed to spin the phrase 'Zero Waste' into something of a regional PR buzz and waged pabulum generator .. for those who are stubbornly set on being against all odds optimistic, happy to whittle away a mere percent at a time (per generation).
Despite this pragmatic aspect feeding the buzz ... i stuck this vid in a just begun second 'hell on earth' list immediately and don't regret that; it's mostly interviews with reasonable people, describing leviathan, than gradually emphasis the new practices (scaling up of sensible small ones basically). The 20th minute we are shown a huge compost turner at Cedar Grove Composting / Emerald Services from here on down i mailed this to PressTVGlobalNews:

i just spent all morning (yes, ALL morning!! .. from 7:30 to 10:30) attempting to retrieve the title/makers of the global waste problems documentary yall streamed yesterday ... but the schedule page has no links and i could not locate any playlists with such specifics. Your youtube documentary has 110 vids but not that one; I am pretty sure you don't make playlists like the decent internet radio stations have (due to short notice of breaking perhaps .. but the schedule page has regular slots for documentaries, like i said, blank lines without depths).

Quite maddening and so unnecessary ... you could at least post it on twitter .. or, better for me, add a line or two to the alert that i ended up following via the youtube subscription; leave comments open there too perhaps. I guess it's lack of manpower due to great draw on men to cater to their cruelty fetish and go to either army or rebels for a come out come out wher'er you are excercise.

The dutch for 'favor' (as verb) is lettered identically to the english 'gun' but pronounced with a sound foreign to the entire anglosphere i 'gun' you the best in life - meditate on that for a few seconds, it will become clear before the end of this rant - love to see you smile, hope fate will appear to favor you; the dutch for that last part is:
hoop dat het lot je gunstig gestemd zal blijken
...or ...
hoop dat het lot je gunstig schijnt te zijn
... and even:
hoop dat het lot je ten gunste te voorschijn komt
(last three words can be replaced with 'verschijnt'. this vid feigns; blind to pollutio.......)

This vid feigns happiness, celebrates multicultural mass society with cherrypicking potemkin precision and censors it's highly and harmfully stratified, highly polluting harshness which once again confirms the urban sinosphere follows western blindness blind into thinking that tweakage and torture of not just animals but all sorts of materials will not harm the cycles they do have a little reverance and awe left for (precious few, since a certain earth hating cabal is always introducing SciFi aspects via the alienation and ego growth industries of mediated celebrity fueled by ghettobred nerditry, then boxofficing surrogate dreamlives for troubled, enslaved [[shitestar serving]] sleepers).

A RECAP: if we personalize and individuate the supply and demand binary we get favor and wish .. substituting 'wish' with the form of the dutch word for it which isn't (A) just an empty gesture (wens) or (B) the enabling public sanction (vergunning = permit, more to do with obligations than materials)
.. but denotes (C) the movement of goods making the possesor into a giver (cue the taboo: our 'golden age' 'rested' on catering to imperial endeavors which their chinese 'gunsters') should never have let them get into, the 'gunning' of coloursmoke; aimer into shooter, blamer into maimer; this morn an egregious and repetitive example, Shell gets to blame the rogue blacks for murdering the paradise that used to be owned by their own .. to parasite off of - we'll never hear about high rewards for plugging oil holes cause then they'd make them to plug them, right? - we get:

gunst bewijzen = dienst verricht en/of verleend do a favor, perform a service, leave a legacy / heritage

It's unclear to what extent the baboons follow him to a tourist trap but half of the dominant males died from contaminated trash there, which made their culture more (and what's more ENDURINGLY!!!) peaceful almost overnite.

I flaw his outlook for not merely discounting but totally lacking discussion of the carrying capacity as the stressfactor .. mind you i think the limits to growth are determined (exactly) by our willingness to turn rock to soil.

locals assume authority (matriarchal) to protest (combat) greedy, invasive wood harvesters (trying to feed the furnaces far away - 1830s) dressed up in female garb

A very impressive book by Peter Sahlins

188pp, bibliographic essays, index. The first two pages (including the title page) are lightly creased. Paperback. The story of the War of the Demoiselles, a protest against the national French Forest Code of 1827, captures the cultural and political currents sweeping the countryside during France's July 1930 revolution, and inserts the story of the Demoiselles into the histories of forest management, popular culture, and political revolution in France since the 16th century.

Now we pipe our stink away; no longer upgrade & refresh .. not even as subconscious and (/yet side) effective ingredient of our glory .. which lost its 12th letter ..despite all sorts of 12fold myopiaea -- but surviving E-waste is a different matter, let alone being blessed by it.

how to make threading appeal to and invite participation from the targeted pool of potential clientele, bonders
In my experience (hilites):

[1] Millenial indymedia newswire days when each branch was free to use a colour scheme of their choosing and absolutely everything could vent and (usually, in possesion of operative kneejerk resistance to same by on top of not hindered by same from others) indulge their symptom and mirrorage on and on ... and on ... and on again off again .. .you get the idea; it's the rerouter as derooter stealing both backyard and produce, turning you into a model dependent paying of conduit and content per installment. Ranking by latest activity never went beyond LA and SF curiously enough .. when blogging came in, polite crowd would simply refer upthread via a quote and needn't be shy about it, as they weren't constrained to only 500 characters ... this luxury took on absurd extents (the ob- and perverse of intent) in the yahoo groups for instance ... i've seen economists reply via their email and leave all the foregoing dangling to the point of getting 3Mb files in/of which the fresh portion only made up 30K .. i cussed one of them out .. and since then the place petered out pretty much ... yet another thing i don't wanna be blamed for ('lamecalling' it).

[2] next place that impressed me most was Plastic.com, their thread-lengths pioneered spilling into the 3 digit numbers and got very fancy trying to link all context a mere click away.

[3] the absolute most elegant i ever did see was work by german software developers at zdf (creating a line back to what is responded to in colour, bundles of them taking up different portions of your screen at any given time).

[4] xymphora is THE most tragic case of comment mismanagement, a build up of oustanding quality exploding suddenly on a previously quiet blog got squandered and erased within a year when that blogger switched from haloscan to js-kit which became disqus (even before i quit the race to the cpu bottom of depraved and outrite demonic E-waste)

when offspring of 2 distinct peoples stray into each other's territory and get a foothold the potential for disproportionality known as invasive speciation is given and increases exponentially especially after entanglements; the process becomes official and gets branded inevitable, even inescapable the moment sanction and sponsorship with the always peerless piles of propaganda fortunes arrives on the scene; these boosts come from the same pocket that instigated the whole process from day one in the first place.

it's as if they release invasive fumes / vectors, take hostages .. send spies, whatever, after entanglement, especially if these 2 original sets of people are not immediate neighbours, we are off and running towards multicultural in between man. The geographically in between (situation), unless a body of water, occupied by 4th party and evotimelinewise (where prefork parental stock by a virtual, most likely extinct 4th party ... all of this together) causes the push forward ... you hear multicultural idealize homogeneity, where colour is no issue cause we're all (shadeless) desert mountain brown bycause they think reversing trends and convincing the muddied to stop breeding but take pride in AND GET TO SHARE the lives of purer breds impossible. I don't.

what you seem to be asking is how one feels upon realizing that a freshly transpiring event has had a kind of precursor, a dream that came before it, which you are remembering at the moment you want us to describe, the rememberment of a premonition as it were. Well, one can dive into that stream anywhere, from making wishlists to tracking reincarnations but my claycoins are on playful, nearly innumerate, not numberless probes. Amy sticks to this guide lately, an older man, trying to compensate for driving a taxi too long, doing footage clips of scenery all over; on this one (?) she claims to wanna see Scotland don't forget to keep the seercentre in mind me lass ... and that mad scotsman who planted a tree and got the pleasure of seeing his grown sun swing from it; he's a conf'former firin' people up to retree scotland ... the self-cruelty and imperial conceit of preferring 'views' and braving galeforces is beyond me and hard to engage with even if you show you can outgrow findhorn .. w rock instead of seaweed (again, seercentre).

14:18 "not doing no harm" -- you need to watch John Liu's documentary on the regreening of the loess plateau by way of bribing pastoralists to lock up their animals with feed for them, as the chinese officials did ... this began in the late nineties and you can see the spectacular success for yourself. One has to SPEED ROCK TO SLOW WATER!!! i'd rather yall do it than make me taboo, nongrata and/or infamous for saying it, as imperialefties and -levites will do.

Best way to slow water down in the higher elevations is to speed and fluff rock up so the tides come right through in stead of having to find a way around them; to injure soil cover is a great crime; half the world's professions related to making compost and making sure it's all natural would be recipe for bliss that specialists can muster teamwork and their 'nichisms' don't countervail, contravene nor frustrate healthy excercise of survival skill? Or that they have a clearer bead on priorities urging them to make sacrifices?

I have a distinctly darker take: they are luxury elitists happy to play with clean H2O cause their vaunted sense of larger picture graspers does not include the water under assault by fracking; after the BP spill it has become OK to wage chemical warfare amongst citizens. A process invented by colleague scientists i might add.

This damn well, nearly contradicts the anecdote of kids driven by Aquino's house and recognizing him (was he sitting on the Porch in women's clothes a lot????). We'll write it off to clever story teller's tension build up in order to hold the attention of his audience .. and I hasten to add he makes up for it elsewhere with 'expozayz' on the criminal ineptitude of posing as 'defense forces' which (/who) violate to the metastatizational point and stage of drive (bys) wrecking lives.

RBK does over 50m on Marxism ... there's a few good points but the ones about wordplay and reversal have depths he fails to work up out and through -----
in the middle he features an animation on colonization / suppression, occupation / genocide / dislocatin / violence event chain to disprove what he accuses Michael Moore of inappropriately connecting: the KKK and the NRA (co-terminous, as shown, hence confirmed rather than disproven) and so his belittling sneer at this alledged deceit, claiming MM is a particularly slippery one of the deceitful marxist, achieves the exact opposite, a bounce and blowback we can only hope will have lost all lethal force along the way before actually penetrating anything as intended.

MR Edmonton ..... Confronts Fascists. .. prosecute .. regardless of the severity. for even we are not above the policy in fact it's two blobby females stalked as they walk .. eh .. waddle away with a crumpled piece of paper. Our speedheadcase by the way, who's comment led me to this vid, thinks the walking backwards in front of them for long enoug to get the finger in silence is brilliant

I'd call the whole thing a lazy, cowardly convenience contest; to absurdly weigh in as if on par a string of micro insults and splinter injuries (who split hair 9miljanAndTen?) and .. oh idunno .. questioning one's right to continue existing where you happen to find yourself having the opp to think through what led up to you frictions and interanythingness# (fictitious or otherwise .. if your cycles aint at least 3 digits, you can forget 'movin' chorepick pxsures mireman .. my roarsman my rarely dear impervious and toxic mirror of a screenman).
- does the hippie jargon jar as much as that of a marxist?

should it make the case that lefties are actually the more conservative ones and show, concommitally, righties as most progressive with OVERTHEcounterproductivity as the divide they have in common, indeterminably erratic and mercurial, splitting the side they are on? Eh .. yeah daddit ... of course coins lost from one market to the next once littered both sides of high- and byways but meanwhile the fall-out of transport has become unbearably inescapable, but what crowds & suffocates us closer to halfway, the acceleration, more of the same .. or .. more mixed (marxed, a/o splinternational izzie model)?

Andrew Lehman at neoteny Dorgkgkgkrrffllf cough .. taught me this:
cross two higher up branches and the distance they are apart helps determine (specie dependent etc) the depth down them one has to go for the point they parted ways ... can you visualize that?

IOW, the marxist is willing to reach (out and back to) a previous state of development with all the risk that entails (total estrangement, alienation, feeling like a foreign body, being accused of infiltration, being left 2 options: spook or star.. due to being so far/long out of date, all cultural trappings and @homemakeries [of that point along evolvation timelines) have gone linkage missing, died out , washed away, unretraceabled .. linearized straight and 'rite' out of sight, no outline 'left', offsite, under water ..

it's one of the few redeeming aspects of america that 'hobby frutsels' of nerdy genius freaks get commodified, although this remix neoteny has worked out to a great big tox up due to the aggressive sociological footing occupiers of that .. or any location cannot shake ... the footloosened blood, even stampedewise will clear corner- touch- and stumblingstone .. but a brew of bioweapon tipped ballistication runs unloving armrace risk and cannot ever be forgiven for crossing nomanslands and 'plex-spectation' lines.

Bottomlinearity taken radically and radially perplexes a place beautiful, branchlike ... so don't knock it, just rock it, twirl one skewered on top the other, see to the softening ... sigh .. i guess i'm just too SoftenedMineralART-Fictiony for my own good, let alone anybody elses.

Righties meanwhile ... (actually wrote the next line first) ... are the don't look back party which justifies tearing down anything if some BIG creditary BODY (who's means of payment ['circullible'] is [from the emitter's 'vantage' point] uncritically, preferably [monopolize, hence] 'by necessity', accepted, 'current') underwrites, endorses and waves* it on .. how's that for econ101? Do you pass?.

Still here? OK, glad to have you .. along to the finer points: 'waves' is waivers deploying the clout to make good on accusations of counterfeitage NATO, the strong arm of Thanatoid PHARMaffiosi .. this has to do with a fateful reversal of the death to life magic one can achieve via rockmisteries, blowing fresh dust into rainstorms and make sure it is held wheree'r it falls distributedly, slowing waters, speeding rocks, presto ... SOIL!!!!

in anticipation of succumbing to my next impulse to write you i'll try to damn near pre-empt and at least cut it short:
right left :::: butch femme :::: soldier artist :::: day night one can prolly criss cross correspondences into a tight weave cause duuuh words are inherently butcher's offal and ambiguous .. no two ways about it short of the making do prevention by sticking to the real thing the pre verbal and pre anything rock tracery, the weathering and gentler tides after the aeons of them doing the bump in nite musical chair thing .. such as the asteroid belt, the fabled lost planet is doing as we speak, not putting it back together increases our changes of periodic damage ... but putting it back together in the wrong place will surely doom us.

you need to remove this comment willem, it'll hurt your reputation; don't work too hard. A gvt's competence in teaching the art of choice will always have their fiat money valued slightly higher than free market gold and it'll be acceptable to and act as 'lube' for waaaay more ethical enterprises than ripping through earth, robbing men of daylight, clean water, etcetera. Winona LaDuke, "Voices from White Earth: Gaa-waabaabiganikaag." October 1993

> LaDuke, a member of the Mississippi Band of the Anishinaabe from the White Earth Reservation, is a strong and clear voice for the return to traditional land-holding patterns of her people. She explains how, in order to sustain the life of the Anishinaabe, her people have need of different kinds of land; the lakes for harvesting wild rice, the forests for hunting, and the meadows for gathering herbs. The earlier artificial allocationof square plots of the White Earth Reservation to individual tribal members and the inevitable loss of the Anishinaabes' land through sale to outsiders has resulted in a mosaic of land use that separates the community from its traditions. Her own work is devoted to restoring the integrity of the White Earth Reservation by repurchasing sold land and holding it in a community land trust arrangement so that it may be productively used without fear of loss. The story she tells is a moving one and provides a practical approach to healing a wounded people and wounded land.

.... anything OF it though? .. yes, but (specialized and divorced from domestic routine types 'novelty' instrumentation and/or virtuosely played music as we know it) it has very little OF a heavenly, functional music that eases chores into delights playfully ... and much of that play can be left to the elements once you set it 'uprite' .. a stack of huge boulders one year, a smooth gradient of finest dust and a few nearby mudpools the next ..

Music engineers like to imitate the sound effects of vital forces, often related to the exuberance and bursty repro stages but often as simple as mastication of juice and/or fibrous matter.

Drawing the latter's attention w lush 'lootables' (or even breeding a 'crop' (generation) of too hi a testolevel (to bear) bearers can destroy it from within; something that happens almost inadvertently ... but need not, if we all honour and study Andrew Lehman (neoteny.org) a little more).

'Trickle down' theory my be modeled on this most certainly interplanetary truth but of course, the abstraction (incorrect politicization) of it is an impossibilization of this ('cross'Universal) kind of 'growth up' (and upgrowth) truth.

So far i am not supported on my hunch by much but it is clear the work of Julius Hensel helped me to interpret some very ancient pre-church religio/political monuments of a europe run by shamen not yet captured by Santa Claus.

If i interpret the symbology of the plaque/statue showing Cernunnos flanked by 2 roman gods, correctly, he was doing his 'modern' money thing, taking coins to the soilbank ... letting them run on the ground ... a message / massage (aging of mass) that did not survive tranlation into and as an act Jesus has been supposed to act out in the temple .. throwing the moneychangers inventory on the ground ... not exactly a garden there .. or a place where one collects turds .. or impatient, forces the issue and makes a grab for them. Have you petted a turd today.

I think the genius daily routine performance of groups, troups, craftsmen and perhaps guildlike *(p)*artisans, who's patron was Cernunnos might have had much more than less to do with what the sculpture shows bag the dust/coins / libation, contribution duty and pleasure package.

carry stuff into and out of urbanity ... that must have been the basis of his partnership and stage sharing with roman gods (patrons of urbanization if anything). He balanced the city and countryside. This can only work with/as compost along lines Julius Hensel recommended as recently as 120some years ago, he wanted households to have containers for waste and dust to mix with it in order to get an early start on the process .. which he obviously thought more important than the inconvenience of all that extra weight ... why not do would shavings instead till the final compost destination is reached. Guess he thought dust was really THAT important ... perhaps if only to integrate it with people's psyche .. and not leave it to some specialists.

you can't possibly suspect Google of being evil .. even if they seem to try pawn off what they have no use for .. to wit, the 'biodegradabilitation of IT industries.
Wouldn't it be nice and necessary to find a bioUPgradation of your ethics apps ready to be installed .. ASAP (as George Gilder, that logistic genius w HUGE negligence of just this aspect of all his 80s prescient calculations - the prophit of splinternet compartmentalization and UN freakshow liked to say) .... end of version 1

I aint flabberbaffled in the least ... and if yall make the following message your own .. i don't see how the meaning of this picture will fail to earn/carry considerable import (crushcash for my insiders, the very fresh stuff much like what this kid has used as raw material) ASAP

i wrote / encouraged google to become the champion of compostable (organic) computing - and catalyst for prevolitionary visionary and provisionary CHANGE .. boulversage, umkrempelung - just yesterday as well by the way, at a vid called 'Otto Weininger on Zionism and Communism'
0a-iQPy2pfI

I mean change you can't possibly make a sinister subtext accusation stick to .. as you can to 'don't be evil' .... is it:
don't try get around us, don't compete, we have the jump on you, give in .. leave that for us to compile, compare compound, datamine and then draw 'insididistilled' strategies from ..???
... or inversely ...why would anyone be preachy unless they - perhaps not the initial idealists but certainly by the time the unterwanderung and intrigue has nestled in - try to distract from practice (is 'the' church, wholesaler in souls a clear and bad enough example for you)??????

Why try pawn off good counsel along the lines of:
Well, why not refuse any and all dangerous idiots 'their' leeway in the first place whatsoever??

Why try give away what one .. anyone, has excellent use for, thus good reason and should have the good sense to take to heart (and the heart of the neighbourhood)????

We need leaders, and if it's a rogue intelligence and defence department source which funded and sprung what they thought was a great little money trap but gets overwhelmed by a popular appeal penetration that far surpasses that of conventional statehood, so much the better .. even!!

We need to convert all money spent on bloodying fields into battle ones, CHANGE them to growing ones, grow the growth industries, reverse erosion and groundcover losses worldwide!!!

... don't pay no mind to the mad dutch nature protection orgs which in the name of diversity are impoverishing patches of land to mimic freshly wild weather and ice age born sandy places [a socalled 'verschralingsbeleid']. Dey prolly get money from Sauds .. i mean petrodollars for it and hope to draw more of them into landscaping that way [alle begin is moeilijk; Al-Qaida, global leader in swale digging .. i can see it now .. and who, in his right mind wouldn't want to, ... i get left brain ache when overworked .. and who doesn't when in a maze mental*(C)*ity] ..

No-one allowed to make money off of this [ps 2019: ????????? my generator designs?] by the way ... but like jesus and all sage advice, the evil ones take pleasure in parading disfigured and 'contormentated' fragments of it about to puzzle people, simply cause they're evil like that. I hasten to say though, that all in all i am (just a liddul) more like Google's unp[l]ayed mastermind than their opponent, let alone mortal enemy. Right? Tell me what you thank.

Broadbrush remark regards 'electrickery' = roots replaced by wires .... metastatized and shifted into overdrive and dominant prominent prob by the digital revolution. Do we need good advice from Google/NSA .. the biggest company on that 'brandnew' field?? Mebbe .... but will it, CAN it accept a piece in return (my 'peace' in 'preturn)??? Please make haste with the 'biodegradabilitation' of IT industries

Stop pawning socializatiously pious adages in the face of which and about the use of which you seem helpless ... OFF ON US!!!
Stop giving us the unbearable E-waste burden!!!
Stop giving US the responsibility to recycle responsibly while making this task, instead of a sovereign autonomizing undelegatable pleasure, enormously complicated and much much too difficult ... except for the highly specialized, beyond our budget token elite alibi crew that cannot possibly present a bill to youew .. certainly not a full cycle one after tracing and retrieving all stray and orphaned bit and byte conduits that streamed your classifying datastreams (minus classified ones, controversial and bought off [[as in kept out of sight / off site]] ones).

Is this not what drives your 'don't be evil' 'give away'?????

Why should WE give up the pleasures of 'littering', begun with the toxing up of soaps and paints, agdope and all the other opiumwar blowback from that diabolic island across the channel???? .. how CAN we if and as long as we aren't led and bred (nor have our ed) up to the full awareness and realization that buying toxed up gadgets leverages the disposal probs onto us, ALL OF THEM?????

Surely not in exchange for the 'pleasure' of blaming the 'splijtzwam' property lines, which run like faults under nuclear disempowerstations but are not paraded through the streets in effigy for community catharsis (bond[AGE/]ing) .. right????

Why should we give up the pleasures of kicking the fall leaves around and such?? Simply cause we can .. like we like to replace roots and hands-on activities with 'reach' (at our mere fingertips ... RSI anyone?) ... have stuff to point to and out, hover over and more often than not .. indulge the illusion and/or bask in the blissfull naivite and ignorance concerning just exactly how much faraway troubles have to do with E- and other wastefulness .. consider ourselves lucky by comparison instead of guilty.

Wouldn't it be nice and necessary to find a 'bioUPgradation' of your ethics apps ready to be installed .. ASAP, as George Gilder, that prosaicizer of 80 logistic innovation used to say???? He fueled the combomb and was genius minus HUGE negligence of said IT aspect in all his 80s prescient calculations. Nevertheless the prophITs of dotcomgloomdoomboomboom percuss our poor heads and wallets since the nineties.

... w another layer of hidden subtext by the way: unity? big fist used for big peace making?? federation?? UN??

Hmm, we got splinternet compartmentalization (from pre[p]activist to reactivist, skipping the real in the street stuff 'altogether' - but separate). I strain my capacities to formulate solutions to the limit but if i/they fail it's back to the ol' mold of:
washing corrupted walls and streets with a liberal admixture of innocent blood and that of wage slaves who chose the security and alienation that is the fate of those who protect the corrupt ...

... and let's not forget the circus/freakshow aspect of UN efforts that are not as perfectly distributable nor allowed to truly tally ...

Speaking of which, Google runs on Linux, thus Google has a split soul .. it needs to choose sides and parade the Source Opening thought as most cherishable Prize and source of Pride it can put it's clout/d behind.

I really do want to go dance on BD's grave .. for having the temerity to declare us puny humans immortal, he first. He's not claiming to be a reincarnation of anything though, on account of his wish to be original but in fact he leans, loans and steals everywhich way and his pretense self exposures get mighty pathetic. He and/or those around him plotted a scheme 50 years ago, pretending he was 30 years older than he is. Thoughts?

there's a picture of a black kid holding up a handy made from clay/dough, upped by a russian. You find it a few page downs from here. It has 8 comments in Russian and erased mine (but not my share, perhaps you cannot block people from doing so).

My comment is long and deep and i do want stuff to stay up if i decide to sacrifice at the devil shrine (undercover of course) but all it shows of itself is a 'numurl' instead of the first lines ... that's why i am affixin this pointer to it:

Bill Still praises the 'infinite divisibility' of quarks (the new bitcoin).
is he trying to be the contrarian trendbucker scheming to upset and offset against the milling 'unity now' crowds? Watch him trying to sell his new, admitted wet finger work hobbyhorse to the latter as 'perfect complement' or something.

BIG SLAB HERE CONCERNING STREAMING RADIO left out ... i mention it cause it's extremely rare i leave stuff out .. which causes my best bits to be well hidden under and camouflaged by a pile of awkward and embarrasing stuff i nevertheless can't manage to scrap and 'part with'. Luckily the quality causes i champion make up for bad technique. Anyway, .. not all of said passage got stricken ... see below

.. there's no law against building a compost heap, and i'm sure your kind requests have been matched by polite petitionings in return from bureaucrats who fail to bring a feel for thinning rock and forest to their profession rather than lose it cause, oh hell on earth, it aint a prerequisite in the first place, they are 'social' and peoplefocused and sure .. they target you with neglect and hoping for an epidemic no doubt, .. notoriously callous to and in the face of the hominid surfeit that marks 'metropolisy' worldwide ...

3rd: i was lucky enough to travel some stretches of Indian coast on a dirtbike and remote salt water fisherfolk simply feed the*(ir)* fish and the surf/tide does the flushing, the approach to a larger village can be quite a 'tag a turd to its tail' puzzle of instruction / obstacle course (can you spy the 'headman's product?)
forgot adding the planned passage about having too many scavengers in the asian metropoli vs too few and/or low status ones in the western cities where cleaning up is approaching a turning point of undoable and unaffordable .... an echo of that becomes an incrimation regarding the common joys end up with the chosen few, far and fucked between thieves.

kinda funny i should test the fix [via 'options'] of my beloved Real icons (crashing Navigator cause of the handful of even essential formats linked to VLC .. a program i have preferred to not update ... and one gets a warning about sub-optimality here and there)

toponlineradiostations.co.uk/ = gone internetradiotopsites.com/ ... tastefully tinted ... informative aggregator, very generous w info .. and a banner for each source as well ... EXCELLENT ORS (online radio streams i learn ... finally) beat by that one trick pony thingymix????? How unlikely .. perhaps it's comparing their bluegrass streams .. the list is a mix though ... plenny of hardrock too .. such as puresteele and boost radio ('deploymentproblems.blogspot) ..

OK, i was aware of the war between Real Player and Windows Media in the late nineties (and they don't cease if you still work them old codes)

... but ... is it like another Stockholm Syndrome to be wasting time ON and not understanding WHY links revert to the type uninformative url, retaining only the very last bit of it [LOSING THE ROOT] after a 'while' (that while seems to resist getting into focus and vary wildly)

All Slush No Concrete
no no nooohhhwww!!!! keep the mud roads and narrow them to winding paths as much as possible!!!! And stop being schizophrenic, typing mirroreversions of truth: on concrete one falls hard, in mud soft ... and please consider me an incarnation of krishna speaking from below sealevel where fashioning clay into dykes and declaring paving (the transport industry) a sacred cow has facilitated the visitation by all of hell's plagues and recruiting us into into incrimination of the worst sort; our ag U has the worst karma in the way of messing up rural life. Check my latest list addition and feed if you have the time .. and i say that with trepidation. for every me 1 miljan of uncommendables do stand ready to snow my message under. I am sure that's in the Vedas and prolly just as snowed under as the tidbits of truth in the Bible.

slept in mom's bed for the first time .. in half a century .. and with the curtains drawn i had no ('lightly') compelling incentive to get out .. even though i went through 3 waking stages at 6 7 and 8 ... it was past 9 the 4th time and till now (nearly noon) i have no clear recollection of the nice rant flowing thru my brain while it was dark still but i'll see how much comes back as i hit a few hi-lites that stuck ...

the baby steps of autonomy reclamation can expose disempowerment as long/soon and not before reasons are given; long live the sign painters.

Payment of taxes for sewage is compulsory and just cause you help folks to make that money AND boycott that great equalizing 'service' by selling their turds to you so you can hot compost heat the community center does not exempt you.

'wie niet horen wil moet maar voelen'
een gevoelige heeft behoefte aan de eersten ervan in eigen regie te houden en geeft die niet op naam (uit hoofde) van ergens bij te moeten horen zonder slag of stoot uit handen.

tweak this wink and secret supremacy harbouring regent and slave driver humour which hammers on and out discipline and regimentation as the bottom line rule and role beyond which no options are available pound peermost pulllevers & pulvarise to most assimilable size protest and progress are impotent in the Stockholm Syndrome riddled society where 'arbeidsethos' and Bible keep all dumber than stupid as you cannot opt out of delegate and commoditize any parts and pounds of your ancestral flesh away some- and indeed anyplace it fetches a remarkable price.

how on earth does and can a natural desire and longing for belonging get twisted into conformity coercion? family secrets, jewels and turds cannot be left on the street anymore since AND DUE TO the demise of seed sensitivity.

from the 48th minute to the 53rd is especially delightful anecdote spiked banter .... i have to say though ... bias much? dzjeez, .. take some to know the others eh? Who else would tirelessly and zealously recount the peccadillos of their targets as an end of show default setting .. without adding at least a levelling anecdote about scientists gone awhoring and selling faithers the means to become loads and loads worse many times over and over ?!?!?!?!?!? Huh, .. who else did you say? I'd rather have 35 dozens of priests versus a continent 'serving' MonSatan subsidiary.

should i make it my life's mission to go show the John Liu documentary 'green gold' to Tibetan pastoralists? I see a few worrying bald spots and entirely too many tracks. .. or speed micro spin (fresh dust policies, .. not likely practicable in visible region) to reverse marginalization of, as is their nature, always expanding [buffering for, bracing against, yet at the same time increasing likelihood of major epidemic decimations] macro rotations. Would it be the bridge Tibet and China can befriend one another upon? Sell my house and buy a moving theater?

Abby's guest Keith Harmon Snow alledges (in the 17th minute) that the Jane Goodall Institute is involved in the US driven effort to commit one of the (/its?) many genocides ongoing around the world ... never mentioning any present or past in the Sovietosphere of course mind you, they are too busy bringing 'balance' to US media you see. Now, i can see how certain chimpatheticos would love to see certain people stampeded out of certain areas (and couldn't do a thing about it if they wanted to); either way, what better means than an atrocity or two by a militia or two to make an area 'safe' for exploration .. which justifies security investment windfalls down the line .. or two as well, at the very least.
